Oakland. The reception and initiation, August 21, arranged by the Alameda County N.S.G.W. Parlor in honor of Grand President Henry S. Lyon was an outstanding event. In attendance were some 200 members of the Order. Supervising Deputy Louis J. Zimmerman, who headed the committee that arranged the splendid affair, was chairman of the evening. At the festive board, Grand President Lyon, who was introduced by State Attorney General Earl Warren of Fruitvale No. 252, delivered a stirring patriotic address.

"I have said," remarked the Grand President, "that we are a historical, a patriotic, and a fraternal organization, but in addition thereto we are a service organization, seeking and striving to serve our members, our communities, and our State and Nation. In all our work we are guided by unselfishness, and with a determination to properly serve our people."

"We have continued to exist and prosper through distress, as well as prosperous times, and today, with trouble abroad, with various kinds of organizations seeking to destroy and to uproot our safe and sane philosophy of government, we stand, one and all, ready to answer the call of our country." Other speakers were William J. McCracken of Oakland No. 50, Mayor of Oakland, and Past Grand Joseph R. Knowland.

Following the dinner, twenty-four candidates were initiated, eleven for Berkeley No. 210, seven for Claremont No. 240, and three each for Piedmont No. 120 and Fruitvale No. 252. The ritual was exemplified by the following: Bernard Dignan, Piedmont No. 120, president; Mel Carbone, Berkeley No. 210, junior past president; Raymond B. Butler, Piedmont No. 120, senior past president; C. B. Abernethy, Fruitvale No. 252, first vice-president; Don C. Gleason, Berkeley No. 210, second vice-president; Herman W. Brause, Piedmont No. 120, third vice-president; Cyril A. Davis, Piedmont No. 120, marshal; George Briscoe, Berkeley No. 210, inside sentinel; Melvin Dias, Claremont No. 240, outside sentinel; Miller C. Markey, Fruitvale No. 252, organist.

families and friends are urged to be there on this joyous occasion," says President Maurice Kempster of Sacramento No. 3.

Placerville—Charles E. Marsh, recorder of El Dorado County thirty-four years, died August 4, survived by his wife and four children. He was born in this city June 28, 1866, and was affiliated with Placerville No. 9.

Sutter Creek—Amador No. 17 and Amapola No. 80 N.D. had their annual potluck supper and dance at Mokelumne Beach. A lovely evening was enjoyed by the many in attendance.

Sacramento—Sunset No. 26 honored United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson with a fifty-year-membership pin August 18. Unable to be present, because of his duties in Washington, the pin was turned over to Superior Judge Malcolm C. Glenn and Peace Justice Percy G. West to forward to him. Grand President Henry S. Lyon was the main speaker of the occasion, and in reviewing the career of Senator Johnson he said: "In such trying times as these we are fortunate indeed to have such a brilliant and competent man in the United States Senate. His splendid services in behalf of the people are appreciated by the members of this Order, and the Native Sons always will hold him in the highest esteem."

Saint Helena—At an outdoor meeting in Lyman Grove August 19, officers of Saint Helena No. 53 were installed by District Deputy Conrad Well, William Bulotti becoming president. A steak dinner preceded the ceremonies.

Grass Valley—Quartz No. 58 was host August 19 to Fred H. Greely Past Presidents Assembly No. 6. President Floyd Williams of the Parlor welcomed the visitors, and among the speakers of the occasion were Grand Trustees Eben K. Smart and R. G. Power, and Supervising Deputy Robert W. Kohler. The Parlor and the Assembly will have floats in the Sacramento Admission Day parade.

Nuestra de La Reina de Los Angeles de Porciuncula is to be celebrated September 4.

A birthday committee, including Miss Grace S. Stoermer, N.D.G.W. Past Grand President and president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Christine Sterling, Mrs. Marion Parks Partridge, Mrs. Clarence Noerenberg, Eldred L. Meyer, Hervey L. Kitchin, Herman C. Lichtenberger, John O.B. Bodkin, Sheriff Eugene W. Biscalluz and Dr. John Schwamm, is in charge of arrangements.

"Our plan," says Chairman Sterling, "is to have a group start from Mission San Gabriel, just as Felipe de Neve and his party did in 1781, and travel the nine miles to the Los Angeles Plaza and be met there by the padre of the Plaza Church. The party will receive the blessing of Father de Prada on leaving the mission."

HALF-CENTURY "BOYS" HONORED.

Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. honored Past Grand President Herman C. Lichtenberger, Past Presidents Isidore B. Dockweiler, Edwin A. Meserve and Henry M. Carter, August 30, the occasion being the golden anniversary of their affiliation with the Parlor.

They were re-initiated by the following especially appointed oldtimers, the ritual and regalia of 1890 being used: George Beebe, president; Robert A. Todd, first vice-president; Leo V. Youngworth, second vice-president; Fletcher Ford, third vice-president; Louis Duni, marshal; William C. Taylor, secretary. Following the initiatory ceremonies, the half-century "boys" were presented fifty-year-membership pins. Secretary Ray Howard of the Parlor's Past Presidents Association had charge of arrangements for the event.

September 20, Ramona will have initiation, followed by refreshments. September 24, members will pay a visit to Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 at Santa Monica.

"AMERICA PREFERRED."

Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. will have its first luncheon-meeting of the new term September 10, at 12 noon, with President Isabel Lopez Fages presiding. It will be an "early fifties" luncheon, with costumes, placecards and decorations carrying out the motif. The topic of the speaker of the occasion, Mrs. Oscar Elvrum, district president Federation of Women's Clubs, will be "America Preferred." Admission Day, the ninetieth birthday anniversary of the State of California, will be featured.

Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, a member of Californiana, was given an honorary degree in business administration at the commencement exercises of Woodbury Business College August 8.

GET-ACQUAINTED GATHERING.

Long Beach—Long Beach Parlor No. 278 N.S.G.W. had a get-acquainted meeting, August 7, which was largely attended by families of the members, Native Daughters and friends. Police Sergeant Jack Pinnell and Fred Taylor arranged a fine program, and refreshments were served. The Parlor has purchased buttons, containing members' names, businesses, professions or occupations, to be worn at meetings.

August 21, Long Beach initiated several candidates. Entertainment and refreshments followed the ceremonies.

COLORFUL INSTALLATION.

Canoga Park—Accented by myriad flowers, the public installation of officers of Topanga Parlor No. 269 N.D.G.W. was one of the season's most colorful events in San Fernando Valley fraternal circles. Deputy Ruth Ruiz, assisted by Flora Holy, Juanita Porter and other members of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 attired in white and wearing red, white and blue corsages, conducted the installation ceremonies.

Marguerite Tann was installed as president. She is a descendant of the pioneer Johnson family, first White people to settle in the valley. Grace Kizer, chairman of the evening, presented to her a gavel of orange wood, hand carved by Harvey Kizer, and among the many other remembrances she received was a beautiful bouquet from Hollywood Parlor N.S. Vocal soloists were Priscilla Johnson, Alfonse Fages and Lester Schellbach, and Katherine Johnson and Ruth Parkinson were the accompanists. Others in attendance were Grand President Hazel B. Hansen and Supervising Deputy Evalyn Wilson of the Native Daughters, and Grand Organist Roger M. Johnson and District Deputy O. Benton Worley of the Native Sons.—G.K.

Topanga Parlor honored Past Presidents Dorothy Pogue and Clara Tucker at a gay dinner party August 21. President Margaret Tann,

TO THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS of Subordinate Parlors, Native Daughters of the Golden West—Dear Sisters:

"With ninety candles on her birthday cake, California honors her birth as a State of the Union on September 9th.

"The adventurous road California has traveled since 1850 provides a story of epic proportions. Gold, it is said, made California, and the aura of those pioneer days still hovers over its name. Gold from the earth and rivers is still a source of richness to be reckoned with, but in the black gold of her oil resources and in the green gold of her agricultural lands, the State has broadened the domain of her empire far beyond the dreams of the early mission padres and the first settlers.

Hazel B. Hansen

"Keeping the Flame of California history and romance burning brightly is an important phase of the program sponsored by the Native Daughters of the Golden West. The glamour of the State's history, the beauty of its scenery—these have much to do with our love. The Pioneers who came here to find adventure and gold were preceded by those who helped make the Pacific Coast a part of the United States of America.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

CALIFORNIA FIFTY YEARS AGO

(COMPILED EXPRESSLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR MAGAZINE.)

THE FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF California's admission into the Union was observed at an Admission Day celebration in San Francisco under the auspices of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. The festivities began Saturday, September 6, 1890, with a torchlight procession. Sunday, there were religious services in the various churches, and concerts in Golden Gate Park. Monday, a regatta on San Francisco Bay regaled the lovers of maritime sport, and during the afternoon the Subordinate Parlor entertained at their various headquarters with proverbial bounteous hospitality. In the evening, at Mechanics Pavilion, the Native Daughters sponsored a grand promenade concert, interpolated with beautiful and inspiring tableaux.

The Admission Day parade the morning of Tuesday, September 9, was declared the most magnificent ever witnessed in California. Grand Marshal Charles L. Tilden was in charge, and some 25,000 were in line. A program at the Grand Opera House in the afternoon included addresses by William H. Miller, Grand President N.S.G.W.; E. B. Pond, Mayor of San Francisco; Robert W. Waterman, Governor of California; Henry E. Highton, representing The Society of California Pioneers; Mrs. C. S. Baker, representing the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West; James I. Boland, Grand Orator N.S.G.W. In the evening a grand ball was held in Mechanics Pavilion, and there was an elaborate pyrotechnic display, embracing emblematic and historical features. The festivities concluded with an excursion on San Francisco Bay Wednesday.

Reporting to the Fourteenth (Santa Rosa 1891) N.S.G.W. Grand Parlor, Grand President William H. Miller said of the San Francisco Admission Day celebration: "The Parlor of that city deserve great credit for the manner in which the great labor attendant upon the event was performed. The celebration was the grandest of all celebrations ever held in our State, and its success has been a great benefit to our Order. The Society of California Pioneers worked with our Order, hand in hand as father and son, being untiring in their efforts to make successful one more event in the history of their State where they are laid to rest beneath its sod. . . .

"The Parlor from the interior made magnificent displays of the products of the various sections of the State, and entertained visitors at their headquarters in that open-handed, pure-hearted manner which was characteristic of the California Pioneers. . . . The Native Daughters of the Golden West were alive to the spirit of the occasion and ably assisted in making the event one long to be remembered, and much of the pleasure of the visitors to San Francisco was due to the untiring efforts of the Native Daughters. The energy, ability and zeal exhibited by them showed that the spirit of the Pioneer Mothers had been handed down to the Native Daughters."

The San Francisco Admission Day celebration cost the Native Sons of that city $15,000; the largest single item was $2,070 for fireworks. The Tulare Native Sons went to the celebration in emigrant wagons. Freddie Bunnell of Courtland, Sacramento County, was there; but 13 years of age, he weighed 296 pounds. Early in the morning of September 10 one of the black bears that appeared in the Admission Day parade got out of its cage and sauntered down Powell street. When a Powell-street cable car came along and the passengers spied Mr. Bruin, they tried to climb to the top of the car. The animal was soon lassoed and taken back to its cage.

HISTORIC SITE MARKED.

Commemorating the landing in San Francisco July 31, 1846, of a group of 250 Mormons led by Samuel Brannan, publisher of San Francisco's first newspaper, the California Star, a plaque set in the sidewalk at the corner of Battery and Broadway streets was dedicated August 4.

The party came from New York around Cape Horn in the sailing vessel Brooklyn. Among them was a five-weeks-old girl, now Mrs. Elizabeth Bird Howell. She was in attendance at the dedication, coming this time via airplane from Preston, Idaho, with her 78-year-old son. The plaque was presented San Francisco by natives of Utah now residing there.

SANTA BARBARA

(JAMES FRENCH DORRANCE.)

Santa Barbara—Officers and members of Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W. and Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W. look back with considerable satisfaction at their community bridge-building accomplishments in connection with the seventeenth annual Old Spanish Days Fiesta. For four crowded August days, in which the Channel City entertained more than 100,000 visitors, they filled important roles.

Outstanding, was the banquet tendered by the Sons to the Los Angeles County sheriff's posse the evening of August 14. This was the eighth consecutive year the Parlor acted as host for the fiesta committee in entertaining Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz's doughty riders, who came this year resplendent in scarlet uniforms.

The banquet was notable, in that it brought together Grand President Henry S. Lyon of the Native Sons and Grand President Hazel B. Hansen of the Native Daughters. Lyon warned that steadfast guard should be maintained against fifth columnists, and Mrs. Hansen stressed the value of history preservation. A. C. Dinsmore, again chairman of the banquet committee, was pleased with an attendance of more than four hundred. H. T. Campbell proved a clever toastmaster, introducing the honored sheriff, Mayor Maher, El Presidente Sam Stanwood of the fiesta group, Leo Carillo, Father Augustine of Santa Barbara Mission and other speakers. Other grand officers presented included Grand Treasurer John A. Corotto and Past Grand President Eldred L. Meyer. Sheriff Loustalot of Kern County received special thanks for bringing his Boy Scout band from Bakersfield to play for the dinner party. Dancing followed the dinner.

Members of Reina del Mar Parlor served as co-ordinating committee for the Santa Barbara County Federation of Women's Clubs for the fiesta reception which followed the most notable historical parade in the history of the event with Harry C. Sweetser as grand marshal. This year Harry followed the Spanish custom, and grandmarshalled from the tail of the parade in stead of prancing out in front. Miss Lucy Pensa, selected by the Native Daughters, made an impressive and beautiful Saint Barbara. The two organizations were also responsible for the final event of the fiesta, the midnight courtesan reception to singers and dancers who provided free entertainment throughout the fiesta.

Santa Barbara and Reina del Mar Parlor have arranged an Admission Day, September 9 program which will honor American pioneers. The Daughters also plan a pilgrimage to Lompoc, where a new parlor is in course of formation.

Patriotism is to be the theme of the Mariposa County Fair to be held at Mariposa Town September 20-22.

The Modoc County Fair is to be held September 6-8 at Cedarville.

DIFFICULTIES BESET EFFORT TO SELECT SITE FOR MILITARY POST

A LETTER TO THE UNITED STATES Bureau of Topographical Engineers from the headquarters of the Pacific Division at Sonoma, written in 1849 by Lieutenant George H. Derby, stationed at Benicia, has come to light, according to the Sonoma Index-Tribune. The old document was among the effects of the late Dr. Hammond, grandfather of Mrs. Donald Armstrong of Sonoma, who values it highly.

The report deals with the selection of a site for a military post on Bear Creek "in the vicinity of Johnson's rancho." Lieutenant Derby made maps and gave data on the Sacramento Valley between the mouth of the American River and Butte Creek, and spurs of the Coast Range and Sierra Nevada. What difficulties he met with, the enormous cost of everything in California at that time, and the disaster that beset his expedition are told in detail. In all, about $6,000 was spent when the lieutenant received word that $3,000 was to be allowed by the department.

Smith and Bensley of Sacramento had extended him credit for necessary items, instruments for the survey and to outfit his party. He had to pay $1,800 for nine mules and one horse, and $200 for a wagon. Hiring men was difficult, but he finally employed some for $200 to $300 per month and others for $20 per day. All horses and wagons were scarce, as Major Rucker had been outfitting an expedition to rescue suffering emigrants stranded that winter in the snow-covered Sierra passes.

Lieutenant Derby finally started work, but a trusted employe stole $435 from under his pillow, together with a five-barreled pistol and a gold watch. The fellow then escaped on a horse he stole. Some of Derby's animals took sick and died, fever and ague seized the men, and Lieutenant Derby lost valuable teams and equipment in a Sacramento flood. He finally reached Camp "Far West" and from there went to Monterey. A boat had to be sent to rescue his belongings.

Lieutenant Derby defended the cost of his expedition, referring to the large amounts allowed Major Rucker and Captain Warner for their expeditions, $65,000 and $75,000. Mrs. Armstrong, possessor of this historic document, is a daughter of George Page, pioneer of Marin and Sonoma Counties.

PLENTY OF ACCOMMODATIONS.

Reports that there will not be sufficient accommodations in Sacramento during the Admission Day celebration are entirely false, according to the housing committee. While a few hotels are sold out, quantities of rooms in other hotels and private residences are available.

Housing information may be obtained by communicating with Mrs. Lillian Poindexter, room 400, Native Sons Building, Eleventh and J streets, Sacramento.

EARLYDAY CHARGE OF HORSE STEALING ANSWERED

The document here recorded came to The Grizzly Bear from Past Grand President Edward J. Lynch of San Francisco, chairman of the California History Board of the N.S.G.W. Grand Parlor, with the information:

"Some very valuable historical documents from the early Spanish and Mexican periods have been found in county records at San Jose, Santa Clara County, and Salinas, Monterey County. Ernest Plinos has presented me translations of several, among them the answer of General Fremont, dated February 21, 1846, to charges filed against him for horse stealing. As this answer is very interesting, it may be published in the magazine."

John C. Fremont Camp near the road to Santa Cruz, Feb. 21st 1846.

Senor Don Dolores Pacheco
Judge of San Jose Guadalupe
Sir:

I received your letter dated yesterday, informing me that a complaint has been signed in your Court against me because I refused to turn over a certain number of horses belonging to my Company and are claimed as stolen from various citizens about two months ago. And furthermore the claimants insulted me while they were here at my Camp.

I can prove to you and a oath of 30 men that the animals these people claim, and insisted on taking them away, have been brought with my Company from the United States. These slanderers complained that I authorized my men to steal these horses, and insisted that they would take these horses away from my camp under such false pretense. They surely were fortunate enough to escape without getting a good lashing. A number of my men brought some horses from the Tulare Indians without my approval and I am more than willing to return these horses to their former owners if they could be claimed legally. Finally, to avoid further quarrel, it seems logical to inform you, sir, that with exception of the mentioned horses, all others were bought and paid for. Therefore, further communication on the subject of this matter will receive no attention. You, sir, must understand that my obligations do not permit me to appear before the magistrates in every town I pass, to answer complaints signed by any vagabond who comes and visits my camp. In your communication you are informing me, sir, that if I do not turn over these animals to the claimants, you will take this matter up with the Governor, and I say that you may send him a copy of this letter.

I am, sir, your very respectful and obedient servant.
Signed J. C. Fremont
Captain, United States Army.

WHICH ARE YOU?

Are you an active member,
The kind that would be missed,
Or are you just contented
That your name is on the list?
Do you attend the meetings
And mingle with the flock,
Or do you stay at home,
Criticize and knock?
Do you take an active part
To help the work along,
Or are you satisfied to
Be the kind that just belong?

"DEMOCRACIES, CONTROLLED BY PRINCIPLE, should not tolerate any arrogant dictation by minorities in return for their permitted freedom of action; and majorities, to ensure permanence, must also decide aright. Freedom cannot long be abused. "Our Vocal March Toward War" headed an excellent commentary by W. Kee Maxwell in the Los Angeles Times. He queried: "What foreign power has threatened the United States within the past three years? . . . What foreign power has brought economic hostilities to bear against us? . . . Why, then, are certain official voices daily dinning into our ears the practical certainty of war against us?"

"The answer is," continued Maxwell, "that loose talk and illegal acts . . . have inspired a feeling of hostility against the United States which quite reasonably and logically could ultimately provoke attack. If certain European or Oriental powers have come to regard us as an 'enemy,' who can deny their justification?"

"It is an anomalous situation when the overwhelming majority of our people have consistently opposed our involvement in war, when the constitutional authority intrusted with the sole right to declare war has been eloquently silent, that we now find ourselves arming to the tune of billions of dollars and millions of men against foreign 'threats'."

"The road we have followed toward war dates from a . . . denunciation of international 'out-laws' in October 1937, to the culmination of this attitude in an illegal and secret attempt . . . to transfer American warships to the British flag. It has been a progression marked not by overt or unfriendly acts on the part of any power, but by intemperate talk. . . . And the alarming corollary is that during these three years of face-making and fist-shaking we have been . . . unprepared to the extent of $20,000,000,000, 10,000,000 men and 50,000 airplanes to offer anything but talk to halt aggressors and defend democratic government! . . ."

"We have lost any possible opportunity to intercede for peace or to wield any influence in peace settlements; our partiality as umpire is too obvious. . . . We have completely neglected our own tremendous domestic problems and been worked into a war hysteria which is disuniting instead of uniting our people."

"Our 'foreign policy' for the past three years has been the policy of autocrats the world over since the days of Machiavelli—the conjuring up of foreign foes to distract the mass mind from the inequities and failures of domestic administration. What a reflection on the intelligence of the American people, and what a commentary on the subservency of Congress, that we should invite war upon ourselves merely by persistent, loose-lipped, chauvinistic talk!"

A vast majority of the people of California are opposed to this country's participation in the war raging in Europe. Witness the deserved magnificent vote of approval and confidence given United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson, a hundred-percent American and unflinching isolationist, at the August election. The "stiletto" did no damage!

President Franklin D. Roosevelt has proclaimed Sunday, September 8, a day for peace prayers, and he urges "the people of the United States, of all creeds and denominations, to pray on that day, in their churches or at their homes, on the high seas or wherever they may be, beseeching the Ruler of the Universe to bless our republic, to make us reverently grateful for our heritage and firm in its defense, and to grant to this land and to the troubled world a righteous, enduring peace."

Congressman Martin Dies of Texas, chairman of a House of Representatives committee investigating subversive movements in this country, says "Our committee, after three years of investigation, has found there are organizations in this country, with membership of 6,000,000 persons, linked to foreign governments and foreign dictators."

The best way to cure that unhealthy condition is to make public the names of the organizations and their sponsors.

William C. Bullitt, United States Ambassador to France, was given a deserved panning in the Federal Senate for indirectly advocating in a Philadelphia address that this country get into the overseas fracas. Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri said:

"If Ambassador Bullitt should succeed in getting us into war, he will find a safe place for himself to hide out during the progress of the war." Certainly, and so will all the numerous other war promoters and their relatives.

To feast and entertain a bunch of cheap politicians at the California International Exposition, $1,306.13 of public funds were spent. What do you, taxpayers, think of that? NOW is the appointed time to wrest control of government from spendthrift politicians, and thus lower the excessive cost of government.

The featuring in the daily press of so-called "titled" foreign personages and codfish aristocracy is nauseating, to say the least. The trials and the sufferings of the founders of this nation appear to be forgotten.

Acting Director G. L. Kuthe of the State Relief Administration was discharged, so he claims, for opposing an order requiring all SRA employees to sign affidavits that they are not affiliated with anti-United States organizations. He says the order is discriminatory, since employees of other state agencies are not required to sign such affidavits.

His contention is well founded. The order should be applied to every one of the far-too-numerous employees of the State Government. And it should also be extended to include all elective officials.

Said Thomas Jefferson in 1810: "The American who thinks Europe can be reformed by force of arms is a maniac." True now, as then!

The American Legion, Department of California, at its San Diego convention adopted a resolution urging legislation requiring foreign language newspapers to publish parallel English translations, and the rebroadcasting in exact English translations of foreign language radio broadcasts. Fine suggestion that should be carried out by federal and state lawmakers.

Speaking via radio from Washington, D. C., United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California said: "Day by day, if you are watching events with the closeness that we here do, you will realize that we are being eased down the road to war."

"A year and a half ago I said this. As each event, appearing innocent in itself, occurred, I have seen the possibility grow into probability until now, apparently, it will not be many months, unless the brake be applied, before we will be in this dreadful holocaust." The voters should apply the brake by getting rid of the yesmen in the Federal Congress.

The result of the California primary is encouraging. Particularly the failure of the attempted purge, engineered by a high state government official at the expense of the taxpayers directed against economy minded members of the State Legislature. Let's hope the spending spree in this state has ended.

George Paish, a Britisher in this country, is reported to have said to United States Senator Burton K. Wheeler "I am responsible for getting this country into the last war and I intend to get it into this one."

There are numerous Britishers here for the purpose and, sorry to say, they appear to be on the "inside." That they are being encouraged by pro-British government officials and other citizens of this country is beyond doubt. Senator Carter Glass of Virginia declares Paish and his kind should be "put out of the country." Certainly they should, but they will not be.

Abraham Lincoln advised: "Stand with man while he is right, and part with him when he goes wrong." Follow that advice at election time and there will be less dishonesty in government.

Undoubtedly the Federal Congress will accede to the demands of the dictator advocates, the war minority and the Wall street munition makers, and order compulsory military training in peace time. These opinions, expressed in the United States Senate, are pertinent:

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana—"The integrity and institutions of the United States are indeed gravely threatened, and it is the [draft] bill now before you, and the hysteria which bred it, which creates that threat. If you pass this bill, you slit the throat of the last democracy still living—you accord to Hitler his greatest and cheapest victory to date. On the headstone of American democracy he will inscribe 'Here lies the foremost victim of the war of nerves.'"

Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska—"That change [peace time conscription], if it takes place, is going to lead us inevitably into the realm where we will have what we have been complaining about in other nations—dictatorship. I can see no other result. If we are to have compulsory military training in time of peace, we put ourselves on a parallel with the dictator nations of the world."

Speaking for the National Small Business men's Association, Vice-president Donald DePain declared: "It is amazing and shocking to see American citizens to learn, while official Washington is calling upon the nation to prepare for defense against foreign enemies, that over the last five years an executive department of the [Federal] Government has been exerting unusual efforts to protect and keep within our borders hundreds of deportable foreigners branded as criminals."

Shocking, indeed! A deplorable situation that will be corrected only by the people at the ballot box.

Commenting on the proposal to bring refugee children from England to the United States Homer Chaillaux, director of Americanism in the American Legion, speaking in Indianapolis said: "A lot of us have fallen for that tommy rot. In the first place, we have 2,000,000 boys and girls of our own who are juvenile delinquents for economic and social reasons. Let's solve that problem first."

"But that's not the most important reason. Just a few hundred of these children are from good English families. These are the ones who are being publicized. The rest are refugee children of the loyalist group in Spain, who were driven from that country because their parents were Communists. These are what the English want us to take. Let's be sensible for once. Good advice, but it will not be heeded."

Every genuine American is ready and willing to go the limit to defend these United States. But, there is a suspicion that a considerable part of the defense-billions citizens of this country must provide will be used to supply the war needs of a foreign nation.

An appropriate slogan for the political campaign now in full swing: Make these United States of America safe from hypocrisy and from dishonesty.

TO A SKULL

This smooth skull tells me nothing now;
No trace if you were wise,
Or if beneath your shiny brow
You stared with frenzied eyes.

If vanity you once could show,
It's hollow now and free—
And all the things you used to know
Can never come to me.

You may have had a learned mind,
Could boast of kin and friend,
But emptiness is left behind
And mystery the end.

And well I know I soon shall be
A living story done—
And some may stare and then agree
Another simpleton.

THE SAN FRANCISCO SCHOOL Department has recognized the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West by inviting members to address adult forums. Note the following, from the "San Francisco Public Schools Bulletin" of September 9: "Adult forums conducted under the auspices of the San Francisco Public Schools will be resumed this week, after a recess during the Summer months, according to Robert F. Gray, deputy superintendent of schools.

"Success of the neighborhood forums during the past school year was attested by the attendance of 9,000 citizens at seven centers. The forum programs are free to all and questions are invited from the audience at the conclusion of the opening address by a guest speaker. Resumption of the series during the present week has as its theme the rich historical background of California's beginning." Then follow the dates, the selected speakers and their subjects: September 10, James Lick Junior High School, I. M. Peckham of Stanford Parlor No. 76, "The Admission of California to the Union." September 11, Glen Park School, Joseph I. McNamara of Stanford Parlor No. 76, "Cavalcade of California." September 12, Sherman School, Grand Historian Dr. Peter T. MAGICIAN THRILLS.

The drill team of Golden Gate Parlor No. 158 N.D.G.W. was part of the colorful parade at the Golden Gate International Exposition San Francisco Day, September 15. The monthly business meeting of the team was held September 16 at the home of June de Ganna; Helen Kelly was co-hostess. Through the courtesy of Ted Kelly, colored movies of the team were enjoyed. September 22 the team participated in the parade which climaxed "Defend America Week."

September 23 Golden Gate entertained the members of Genevieve Parlor No. 132 and San Francisco Parlor No. 261 in honor of Deputies Claire Lindsey and Elsie Dethlefsen. Everyone was thrilled with the entertainment provided by Tom Dethlefsen, accomplished magician. Edna Meinen and Beatrice Nishkian planned the evening. A very successful card party was held September 30 at the Grizzly Bear Clubrooms. While the Parlor members were busy with the many activities, Dan Cupid slipped in and changed the names of two of Golden Gate's officers, and now Aline Lourdeaux is answering to Mrs. Haskell Caro, and Dolores Allen to Mrs. James Baird.—B.N.

ADMISSION DAY IN SACRAMENTO ATTRACTS MANY

SACRAMENTO—THE CELEBRATION observance of Admission Day—the nineteenth anniversary of the admittance of California, the thirty-first state, into the Sisterhood of States—drew an immense crowd to the Capital City, September 8 and 9. The festivities were in charge of joint committee representing all the Sacramento County Subordinate Parlor of the Orders Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West, with June J. Longshore as the general chairman and Albert W. Katzenstein as the general secretary.

An impressive feature of the celebration program was the dedication of a Pioneer Memorial Grove at the State Fair grounds September 8. Guy G. Foulks introduced Mrs. Genevieve Dion, who originated the project and devoted five years of her time to its fulfillment. She presented the grove to the State, and it was accepted by Director Fox Case of the State Board. Other speakers were Grand President Henry S. Lyon of the Native Sons and Grand President Hazel B. Hansen of the Native Daughters, who lauded the California Pioneers.

The Pioneer Memorial Grove is a group of oak trees; each tree has a small bronze mark with the name of one of California's fifty-eight counties. In the center is a large native boulder containing a plaque inscribed as follows: "Pioneer Memorial Grove. This grove of live oak trees representing the fifty-eight counties of the State of California is a living monument dedicated to the memory of the Pioneer Fathers and Mothers by the Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West, September 8th, 1940. This master marker was unveiled by Mrs. Bes Foulks and Peace Justice Percy G. West.

Following the dedication, contests between drum corps and drill teams of Native Sons and Native Daughters were held at the State Fair grounds. Joseph G. Fitzhenry was in charge. So near-perfect were the competing units, the judges had difficulty in arriving at their decisions. Awards were made as follows:

Native Daughters drill teams—Mission Parlor No. 227, San Francisco, first, $30; Golden Gate Parlor No. 158, San Francisco, second, $25; Green Patrol (Argonaut Parlor No. 166, Oakland, and Albany Parlor No. 260, Albany, third, $15; Darina Parlor No. 114, San Francisco, fourth, $10; Twin Peaks Parlor No. 18, San Francisco, fifth, $7.50.

Native Sons drum corps, class B—Pacific Parlor No. 10, San Francisco, first, trophy; Southern San Francisco Parlor No. 157, San Francisco, second, trophy.

Native Daughters drum corps—Mission Parlor No. 227, San Francisco, first, $40; El Carmo Parlor No. 181, Daly City, second, $25.

Native Sons drum corps, class A—Presidio Parlor No. 194, San Francisco, first, $40; Cast Parlor No. 232, San Francisco, second, $25.

Native Daughters drum-and-bugle corps—Tompkins Parlor No. 231, Mill Valley, $30.

Native Sons drum-and-bugle corps—Sea Point Parlor No. 158, Sausalito, first, $40; Piedmont Parlor No. 120, Oakland, second, $25.

The reception at Governor Hall during the afternoon was a pleasing affair and largely attended. Dancing was the main attraction, and during a recess excellent entertainment numbers were presented. Past Grand President Edna Briggs of the Native Daughters and her assistants on the reception committee greeted many callers.

The highlight of the celebration was, of course, the fourteen-division Admission Day parade, September 9, made up of 20,000 gaudily costumed Native Sons and Native Daughters of California, with bands, drum corps, drill teams, decorated autos and attractive floats. The parade, directed by Grand Marshal Walter Bailey of the Native Sons and Grand Marshal Rose Rhyner of the Native Daughters, was guarded by a detachment of the California National Guard.

As the several units, listed in The Grizzly Bear for September, passed before the reviewing stand they were announced by Grand Secretary John T. Regan of the Native Sons. Prizes for parade units were awarded as follows:

Native Daughters drill teams—Green Patrol of Argonaut Parlor No. 166, Oakland, and Albany Parlor No. 260, Albany, first, $25; Piedmont Parlor No. 87, Oakland, second, $15.

Native Daughters drum corps—Genevieve Parlor No. 132, San Francisco, and Mission Parlor No. 227, San Francisco, tied for first, $20 ea.

NATIVE SONS CONTINUE TO SIGN THE OVERLAND EMIGRANT TRAIL

AUBURN (PLACER COUNTY) UNDER the leadership of H. Horton Edmund Kinyon of Grass Valley, Nevada County, and Author Dave Bowrin of Colfax, Placer County, a trail-marking party sponsored by Auburn Parlor No. 59 N.S.G.W. was guided over the foothill section of the old Overland Emigrant Trail by Sam Wolford, well-known 86-year-old pioneer of Nevada County, August 18.

Recalling youthful experiences and interesting landmarks, Wolford was able to direct the party from the ridge above Greenhorn Creek, near present-day Chicago Park, Nevada County, along the western route followed by 10,000 wagons in the gold rush year of 1849, to the site of the famous old Johnson Rancho on the lower Bear River, four miles east of Wheatland, Yuba County. Forty metal markers, provided by the Auburn Native Sons, were installed to mark the route of this most famous road of California from 1844 to 1853. In many places, over hard and rocky ground, the furrowed tracks worn by thousands of steel-shod wagon wheels are still distinct.

At Wheatland, the party was joined by J. R. Hartley, eighty years a resident in that region. Directed by him, the party proceeded up Bear River to the site of Old Camp Far West, a small military post of the United States Army from 1849 to 1856. Camp Far West consisted mainly of some small barracks buildings, on a bluff over Bear River at the point where the Emigrant Road left the line of foothill oaks to enter the grassy plains of the valley. According to Kinyon, Camp Far West was the most western of several army posts established along the route to help provide protection for the emigrant travel.

Recently, a doodle-bug dredge has turned up the surrounding ground to such unsightly heaps of stones and gravel that even unhappy Captain Hannibal Day, the post commander in 1849, would find real distress in the outlook provided in that by-product of a present-day civilized process. Saved from destruction was the small cemetery, 400 yards west of the post, used jointly by the people of Johnson's Rancho and the military from 1844 to 1856. It is occupied by eighteen graves, mostly soldier victims of Indian raids and disease, generally malaria, according to surviving records. One little girl, Betsy Parker, occupies a brick-lined grave in a corner of the plot. All graves are unmarked and lost to memory, except for a common monument erected there in 1911 by the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West.

After a wide detour around stony piles of dredged waste, the party returned to the site of the buildings of Johnson's Rancho, a 22,000-acre grant of 1844. The adobe buildings are gone, without a trace. Only a mammoth oak remains to mark the resting ground of the emigrant trains and the grassy site of a once huge spring then used for the ranch. Nearby is the worn track where the wagons pulled down the bank for the crossing of Bear River.

After crossing Bear River, Hartley states the Emigrant Trail turns a little east to higher ground, but Emigrant John Markle in 1849 wrote, after Johnson's, that they traveled "two miles more down the river and we encamped where we found good grass." This may indicate the emigrant trail of that time left the river near the present site of Wheatland. The next day Markle wrote they traveled "14 miles to encamp at Nicholson's ranch." If anyone knows the present site of this last-named landmark and will communicate the information to the Auburn Native Sons, it will assist in a future trip planned to carry the marked route of the old trail to the ford of the American River, near final destination at Sutter's Fort.

The sign party included, in addition to Kinyon, Bowrin, Wolford and Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Noyes Pratt and Charles M. Muskevitch, Sacramento; Supervisor Guerdon Ellis of Tahoe National Forest and wife, Nevada City; E. K. Smart and Charles R. Ingram, Grass Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Robie, Auburn.

For the best county exhibit at the California State Fair, Sacramento, Stanislaus County won a special gold trophy. The theme of the exhibit was the county slogan: "Water, Wealth, Opportunity, Contentment, Health."

The Santa Cruz County Fair is to be held October 17-20 at Watsonville.

The San Diego County Fair is to be held October 5-13 at Del Mar.

CITY AND COUNTY

THE N.S.G.W. FRIDAY LUNCHEON Club is promoting a caravan to Sonora, Tuolumne County, and several have signified their intentions of making the interesting trip. The party will leave from the east entrance to Griffith Park at 5 a.m. of Friday, October 11, and will arrive at Sonora about 5:30 p.m. of that day. Stops will be made at Bakersfield for breakfast and Merced for dinner. The party will be housed in or near Sonora.

The caravan will disband Sunday, October 13. Many have expressed their intentions of further continuing the journey along the Mother Lode to points as far north as Downieville, Sierra County. Others will visit Yosemite, and some will travel on to Eureka, Humboldt County. There are many points of interest along the Mother Lode Highway, and the scenery is gorgeous.

M. U. Rosenthal of Hollywood Parlor No. 196 N.S.G.W. is in charge of arrangements, and those desiring to make reservations should contact him (OL 3781 or MU 5211, Stn. 535). Or, get in touch with Secretary Hervey L. Kitchin of the Luncheon Club (GL 2533).

ADMISSION DAY AT LONG BEACH.

Long Beach—The Admission Day celebration under the auspices of the Interparlor N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Committee drew a crowd of several hundred to Recreation Park September 9.

During the afternoon contests of various sorts were held under the supervision of Clarence S. Hunt and Paul Traynor of Long Beach Parlor

No. 278 N.S.G.W. A softball game between teams of Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. and Compton Parlor No. 273 N.S.G.W. was won by the latter, 20 to 4.

Throughout the afternoon and evening there was music by a native California troupe and the drum-and-bugle corps of Santa Monica Bay Parlor. In the evening Mayor Francis Gentry of Long Beach N.S.G.W. addressed the gathering, and later there was dancing at the Cinderella Ballroom. The celebration was the most successful held in this district in many years.—H.L.K.

BREAKFAST AT N.D. HOME.

Honoring Grand President Hazel B. Hansen of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, sixteen southland Parlors will sponsor a breakfast at the N.D.G.W. Home, San Francisco, Sunday, October 13.

Miss Grace J. Norton of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124, originator of the monthly breakfasts at the Home, has been appointed chairman of the arrangements committee, which includes one representative from each of the following Parlors: Los Angeles No. 124, Reina del Mar No. 126 (Santa Barbara), Long Beach No. 154, San Diego No. 208, Rudecinda No. 230 (San Pedro), Santa Ana No. 235, Verdugo No. 240 (Glendale), Lugonia No. 241 (San Bernardino), Grace No. 242 (Placentia), Californiana No. 247 (Los Angeles), Desert Gold No. 250 (Mojave), Ontario No. 251, Compton No. 258, East Los Angeles No. 266, La Reina No. 267 (Los Angeles), Topanga No. 269 (Canoga Park).

This will be the first time the southland has sponsored a breakfast at the Home, and it is hoped many members of the hostess-Parlors will attend. An interesting program will be presented.

AMATEUR VAUDEVILLE CONTEST.

Amateur vaudeville contest night will be featured October 11 at the meetingplace of Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W., 1828 Oak street. All Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters have been asked to compete, and each competing Parlor is to furnish ten minutes of entertainment of some type.

All Natives, their families and friends are invited. The admission fee is twenty-five cents. Grand Organizer Roger E. Johnson is director-general of the affair.

FAMILY-STYLE DINNER.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. is busy preparing for the family-style dinner to be given October 5 at Plummer Park. Members had the pleasure of meeting internationally known Chef Milani at the September 18 meeting. He was presented by the history and landmarks committee, in charge of the evening. After the chef spoke he participated in the games and a hilarious time was had by all.

The proceeds of the dinner will go toward restoring the original frescoes in the governor room at Mission San Fernando. The restoration of the walls, floor and woodwork was completed in May, and the committee hopes to soon have the Indian and Mexican paintings restored. Tickets for the dinner are 75 cents; children 35 cents. Radio and screen talent will be presented.

October 16, Los Angeles will have initiation, followed by refreshments. October 19 the homeless children sewing club will meet at Temple City Park; lunch at 1 p.m.; Jennie Raymond and Birdie Plath are the co-chairmen. Bowling is enjoyed every Tuesday evening, and swimming every Thursday evening.—E.S.

A. Meserve and Senator Henry E. Carter of Ramona, and William McCollough of Humboldt Parlor No. 14. At the conclusion of the ceremonies each was presented a fifty year membership emblem.

Leo V. Youngworth addressed the gathering on "Linking the Past With the Future," and Superior Judge Ruben Schmidt spoke on "The Significance of the Fifty Year Plus." Other speakers were Past Grand President Eldred L. Meyer and Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards. A hearty supper concluded what was termed the most inspiring meeting of Los Angeles Native Sons in a decade. Arrangements for the evening were in charge of Secretary Ray Howard of Ramona's past presidents association, President Ralph Clavelot, Loring Lefter and Hervey L. Kitchin.

Ramona's calendar for October includes: 18th, initiation, followed by refreshments; 25th, judges and lawyers night—another BIG night. The hall will be dark October 11.—H.L.K.

OCTOBER HAS MUCH OF INTEREST.

Celebrating the ninetieth birthday of the State of California and the one hundred fifty-ninth birth date of the City of Los Angeles, Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. dedicated its September 10 meeting to those events. At the luncheon, the speakers table was very appropriately decorated with wee carretas, covered wagons and other relics of bygone days. Mrs. Alphonse B. Pages, the president, presided, and was surrounded by descendants of the Pioneers of 1850 who gave brief details of the lives of their ancestors. Mrs. Oscar S. Elvrum, president Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs, was the guest-speaker, and her subject was "America Preferred." She gave reasons why Californians prefer to be citizens of the United States, and stated that it is still our duty to preserve unsmirched the heritage left us by our forefathers. At the September 24 tea meeting, a blanket club was started, for which Mrs. Hattie Duval is the chairman. Funds obtained will build up the exchequer of the Parlor.

October has much of interest and pleasure in store for members and friends of Californiana. The first event—an all-day meeting of the Gertrude Sewing Circle—will take place October 1 at the charming home of Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, 317 Calle Mayor, Redondo. Mrs. Walter A. Harris, chairman of the Circle, is being assisted by a committee headed by Mrs. Marcella Palethorpe. Mrs. Grace Hale is in charge of transportation.

The October luncheon and business meeting of the Parlor will be held in Hollywood Bowl Gardens Tuesday, the 8th, at 12 noon, with Mrs. Isabel L. Pages presiding. Program Chairman Mary Ann Thomas will present Dr. Osgood Hardy, professor of history at Occidental College, as speaker of the day. He is an authority on South American history, and his topic will be "The New Pan-Americanism." Mrs. Earl R. Osborn, chairman of hospitality, and Mrs. Arthur Holliday, October hostess, will serve tea following the October 22 meeting. Prospective members will be honor guests.—O.L.

SURPRISE NIGHT.

University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. is, under President Owen Barnes, once again rolling along as of old. During the past month William Quast successfully put over the Parlor's annual weinie bake, five candidates were initiated, Grand Organist Roger Johnson visited and entertained, and Jackson Hay revived the monthly dinners.

October 10, University will have a surprise night under the direction of Les Drown, the hard working chairman of attendance. It will bring together the best—and worst—of Parlor talent. Refreshments will be served. October 24 initiation will be held, and President Barnes is striving to make it the best ever. University's annual Hallowe'en dance is scheduled for November 2.—W.W.W.

HOMELESS CHILDREN MONTH.

Long Beach—October has been declared by President Nell Cooke as homeless children month for Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. A number of events in keeping with this proclamation have been planned, opening with a benefit card party Saturday afternoon, October 5, at Banning Home in Banning Park, Wilmington, with Chairman Eugenia Smith in charge. The Parlor will have an open meeting Thursday evening, October 17, when Miss Dorothy Schlingman of the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Central Homeless Children Committee will speak on the homeless children work, and a municipal court judge will explain the legal side of adoption. An added feature of the evening, a talk on "California Under Twelve Flags" by Mr. Good-

STANDISH (LASSEN COUNTY)—NATASHA No. 152 and Susanville No. 243 had their annual reunion for the oldtimers of the community September 8. A wealth of gorgeous blooms from the gardens of Lassen County adorned the hall and tables, and at the conclusion of the festivities they were distributed among the guests. Hardin Barry paid tribute to six oldtimers who journeyed ahead since the last assemblage. Rev. E. L. Spaulding discussed the migrations of peoples from Bible days to the present. Mrs. D. M. Mathisen, accompanied by Mrs. George Woodstock, sang "California, My Own," and a quartet—Mrs. C. W. Morrill, C. D. Mathews, Mrs. Ardell Torrey and E. P. Honsberger—delighted with oldtime songs.

Checking the guests, it was discovered that Mrs. Sarah Hartson, 93 years of age, was the eldest. Jim Raser, who taught school in Honey Lake Valley a half-century ago and is said to be the oldest Lassen County teacher, was there also, and so was Martha O'Dell Torrey, the youngest teacher.—M.H.

Former Grand Secretary Passes.

Sutter Creek—Mrs. Laura J. Frakes-Toman, charter member of Amapola No. 80 and former Grand Secretary, died September 7 at the Native Daughters Home, San Francisco. She was born at Volcano, Amador County, September 17, 1860. Her remains were laid to rest in the Sutter Creek City Cemetery, September 10, Amapola Parlor conducting the burial service.

(Mrs. Laura Frakes-Toman was a fine woman and a staunch friend. She was a daughter of pioneer parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Frakes, and for several years taught in the public schools of Amador and Lake Counties. At the Fourteenth (Jackson 1900) Grand Parlor she was elected Grand Secretary, and in that capacity served the Order faithfully and well for eleven years, voluntarily retiring at the Twenty-fifth (Santa Cruz 1911) Grand Parlor. Her good deeds were numerous.—Editor.)

HOMELESS CHILDREN

A Worthwhile Non-sectarian Endeavor Sponsored and Supported by the Orders of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West.

The EIGHTH of October
Do you "Remember"
Children's Day?

HOMELESS CHILDREN'S DAY.

Shall we members, born in the State of California of these United States of America, now pledge fresh allegiance to "Our Cause?" Is there not gratitude in the hearts of all members because Homeless Children who, because of untoward circumstances, may not experience the devotion and comradeship of own parents, will, when infants, be transplanted, like flowers, into new and enriched soil?

The burden of this work, spontaneously assumed by the Native Sons and the Native Daughters in the year of 1910, and generously supported for thirty years, will be even more concentrated and dependent upon the individual members, now that our children must share with other children of foreign lands. Everywhere the friends of children will be called upon to meet the new needs.

It is something for which to be thankful that the thousands of these little ones in California are to be spared, we pray, the awfulness of war, fear, hunger and hate which parents are helpless to prevent, and which the European children of eight, nine, twelve, fourteen years of age, who will come to America, are experiencing. These children of other lands, and children of our own land homeless through no fault of their own, are dependent upon what we of America and of California can give them—quiet, love, companionship, spiritual training, schooling, food and raiment.

October, November and December of 1940, January, February and March of 1941—six months only until the end of the Native Sons and Native Daughters Central Committee's fiscal year, during which time extra enthusiasm must be aroused, accurate and telling publicity presented, if the expense of operation for another year is to be met. This will require a sincere devotion to the cause.

We shall not find the easy, lackadaisical way effective. "All will [not] be right with the world." Uncertainties of the day demand the acceptance of greater responsibilities and of sacrifices in little ways, many and varied. But with EVERY MEMBER working, caring, remembering that "Unto the least of these, ye have done it unto Me," success will crown our efforts.

shel Rose Rhyner. In the local saddle horse show parade the Parlor won a prize for its float depicting "The Great Seal of State."

Etna—Eschscholtz No. 112 observed California's ninetieth anniversary by giving a public party the evening of Admission Day. President Rita Campbell extended a welcome and told the story of the acquisition of California. Minna K. Horn favored with piano selections, and Warren Behnke sang "I Love You, California," and "Sandy River." Cards followed the program, and the pleasant evening concluded with refreshments—F.M.B.

Sierraville—Imogen No. 134 dedicated in the Sierraville Cemetery, September 21, a monument marking the first interment made in that burial ground, many years ago. Grand President Hazel B. Hansen delivered an address.

Pescadero—Ano Nuevo No. 180 had a get-acquainted party and dinner for members of the San Mateo County Parlor September 28. A short program by members of the Parlor drill team followed the feast. Six Parlors were represented, and everyone reported the occasion a success. Miss Dora Goularte, a member of Ano Nuevo, became the bride of Joseph B. Pimintel at Eureka, September 6.—E.M.&L.W.

Georgetown—Grand President Hazel B. Hansen officially visited El Dorado No. 186, September 14. On the Parlor's behalf, President Osie Holliday presented a gift to her, and Nettie Leonardi gave a song. Among the many others present were Grand Vice-president Clarice Cook, Grand Inside Sentinel Nora H. Gray, Deputy Wilma Berriman, Charter Members Irene Irish, Annie Heindel, Elizabeth Irish and Nellie Kelly. A dainty lunch brought the enjoyable afternoon to a close.

Saint Helena—Grand President Hazel B. Hansen was greeted by many members of La Junta No. 203 and visitors on the occasion of her official visit to the Parlor. Zlennias and greenery

GRIZZLY GROWLS

NOTE—Expressions of opinion in these "Growls" are, unless indicated otherwise, those of the Managing Editor.

Clarence M. Hunt

Indifference to the heritage of freedom has resulted in destruction of that freedom in many democracies, and carries the same threat to the United States. Such is the opinion of Dr. Gordon S. Watkins of the University of California, expressed in an address at Missoula, Minnesota. "The destruction of freedom," he said, "happens everywhere as a consequence of the development of tyrannical bureaucracy created in a national emergency, when citizens are insensitive to the expansion for state power."

Every day, in every way, this nation is, contrary to the wishes of a vast majority of the populace, being "eased" into the war for power-dominance in Europe. The Wall-street, the munitions-making and the pro-English minorities are again in the saddle, and history IS repeating itself.

Regardless of a recent embargo, given extensive publicity at the time of its promulgation, Japan, according to the San Francisco Chronicle, continues to get from this country limitless quantities of scrapiron and aviation gasoline with which to continue its diabolical war against peaceful China.

Aiding a treacherous enemy to murder a true friend! Eventually—and the time now appears not far distant—this Nation will pay dearly for this and other follies, such as permitting the "peaceful invasion" of the Pacific Coast by the Japs.

Chief William Fuller of the Me-Wuk tribe of Cherokee Indians predicts, according to the Union Democrat of Sonora, "a late fall and a heavy winter." He says he may "be wrong, but that's what it looks like" to him.

Political consistency: A state official who engages in "purgery"—at the expense of the taxpayers—ousting a state commissioner charged with political activity.

The authorities of Sao Paulo, Brazil, closed five Jap-language schools. That example should be followed by the authorities of California.

Signing at Washington, D. C., September 16, the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940,—the first peace-time draft bill in the history of the United States—President Franklin D. Roosevelt remarked:

"America stands at the crossroads of its destiny." Assuredly it does! The crossroads of remaining a democracy or becoming a dictator-governed country.

"La Fiesta Grande," held at Saint Augustine, Florida, September 7-9, was a notable event, in that it marked the three hundred and seventy-fifth anniversaries of the founding of the first permanent European colony in this country and the first recorded religious ceremony on United States soil. "Castillo de San Marcos" of the Spaniards, oldest fortification extant in the United States, figured prominently in the program.

In the United States Senate, Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri referred to William Allen White's "Committee To Defend America by Aiding the Allies" as "The committee to get us into war." Which it is.

Five-year-old Philip Rambo Jr. of San Francisco is a true son of his daddy, a Democrat. He downed a Willie campaign button.

General Hugh Johnson is a great American, and he does not hesitate to express his opinions. In a recent comment he pointed out that the much-referred-to Monroe Doctrine is a "two-way" street. "All we hear about these days," said the General, "is just one street—the one that says that there shall be no interference by European powers in the affairs of the Western Hemisphere. The equally important other street, and the one largely forgotten,—even by our highest officials—is the one that states that we shall take no part in the affairs of Europe. This second street is the justification for the first. Without our adherence to it, the other half of the Doctrine is untenable, unfair and generally stupid."

In convention at Los Angeles, the Veterans of Foreign Wars called for the retirement of the Federal Secretary of Labor. The call is not likely to be heeded, however, at present.

John E. Cain, Sacramento County aspirant for the State Assembly at the August primary, used as a campaign slogan, "Cain Is Able." He was nominated.

Those investigating subversive activities in California should give particular attention to the numerous colonies of ineligible-to-citizenship aliens planted at strategic locations. They constitute the Pacific Coast danger zones.

A metropolitan daily headed a news item relating to an approaching livestock show, "Fat Cattle Judge Named for Show." And it wasn't a funny-page feature, either.

Speaking in Santa Cruz, Bishop James C. Baker of the California Methodist Conference said: "It is not America's business to go to war to save the world for democracy. Our largest task is to make democracy work here. We tried the medium of war once before. Once is enough to try that. There is great danger that the present hysteria may cause us to override the heritage of liberty from Jefferson and the fathers of our democracy."

"Birth of California" is the theme for the annual Columbus Day celebration at Paso Robles, San Luis Obispo County, October 12.

California tops the nation with 2,773,698 registered motor vehicles; New York, with 2,743,740 registrations, is now second.

SAN DIEGO ADMISSION DAY PARADE IMPOSING

San Diego—With one of the most colorful and imposing parades in its history, San Diego, birthplace of California, observed Admission Day, September 9. Massed thousands lined the streets to witness the great spectacle, which was sponsored by San Diego Parlor No. 108 N.S.G.W. and San Diego Parlor No. 208 N.D.G.W. Joseph C. Kelley was the general chairman and Deputy Grand President Albert V. Mayrhofer was the general secretary-treasurer of the parade committee.

The eleven-division Admission Day parade was marshaled by Brigadier General Clayton B. Vogel. A mile-long display of martial might that included a United States Army detachment from Fort Rosecrans, 4,500 men of the Second Marine Brigade in field uniforms and with full field equipment, and a battalion from the Naval Training Station was most impressive and was greeted with tumultuous applause. Then followed another mile of bands, drum-and-bugle corps, fraternal groups, drill teams, gaily decorated autos, horseback riders and historic floats.

OUR DEFENSE PROGRAM AS POPULARLY conceived stresses the necessity of defense against geographical invasion," said Dr. Harwood L. Childs, addressing the Commonwealth Club in San Francisco. "But machines of war are but little protection against those stimuli that becloud our minds, create uncertainty and doubt, and ultimately undermine our psychological unity.

"For the present at least we need to fear ourselves even more than we need to fear bombers and parachutists. We need to fear our own incapacity to think clearly, to weigh ultimate as against immediate consequences. . . .

"The decisions we make today will probably determine for a thousand years to come the kind of world our descendants will live in. . . . In certain periods in world history the time factor becomes important. Decisions have to be reached. Accounts have to be balanced. In my opinion now is such a time."

N.D.G.W. DISTRICT MEETING.

As the theme of their October 11 district meeting honoring Grand President Hazel B. Hansen, the N.D.G.W. deputy grand presidents of San Francisco County selected "Loyalty in Friendship;" their project, "Homeless Children." A short demonstration entitled "Happiness via the Native Daughters" was presented, with Miss Helen Heineman of Golden Gate Parlor No. 158 speaking for the Home and Mrs. Mary Suhr of Castro Parlor No. 178 being the one told of the Order's activities. Past Grand President Sue Irwin of Berkeley Parlor No. 150 then gave a most interesting talk on the placing of homeless children. Miss Mardel Mae of Dolores Parlor No. 169 gave several vocal numbers, and her beautiful voice was enjoyed by all.

The meeting proper was perfect in every detail, with Mrs. Myrtle Ritterbush of Buena Vista Parlor No. 68 presiding. The ritualistic work was given impressively, and the four candidates could not have helped being greatly impressed. Native Daughters were particularly pleased to welcome Marguerite Bellis, who affiliated with Castro Parlor, as her mother, Mrs. Georgia Nelson of that Parlor, is the very proficient supervising district deputy grand president of San Francisco County, and it was due to her efforts that such a perfection of detail was carried out at this meeting.—J.E.C.

BREAKFAST AT THE N.D.G.W. HOME.

The October 13 breakfast at the Native Daughters Home, the first sponsored by the southern California Parlors, honored Grand President Hazel B. Hansen. The event was greatly enjoyed by ninety-six members of the Order, forty-seven of them making the trip from the southland for the occasion. Thirty-four Parlors were represented.

Miss Grace S. Norton of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 presided, Grand Vice-president Clarice Cook led the salute to the flag, President Mary Miller of Verdugo Parlor No. 240, Glendale, accompanied the group singing of the national anthem, and Past Grand President Sue J. Irwin pronounced the invocation.

AN INEXPENSIVE CHRISTMAS GIFT that will be enjoyed throughout the year is THE GRIZZLY BEAR. Sent anywhere in the United States for $1.50; lower rate for clubs of five or more. Remember your friends with a year's subscription for 1941.

Mrs. Florence Atherton-Irish of Californiana Parlor No. 247, Los Angeles, the speaker of the occasion, charmed her hearers with an eloquent discourse on the glories of California. Miss Verna Osborne, noted soprano of the San Francisco Grand Opera Company, delighted with three selections; she was accompanied by Eva Walker Kirschner.

Grand President Hansen, on behalf of the sponsoring Parlors, presented an attractively designed guest book to the Home, and it was accepted by Past Grand President Dr. Mariana Bertola, permanent chairman Grand Parlor Home Committee. Mrs. Mary K. Corcoran of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 was the surprised recipient of a fifty-year-membership emblem, Mrs. Hansen making the presentation address on behalf of that Parlor.

Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Trustees Ethel Enos, Loretta Cameron, Emily Ryan and Marion White, Grand Outside Sentinel Nora Gray, Supervising Deputy Georgia Nelson, Past Grand Presidents Ariana W. Stirling and Mae B. Wilkin were among the others present.

NEWS PARAGRAPHS.

Buena Vista Parlor No. 68 N.D.G.W. had a past presidents night October 31. With Bertha Steffens (1939) presiding and Josephine Parker (1908) acting as past president, the ritual was exemplified. Mary Growney (1927) was chairman of the evening.

Stanford Parlor No. 76 N.S.G.W. will have a Halloween dinner dance November 2 at Lakeside Country Club. The arrangements committee includes Frank F. Morris, chairman, David

F. McCarthy, Fred Foster and Theodor Schmidt. November 12 the Parlor will have turkey whist; Ed Baron is in charge.

Dolores Parlor No. 169 N.D.G.W. initiate four candidates during October. The drill team had a surprise shower for Joan de Bono, who became a bride October 5. The team met October 3 at the home of May Hyland; Clare Haughe assisted the hostess. October 17 the team had its annual banquet, and the evening was a most enjoyable one.—N.E.C.

At the October 16 meeting of Castro Parlor No. 178 N.D.G.W., President Mary Luhr had the pleasure of initiating her mother, Mrs. Mar. Burtis. That was unusual, for generally mother initiates her daughter.—E.K.

Grand President Hazel B. Hansen officially visited James Lick No. 220 and Gabrielle No. 139 Parlors N.D.G.W. in joint session October 9. Preceding the meeting at Native Sons Building a dinner was served. The opening and closing ceremonies were conducted by Gabrielle while James Lick initiated three candidates. For the new University of California scholarship fund, the Grand President was presented two checks, one for $5 from Gabrielle and one for $10 from James Lick. At the meeting's closing light refreshments were served to about two hundred guests.—L.M.B.

A publicity luncheon was held at Girard French Restaurant October 21 by the pre-chairman of the San Francisco N.D.G.W. Parlors. Mrs. Joseph Morcombe discussed group publicity. Club editors of the city papers have given assurance that they will make use of the type of publicity.

Past Presidents Association No. 1 N.D.G.W. had as an honored guest October 21 State President Edith Kelley of Sacramento. The Association is proud to claim as a member Grand President Hazel B. Hansen.

The San Francisco Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters will have their annual grand ball for the benefit of the homeless children at the Civic Auditorium November 16. The job arrangements committee is officered by: Thomas Brown, chairman; Mildred Ehler, vice-chairman; Ethel Phelan, secretary.

THE LETTER BOX

Comments on subjects of general interest and importance received from readers of The Grizzly Bear.

Editor Grizzly Bear: Some time, when you have a space to fill in The Grizzly Bear, about something like this: Marshal is spelled with only one "l;" if you spell it with two, looks like ———!

High time, it seems to me, for some of us learn the difference between the spelling: Marshall, the discoverer of gold in California and marshal, a lodge officer.—A NATIVE DAUGHTER.

PA-UTAH, A CALIFORNIA COUNTY SITUATED IN NEVADA STATE

Dr. Peter T. Conmy, Grand Historian N.S.G.W.

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR MAGAZINE.)

CALIFORNIA INTEREST IN NEVADA State has always been great. Prior to the Mexican cession of 1848, California, Nevada and Utah were known on the maps as California. In 1849, when the representatives of the people of California met at Monterey to draft a constitution for the projected state, they were faced with the problem of defining the boundaries of the governmental area they were making. At that time it was felt that those portions of the original California, that is, the California in Mexican contemplation, which later became Utah and Nevada, respectively, should be omitted from the territory of the State of California. The reason for this was an objection to having the Mormon people, who had already settled around the great Salt Lake, as citizens of the state. The members of the convention also felt that the great wastes that now comprise Nevada were utterly worthless, and therefore would, if included, only be a burden to the new state. For this reason, the boundary was fixed so as to comprise, in the main, the area of California as it was constituted today.

The exclusion of what is now Nevada from the area of California did not preclude or prevent any interest in the place, however. Within a short time after the admission of California to the Union her people manifested a continuing interest in the lands beyond the Sierra Nevada, particularly in the west central portion of the territory. By 1852 a large number of the immigrants to California in the gold rush had migrated to the territory immediately east of the Sierra Nevada. These hardy pioneers carried with them a deep and abiding antipathy toward the Mormons of Utah. What is now Nevada was then the westernmost part of Utah Territory, having been so created and established by the Congress of the United States shortly after the admission of California in 1850.

The new settlers from California resented the idea of living in a territory governed by the Mormons. To be made into a state of their own was not possible, because the population was far too small to warrant any such action. Therefore, their one recourse was to appeal to the State of California for annexation. This was the situation which existed in 1852, and once the Legislature of California was made aware of it, it at once lost no time in taking steps to remedy the situation. This was in the enactment of a law providing for a county to be carved out of certain of the lands of Nevada adjacent to California, to be known as Pa-utah County, and the Government of said county to function as soon as the Federal Government should cede the area in question to California. The specific boundaries of the new county were:

Commencing at the northeast corner of Sierra County, thence in a southeasterly direction to the northeast extremity of Pyramid Lake; thence in a southeast line to the northwestern boundary of Carson Lake; thence running south to the eastern border of Walker Lake, following said border to the southern limit of said lake; thence in a southwesterly direction to the southeast corner of Calaveras County; thence following the eastern boundary of Calaveras, El Dorado, Placer, Nevada and Sierra Counties to the place beginning. (Statutes of 1852.)

of the name Carsonville was the first attempt to honor the great scout, Kit Carson, by giving his name to a city in the river-valley he had originally explored. It would seem, too, that the name Carsonville originated in California, for the original settlement there was made by some settlers from California in 1851 and was known as Eagle. Carsonville never matured as a county seat for Pa-utah County but, known as Carson City, it became the present capital of the State of Nevada.

March 3, 1852, at the same time that the Legislature of California was creating Pa-utah County, the Legislature of the Territory of Utah established a number of counties, and divided the Carson Valley between two of them, namely Juab and Millard Counties. Apparently the government at Salt Lake had in mind only the Mormon settlers. Consequently, the non-Mormon residents of the valley in February 1853 sent a petition to the California Legislature asking to be attached to California for judicial purposes until the Federal Congress should otherwise determine. Impressed with this petition, the committee of the Legislature to which it was referred recommended asking Congress to extend the jurisdiction of California as far east as the 120th degree of longitude and south to the intersection of the 35th parallel with the Colorado River. Nothing came of this recommendation, however, and the next year, 1854, saw the establishment by the Legislature of Utah Territory of Carson County, which included all of the Carson Valley. The same law also added this territory to the Third Judicial District, and United States Judge George D. Stiles was assigned to preside over the same.

But this action did not furnish a permanent settlement. In 1856 the residents of Carson Valley sent another petition to the California Legislature, asking to be annexed. Indeed, some of the people resident therein were of the impression that they actually were part of California. This is brought out by a letter from W. W. Drummond, United States District Judge of Utah Territory who, in 1856, wrote United States Senator Weller, asking that the Federal Congress survey the California-Utah Territory boundary, because he had held court in the Carson Valley believing that it was part of Utah, but was now convinced that it was part of California.

fornia. In one suit pending before the court, he was not sure whether or not the parties did not live in El Dorado County in California.

To clarify this embarrassing situation, the California Legislature in 1858 memorialized Congress to have the boundary surveyed in accordance with the California constitution. In 1860 the Legislature ordered the state surveyor-general to make such a survey on behalf of California. In 1859 the Legislature repealed the act providing for the establishment of Pa-utah County. In 1861 the Governor of California recommended to the Legislature that Congress be asked to extend the California boundary to the 118th degree of longitude, because the miners of the Comstock Lode were anxious to be a part of California. Congress, however, took a different view of the whole situation and, in February 1861, created the Territory of Nevada. There was little doubt about the Nevada-Utah boundary, but the California-Nevada boundary was for several years unsettled. Finally, commissioners appointed by both states worked out an agreement satisfactory to both sides.

In connection with this whole matter of the California-Nevada boundary, it is interesting to note that, on several occasions in the early N.S.G.W. Grand Parlor sessions, attempts were made to extend the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West into Nevada. Whether or not that should be done is a debatable question, but, if it should ever be advocated, there would be a historical basis for the proposition, because there was a very intimate relationship between California and Nevada in the pioneer era. Both states were originally part of the Mexican California, were peopled by the westward movement following the gold rush, and were explored by the expeditions of Fremont and Carson. Furthermore, certain California counties situated on the eastern side of the Sierra Nevada are part of the geographical province of Nevada. Both states are children of the same cultural system.

CALIFORNIA MAY BECOME CORK PRODUCING CENTER

California's warm and snowless valleys offer possible sites for the future development of an extensive cork producing industry, according to Woodbridge Metcalf, forestry specialist in the University of California Agricultural Extension Service. One nationally known company is now looking for a dependable source of supply, and is interested in developing a new cork industry in the state.

Cork trees have been grown in California for many years, but with little or no thought of their commercial possibilities. The Agricultural Extension Service this year has stripped 225 trees in the Chico and Napa areas, the average production of cork per tree running from 25 to 100 pounds. One tree near Napa, however, yielded 800 pounds. Other trees near Sacramento, Biggs, Davis, Niles and Los Angeles will be stripped in the near-future.

They will scorn to tread in the footsteps of any predecessor, however illustrious. . . . When such a man appears, it will require the people to be united with each other, attached to government and laws, and generally intelligent, to successfully frustrate his designs."—Abraham Lincoln.

HIS LOG CABIN HOME

He left the rugged trail to build beside
The silent mountain, his log cabin home.
A dreamer, lost in space, was satisfied
To break the stillness and forget to roam.
Far, far across the miles, that pierced his heart,
He found this spot, with water dripping cold,
And water conquered—he did not depart,
But lingered here with beauty—and grew old

Today I pause beside the open door
Of his log cabin, bent with weight of years,
And desolate, as dust upon the floor,
While life torments me with its falling tears.
His cabin home—and still his very own—
Time touches me—I travel on alone.

(LIDA NEWMAN DIEDERICH.)

When a spring bubbles forth
From a mountain's heart,
Making a shining track
Along the rocky pathway,
We would hold it back?

We would dam up the crystal water,
We would smother its tinkling voice
Singing away in the sunlight,
Making hearts rejoice?

When thoughts like stars shine in the soul
O sweet fancies sing like birds,
Why not let them shine and sing
All bubble out in words?

Let them shine and sing at their own sweet will,
Why may to a sad heart bring
A thought of hope and love to make Life a happier thing.

BRIEF HISTORY OF OIL IN KERN COUNTY

(R. W. LOUDON.)

THE KERN COUNTY YOKUT INDIAN used the asphalt seepages on the West Side of the San Joaquin Valley from time immemorial in their basket and shell material work, and the early Spanish explorations in the "Valle de los Tulares" (Tules) had noted these "Brea" deposits. One of the largest petroleum surface reservoirs was at McKittrick, called in the early American period of the oil development "Asphaltito," taken from the Spanish word asphalt (asphalt).

In this Pleistocene asphalt deposit near McKittrick a number of prehistoric mammals and birds had been found dating back to the Glacial period and comparing in many respects to the finds in the La Brea pits of Los Angeles County, though two of the finds, a muskox-like form and a llama were not recorded in The Rancho La Brea. Among the finds were the ground-sloth bison, saber-tooth tiger, mastodon, great sloth and short-faced bear. So far as known, Spaniards or Mexicans never used these deposits commercially.

(A bison was mentioned in the 1772 diary of Pedro Fages in the present Kern County, though it is not probable that it was of the type found in the Brea pit.)

R. M. Gilbert, an early American settler near Bakersfield, in 1864 scooped up a thick, tarred oil from an oil spring on the north bank of the Kern River and marked sheep with it at the Solomon Jewett ranch. Tom Means, another early settler, knew of this spring and story in the '70s, and in the '80s tried to interest capitalists to observe these signs of oil and gas along the river a few miles from Bakersfield. He made similar finds on the north side of the river where the discovery oil well was later to be dug. He tried to get E. L. Doheny and W. S. Tevis interested, but failed to arouse any enthusiasm.

The Elwood brothers were in 1893 trying to find a profitable location for oil production of the West Side, as coal from the east coast was very costly in California. However, though many other oil men had tried a few years previous to make this West Side production profitable, the industry was virtually at a standstill.

J. M. Elwood and Frank Wiseman went up the river one day in the spring of 1899 to talk with Tom Means, who was then called by many "Crazy Means," because of his insistence the oil was in the vicinity. They were taken to the north side of the river, and the oil indications were pointed out. Impressed, they agreed to dig. And there, in a few days, with pick, bucket and shovel they found oil sand that created in Kern County and Bakersfield the wildest boom hysteria imaginable. The oil was shallow (7 feet), but of good quality. Their home-made drilling outfit, operated by an old threshing machine engine, had again shown that Yankee ingenuity had triumphed over adversity.

Milton McWhorter and his brother, Horace, drilled the first commercial well a short distance north of the hand-dug well, and called it Elwood No. 1. It went on the pump June 1, 1899, producing eight barrels a day. These brothers were small producers, with poor drilling equipment, but in a few months they showed the oil world that oil production in the Kern River field was no "flash in the pan."

Refining methods improved, and a great boom came to Bakersfield in 1900, and also spread to the Sunset and McKittrick districts on the West Side. Many of the smaller companies and individuals began to expand, and in the Kern River field in 1904 several of the big oil companies of today were born.

The great Lakeview gusher came in near Maricopa in 1910, and at one time produced as much as 68,000 barrels of black gold a day. A lake of oil that could not be handled for many months accumulated around the towering gusher, which could be seen for miles around.

By 1914, Kern County produced fifty-five percent of all the oil recovered in California, and in 1927 the State Bureau of Mining and Oil estimated that there were 80,075 acres of proven oil land in the county and 5,574 producing wells. The famous United States Naval Reserve is in the Elk Hills, and the oil production and large refineries have brought millions of dollars to an industry that at first had a terrific fight to exist.

From the summit of Mount Diablo, in Contra Costa County, a greater area of land and water is visible than from any other point in the world. Mount Shasta, Mount Whitney, Mount Lassen, Half Dome and thirty-five counties may be seen.

Native Daughters of the Golden West

JACKSON (AMADOR COUNTY)—URSULA No. 1, the Mother Parlor of the Order, celebrated its fifty-fourth institution anniversary September 24. Henrietta O'Neill, chairman of the occasion, was introduced by President Ann Skulich. A "Symposium on John Marshall" was presented by Amy Oates, Jane Flagg and Flora Ferraro. Others participating in the program, which was arranged by the history and landmarks committee, included Frances Schacht, Betty Read, Dolores Danilovich, Mary E. Fontenrose and Emma B. Wright. In observance of Columbus Day, the Parlor had an interesting program under the supervision of Dorothy Van Thiel October 8. Ursula is arranging for its annual New Year Eve grand ball.

In the Front Rank.

Sierraville—Following an early evening dinner at Calpine, Imogen No. 134 was officially visited by Grand President Hazel B. Hansen September 20. Three candidates were initiated, and inspiring talks were given by the Grand President, Supervising Deputy Francesca Boney and Deputy Edna Schroeder. The following day a monument placed by the Parlor over the first grave in the local cemetery, dating back to 1863, was unveiled and dedicated by Grand President Hansen.

In this tiny mountain hamlet of Sierraville, one of the pioneer villages of the mining section, history has been made, and the faithful members of Imogen truly live up to the traditions of the Native Daughters by perpetuating California history. In time of need, the Parlor is in the front rank, and no call for aid is ever passed by. The members deserve much commendation for their unselfishness.—N.D.

To Present State Flag to School.

Placencia—Grace No. 242 is planning a busy winter season under the energetic leadership of President Evelyn Strosheim. A patriotic dance revue at the Valencia High School auditorium October 25 was a splendid affair; a number of the students assisted. Prospective members are to be invited to a get-acquainted party at the home of Lena Wagner, an Americanism program is being arranged, and a California State (Bear) Flag is to be presented one of the Placencia schools.

The sewing section of Grace met October 8 at the home of Marie Haiber and enjoyed a delicious luncheon; Lena Lawson, Lena Wagner and Nellie Cline were co-hostesses. A goodly sum was realized for the homeless children fund. Mary Rothaermel was recently honored with a handkerchief shower. Miss Clarabelle Solesbee, a member of the Parlor, was wedded to Victor Wilson October 18; they will reside in Bremerton, Washington.—N.M.C.

Grand President Greeted by Many.

Oakland—More than 200 members of the Order were on hand to greet Grand President Hazel B. Hansen when she officially visited Bahia Vista No. 267 and Sequoia No. 272, Berkeley, in joint session October 3. A patriotic theme was used in the decorations, and the escort team formed an anchor. Two members attired in sailor suits distributed the gifts, which included an American Flag made entirely of flowers to the Grand President.

Presidents Teresa Taylor of Sequoia and Alice Rose of Bahia Vista presided, and six candidates were initiated, three for each Parlor. Miss Nellie Homewood and Mrs. Tessie Socker entertained with musical selections. Among the Personality Night.

Hollister—Copa de Oro No. 105 honored members born in July, August and September with a personality night program in which Marjorie Lanning, Past Grand Bertha A. Briggs, Joy Paulus, Mayme Moran, Alta Trowbridge and Dorothy Howland participated. The birthday members entertained with stories of their childhood ambitions. Carrying out the theme of President Pauline Saufnauer for her administration, patriotism, the meeting hall and refreshment tables were decorated with floral arrangements of red, white and blue. An informative contest featured "What Do You Know About Old Glory?"

October 2, members of Copa de Oro enjoyed a film, "Refreshment Through the Ages," and received attractive booklets on flower arrangement. Eileen Hansen, California history chairman, gave informative data on Priest Valley, in the southern end of San Benito County, and related stories of the notorious outlaws, Vasquez and Murieta. Josephine Walsh, a recent bride was the recipient of a colorful pottery breakfast set, and refreshments were served.

Contra Costa County District Meeting.

Byron—The annual meeting of District No. 17 was held here October 10, the participating Parlors being Las Juntas No. 221, Martinez; Stirling No. 146, Pittsburg; Antioch No. 223 Antioch, and Donner No. 193, Byron. Preceding the meeting fifty members partook of a dinner at tables adorned with baby chrysanthemums in the Order's colors.

The altar was draped in white and surrounded with red flowers in blue containers, while at each station a tableau carried out the different phases of the ritual. A canopy of streamers in patriotic colors roofed the hall, with pampas grass and balloons in red, white and blue completing the color scheme. An escort team of one officer from each Parlor, gowned in white and carrying floral batons of red, white and blue chrysanthemums and streamers, escorted Grand President Hazel B. Hansen and Supervising Deputy Ruth E. Boltzen to seats of honor, where they were presented with gifts on behalf of the district.

A highlight of the evening was the initiation for Las Juntas of Mrs. Mary Brown, 82, who was complimented on her youthful enthusiasm by the Grand President, and Margaret Daniels, candidate for Antioch. Las Juntas' drill team, attired in white formals and gold boleros, performed, and Stirling and Donner contributed comedy skits.—M.G.I.

Mock Wedding Produces Laughter.

Berkeley—Bear Flag No. 151 had a largely attended surprise shower, October 1, for Recording Secretary Maud Wagner-Kidder, a recent bride, and she was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The feature of the occasion, a mock wedding ceremony, was a great hit.

The bride, Jennie Van Mourik, wore a white flannel nightgown, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet—a huge cauliflower surrounded by beets. The groom, Rose Krell, wore striped trousers and long-tailed coat. The bride's father, Dora Tucker, in blue work shirt and overalls, carried a shotgun. Her mother, Irene Lloyd, looked charming in an old-fashioned dress with bustle. As the bride entered the hall the organist, Kathryn Duffy, played "That's My Baby." Also participating in the ceremony were Mae McCourtney, the preacher; Irene Riley, the maid of honor, and Rose Doyle, the flower girl.

Bear Flag had a stork shower for Mrs. Marjorie Hawks. As Rose Doyle sang "Baby Shoes," a bassinet, filled with dainty gifts, was wheeled into the hall. The drill team of the Parlor, Florence Hadlen captain, is working hard.—B.M.

Sewing Club Busy.

Modesto—A public card party held jointly by Morada No. 199 and Modesto No. 11 N.S., October 2, was well attended. Ethyle Gardner, Ann Osborne, Edna Wood and I. J. Larsen were in charge. The next party will be held November 13. The proceeds of these affairs are used for local charity and to build up the homeless children fund.

The past presidents of Morada met at the home of Katherine Gomes and organized a club. A meeting will be held November 4 at the home of Rhoda Templin. The sewing club is more than busy filling orders for holiday gifts, and the ways and means committee is busy selling Christmas cards. Compilation of a sixty-four-page cook book of favorite recipes and interesting culinary items has been completed by a committee consisting of Isla Sisson, chairman, Aldiva Buran, Mary Blaine, Julia Stutchman and Grand Trustee Ethel Enos. The book sells for twenty-five cents.

The Junior Auxiliary of Morada is actively engaged in forming a drill team. Seven candidates were initiated by the Juniors October 9.—E.E.

SANTA BARBARA

(JAMES FRENCH DORRANCE.)

Santa Barbara—Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W. devoted its October meetings to a drawing-in of membership, renewing the active interest of those who through the summer had been otherwise interested. The meetings were programmed by Mrs. Clarence Longmire to accent the themes of education and patriotism. With interest in national defense running high, attention was given the Parlor's work for the welfare of veterans of the first World War.

Mrs. John D. Ross is mobilizing to continue through the final quarter of the year Reina del Mar's consistent program in the interest of children, as expressed through support of the Homeless Children Agency and study of that part of the Santa Barbara Community Chest program which particularly deals with children.

With every member of Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W. interested in politics, affairs of state formed an evident undercurrent for October meetings. A feature of the October initiation was the presentation by Francis Price, leader of the Santa Barbara County Bar, of a son, Francis Price Jr., for membership.

Arrangements are being made for the Parlor's annual Thanksgiving banquet, to be held Thursday, November 21, at Eagles Hall. President W. H. Rutherford will carve the turkey, and Recording Secretary Harry C. Sweetser will start the older members on a series of remembrances of earlier Thanksgiving observances. After the national election has become history, Santa Barbara will initiate a sizeable class of candidates during November.

Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kiefer, Past Grand President Herman C. Lichtenberger, George Lichtenberger, Edgar Black, A. G. Pedroarena, Claude E. Agard, Willard F. Allen and E. W. Black.

The caravan started from Los Angeles at 5 a.m. of October 11. Bakersfield was reached at 7:30. There, Grand Outside Sentinel Hal Bannister and representatives of Bakersfield Parlor No. 42 and Taft Parlor No. 276 joined the party for breakfast. Merced, the next stop, was reached at noon, and the travelers lunched with members of Yosemite Parlor No. 24 N.S.G.W. and Veritas Parlor No. 75 N.D.G.W. Brief addresses, that were broadcast, were made by President John Guest, Secretary True Fowler and Fred Silveria of Yosemite, President Mary Haslan and Mayme Rahilly of Veritas, Past Grand President Lichtenberger, Captain Katzenberger, and Secretary Don La Dell of the Merced Chamber of Commerce. Leaving Merced, the caravan was piloted by Police Chief Garrett of Merced and Secretary Fowler to Mariposa, stops enroute being made at Snelling, Hornitos and other historic places.

At Mariposa, the travelers were greeted by many members of Mariposa Parlor No. 63 N.D.G.W. An address of welcome by Principal J. L. Spriggs of the Mariposa County High School was responded to by Past Grand President Lichtenberger. Then the visitors were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ellingham, where delicious refreshments were much enjoyed. Assisting Alice Ellingham in serving were Edith Trabucco, Lucy Millburn, Elizabeth Johnson and Isabel Lind.

From Mariposa, Captain George Stolp of the California Highway Patrol, and President A. D. Duchow, Secretary William M. Harrington and Ed L. Gorgas of Tuolumne Parlor No. 144 N.S.G.W. escorted the caravan along the Mother Lode highway into Sonora, which was reached at 9 p.m. Enroute, stops were made at Coulterville and Moccasin Creek.

Saturday, October 12, Ed Gorgas led the visitors on a sightseeing tour which included Columbia, Sawmill Flat, Browns Flat, Shaws Flat, Jackass Hill, Mark Twain's Cabin, Tuttletown, and places of interest in Sonora. Sunday, those forming the caravan went their several ways.

DINNER MOST SUCCESSFUL.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. is most happy over the success of the dinner served at Plummer Park, October 5, under the auspices of the history and landmarks committee. Four hundred people enjoyed the family-style dinner cooked by internationally known Chef Milani. The surprise of the evening was the introduction of Al Pearce as master of ceremonies. The program included Guido Diero, piano accordion concertist, Lucille Elmore, ventriloquist, and radio talent from KMPC. Before concluding the program, Al Pearce did his famous "Elmer Blurb" act, selecting First Vice-President Elsie Amidon as the housewife at whose door Elmer knocked. Members of the Parlor are looking forward to seeing the "governor's room" at Mission San Fernando completed as a result of this successful affair. November 1, at the 7:30 broadcast, members and friends of the Parlor will be guests of Pearce at the Columbia Square Playhouse in Hollywood.

Forty-two members of Los Angeles enjoyed the hospitality of Co-chairmen Birdie Plath and Jennie Raymond at the homeless children sewing party in Temple City Parlor October 19. Irene Eden, Dorothy Trundy, Lurline Trundy, Charlotte Johnston, Leonore Hart, Nina Hart, Eva Rice and Jean McCartney were assisting hostesses.

November 6 is the night chosen by the Americanism committee to present P. A. Horton, commander Hollywood American Legion Post. He is widely known as having originated one of the most outstanding Americanism programs in the state. His subject will be "The History of the Fourteen American Flags," and his talk promises to be most interesting. "The public is welcome," says Chairman Flora Holy. The Homeless Children Sewing Club, an auxiliary of the Parlor, will meet at the home of Margaret Carter, 4939 Laurel Canyon road, North Hollywood, November 8. Supper will be served at 7 p.m.—E.S.

AMATEURS ATTRACT CAPACITY CROWD.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W. sponsored an amateur vaudeville contest October 11, and a wide variety of talent from every Parlor in the district competed for the applause of a capacity crowd. A burlesque scene of the barbery coast, enacted by members of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W., won first place.

Past Grand President John T. Newell gave a short address of welcome, and Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards congratulated the performers. Grand Organist Roger Johnson was the director-general of the show. There was a late supper.

ARMISTICE DAY LUNCHEON THEME.

Members of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. heard a very interesting and enlightening address on "The New Pan-Americanism" at the October 8 luncheon-meeting. The speaker, Dr. Osgood Hardy, professor of history at Occidental College, said South America is nearer to Europe than to us and, naturally, the greater part of its trade would go there. He asserted the problem of establishing close relations between this country and the South American republics depends on the fairness, generosity and long-sightedness of our people in the program of "good neighborliness." President Isabel Pages presided and Mrs. Charlotte Carpenter of the program committee introduced the speaker. Chairman Emma Osborn and her hospitality committee served tea following the October 22 meeting, when prospective candidates were honor-guests.

The November 12 luncheon-meeting of Californiana will be held at Los Altos Apartments, 4121 Wilshire boulevard, at 12 noon. Armistice Day will be the theme, and the Americanism committee will have charge of the program. Colonel R. A. Bringham, director of the Sawtelle Veterans Facility, will be the speaker. Mrs. Marcella Palethorpe (CA 8653) is in charge of reservations.

The philanthropy committee of the Parlor, Mrs. Flora Jacobson chairman, and the Gertrude Sewing Circle, Mrs. Margaret Harris chairman, announce a card party at the home of Mrs. Emma Osborn, 2458 Chiselmhurst drive, December 2. Delicious cooked food will be on sale. Chairman Isabel Monroe of the Parlor's pioneer relics committee has been offered space in the Los Angeles Museum for an exhibit of authenticated heirlooms belonging to Californiana's members.—O.L.

UNIVERSITY PARLOR STARTS TO MOVE.
University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. had an open meeting October 10 that was attended by large delegations from neighboring Parlors. For having the most members present, Ramona Parlor No. 109 was awarded a prize. Motion pictures provided entertainment, and a tamale supper was served. University's members are now visiting the co-operating Parlors.

November 7, President Owen Barnes will call for reports from all committee chairmen, and work performed will be reviewed; also, the calendar for the next three months will be submitted for the Parlor's approval. If you are a back-seat driver or a stay-at-home crabber, this is your chance to produce. An interesting meeting will be held November 21, when officers for the new term will be nominated. It takes the FULL co-operation of all fourteen officers to make a Parlor.

Messrs. Shoemaker, Sandford, Messick, Wessman and Wade are proud papas. Congratulations, but don't wait for your children to grow up; bring in a new member NOW, for membership is the backbone of the Parlor. To members of University who have just been placed on The Grizzly Bear mailing list, a word of explanation: this is our magazine, the only official publication of the Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West; through it the Parlor will endeavor to practice reciprocity, and your support is asked.—W.W.W.

RECEPTION FOR N.D. GRAND PRESIDENT.
Glendale—The picnic of Verdugo Parlor No. 240 N.D.G.W. at Brookside Park for members and their families was a success. The dinner was enjoyed, and the playgrounds were a source of pleasure for the grownups as well as the children. The October 2 card party at Casa Adobe was an enjoyable affair. President Mary Miller was hostess for a card party at her Altadena home October 29.

The sewing club of the Parlor, Phyllis Budge chairman, is busy making articles for a bazar to be held November 12 in Masonic Temple. At 6:30 in the evening a turkey dinner will be served by the ways and means committee, Florence Cook chairman. The sewing club met October 11 and 25 at the homes of Katherine Burke and Ada Steele.

Verdugo will have a reception for its honored member, Grand President Hazel B. Hansen, at the Tuesday Afternoon Club, Glendale, November 30, 9 p.m. A short program will be presented and dancing will be in order. All Native Sons and Daughters will be welcome. The arrangements committee includes President Mary Miller, Supervising Deputy Evalyn Wilson, Ada Steele, Doria Phillips and Elsie Bledsoe.—A.S.

Bakersfield—Bakersfield Parlor No. 42 N.S.G.W., El Tejon Parlor No. 239 N.D.G.W. and Taft Parlor No. 278 N.S.G.W. entered a float in the Frontiers Day parade and won first prize for the best float in the unlimited division. Bakersfield and El Tejon Parlors also conducted a concession stand and realized a goodly sum. The annual dinner dance of Bakersfield Parlor was held October 19, and a fine crowd enjoyed a good time. October 30 the Parlor had another family night. Entertainment for young and old was provided, and refreshments were served.

Plans are well advanced for entertaining Grand Third Vice-president Wayne R. Millington, who will pay his official visit to Bakersfield and Taft Parlors Saturday evening, November 23. This occasion will also celebrate the anniversary of Taft Parlor's institution. The meeting will be held at Bakersfield, in the W.O.W. Hall, at 8 o'clock. A reception will be held at a local hotel in the afternoon, and a fine dinner will be served at the hall at 7 o'clock. A large class of candidates is expected. Mart Leonard and Frank Espitalier head two membership teams of Bakersfield Parlor that are outdoing themselves to win. All Native Sons are invited to attend the event. It is hoped that a ritual team of southern district deputies will exemplify the ritual.

In December the annual snow party will be held. Chairman Stewart Goodman reports plans are being made to take over a whole lodge for the affair. A Saturday night party will be enjoyed, and snow sports will be participated in Sunday.—H.A.B.

CREATOR MUST HAVE MADE AMERICANS OF SLIPPERY ELM.

"Now our Government in spite of a $45,000,000,000 national debt and in spite of the necessary expenditure of additional billions for national defense is on the eve of lending $500,000,000 to the republics of South America.

"The bonds of some of those South American countries are now selling on Wall street for as little as 8 cents on the dollar. One of those countries can take $50,000,000 received from the Federal Treasury, purchase $50,000,000 worth of its own bonds for $4,000,000, have $46,000,000 left in its treasury and be entirely free from debt. And the American taxpayers will have paid the debt of the impoverished South American republic.

"The Good Book tells us that the Creator made man of the dust of the earth. He must have made us Americans of slippery elm: we are so amazingly easy to skin."—Daily Oklahoman.

INDEPENDENCE CELEBRATED IN 1822, NOT 1776, IN CALIFORNIA

The United States not only owes much of its destiny to South and Central America, particularly in the light of present world conditions, but much of the United States owes its actual independence to those countries as well, according to Dr. Herbert E. Bolton, nationally known authority on Spanish-American history and affairs.

"Cultural co-operation with South America implies on our own part a desire to understand the civilization of our southern neighbors and a friendly willingness to assist interested Latin Americans toward understanding ours," Professor Bolton said in the course of an address.

"Our southern neighbors have a superb civilization. With them we have many things in common, but in a thousand ways their culture complements ours. But we in the United States could not approach appraisal of Latin American civilization until we had divested ourselves of many false ideas, bred in our bones, through the distorted and chauvinistic writing and teaching of Western Hemisphere history.

"Washington freed from Europe only the eastern third of the United States. The middle third was liberated by Napoleon when he tossed the great plains and prairies into Jefferson's lap by the so-called Louisiana Purchase. The rest of the United States and all of America from Patagonia to Oregon was freed by our Latin American forefathers; by Pedro First of Brazil, by Bolivar and San Martin of South America, and by Hidalgo, Morelos and Iturbide of Mexico. Independence was celebrated in California, not in 1776, but in 1822. Getting acquainted with our South American neighbors is a matter of life or death importance for this country."

The drill team of Ano Nuevo No. 180 N.D. was there, too.

September 20 the boys rode over to San Mateo and led the Native Sons and Native Daughters unit in the San Mateo County Floral Fleeta parade. All in the unit carried United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags. The parade started in Burlingame and wended its way through the streets of that city and San Mateo to Bay Meadows, where the fiesta was held. The Natives' unit was awarded the first parade prize, a fine trophy and a blue ribbon.

October 20 the Parlor sponsored a trail ride and barbecue in the local woods. It was strictly for Native Sons and Native Daughters and their families. Members of Pebble Beach are mighty proud of the progress the Parlor is making. The posse has created great interest and it is attracting eligibles.—M.R.M.

AERIAL DEFENSE of the forests of the United States has made substantial gains this year, the United States Forest Service reports. Practical experiments with dropping firefighting parachutists worked well, and although this form of fire defense is still in the test stage it was used on several actual fires, and promises to be a valuable means of landing firefighters in particularly difficult spots that are remote from roads.

Redlands, San Bernardino County, is to have its fall flower show, November 9 and 10.

Clarence M. Hunt

In the United States Senate recently the chaplain, Rev. ZeBarney T. Phillips, D.D., offered the following prayer:

"O spirit of the living God, whose creative breath is life from the dead and the upspringing of flowers of goodness in the hearts of men: Think, Thou, in us thoughts necessary for our guidance when we are perturbed, thoughts for our quickening when the wings of aspiration fail us, that we may always be alert to the high claims of character as we deliberate concerning the welfare of our country. Clothe our mortal weakness with Thy strength, give to us the constant comfort of Thy calm; and we pray that Thou wilt ever teach us that we're armed without if innocent within. And so we further pray:

"Thy kingdom come, O God!
Thy rule, O Christ, begin!
Break with Thine iron rod
The tyrannies of sin.

"Where is Thy reign of peace
And purity and love?
When shall all hatred cease
As in the realms above?

"When comes the promised time
That war shall be no more,
Oppression, lust, and crime
Shall flee Thy face before?

"We pray Thee, Lord, arise
And come in Thy great might,
Revive our longing eyes
Which languish for Thy sight.

"O'er nations not afar
War darkness broodeth yet;
Arise, O Morning Star,
Arise, and never set."

California has a record number of registered voters for the November 5 general election, 4,052,395. Every one of them will, if worthy of citizenship, ballot according to the dictates of his or her own conscience. Look well to your ballot, for the wellbeing of the nation is in the balance!

At a rally in Tokyo, a Jap minister of education said "the American people are very simple and easily deceived." He probably had in mind the Federal Government, encouraged by the Federation of Churches of Christ in America and white-Japs, permitting the "peaceful invasion" of California and the other Pacific Coast states by yellow-Japs.

The treacherous Japs have been permitted to visit and photograph defenses, to colonize in strategic locations, to maintain a fleet of fishing vessels that can be transformed overnight into naval auxiliaries, to purchase thousands of acres of the best farming lands, to conduct private schools with Jap instructors where loyalty to Japan is stressed, etc. Today, the "peaceful invasion" army, sent to these shores by Japan, constitutes this country's gravest danger from within.

Proposition 13 on the November ballot permits legislation which, if approved, will permit despoliation of California's public park system; and also, it contains that dangerous "for any other purpose" joker. Vote NO!

Alvin Owsley, a former national commander of the American Legion, says: "Encouragement came from Washington for every conceivable fifth column that ever has been created in this nation." He's right, and from the Washington inner circle arises most of the opposition to the Dies committee of the Federal House of Representatives investigating subversive activities.

The annual harvest of Yule trees already is under way in many of the forested areas of California. During recent years considerable damage has been done forest tracts by poachers, but a law now requires all Christmas tree dealers to have notarized permits to possess or transport trees.

"When a purchaser invests in a fir tree for the home this Christmas," says the Federal Forest Service, "he can be reasonably sure that it's an 'honest' tree, not one that has been bootlegged."

Referring to England and Germany, Novelist Thomas Mann said, in the course of an address, "He alone is free who allows others to be free." How about India?

The State Controller reports the assessed valuation of property in California's fifty-eight counties has been increased $45,187,655. That, of course, does not mean property has increased in value. It is just an old custom of hiding from overburdened taxpayers the fact that they must hand over more tax-dollars to satisfy the ever-increasing demands of the politicians.

Scoffing at the danger of invasion and cautioning that "we are being edged into war without the masses' knowledge," General Robert E. Wood says: "If this great country, with its 130,000,000 people and its two great natural ocean barriers, cannot defend itself, unaided by Britain or anybody else, it does not deserve to survive."

Longshoremen at San Pedro refused to unload a Jap boat until the captain ordered the Flag of the United States of America hoisted above the flag of Japan. Hurrah for the loyal longshoremen!

"National Debt Worries Farmers," headed a syndicated news item in several California weeklies. Why limit the statement to the farmers? The ever-mounting national debt is worrying every thinking American.

Good news: the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service says California has 3,543,000 turkeys ready to satisfy Thanksgiving and Christmas appetites. Incidentally, commercialized Thanksgiving Day is November 21, but at this writing the date of Christmas Day is unchanged, December 25.

Proposition 5, so-called "daylight saving," on the November ballot proposes legislation wanted by a few special interests; the masses are not interested in and have no need for daylight saving. Vote NO!

If the European war spreads to these shores, the Government's dishonest neutrality will be chiefly responsible.

At the November 5 election, the people should get rid of the yemen in the Federal Congress and the State Legislature, and in their stead elect men competent to think for themselves and determined to carry out the wishes of the majority of their constituents.

Dr. Dudley F. Pegrum, associate professor of economics at the University of California in Los Angeles, believes the United States should adopt a "pay-as-we-go" fiscal policy while rearming. The national defense program is bound to give tremendous impetus to our economic activity. "But," he says, "let us not be deceived into a false sense of prosperity. When the war is over a readjustment must take place. The more extensive the preparations and the conflict, the greater will be the task of reconstruction.

"On a comparative basis the per capita cost of our defense, if our plans are fulfilled, will be greater than that of Great Britain, and we have always felt that her burden was enormous. This, it must be remembered, is on top of an all time high for national debt and a continually badly unbalanced national budget.

"If we are to avoid the disastrous consequences of an orgy of inflation, we must learn the lessons of the last war and adjust our national finances to a pay-as-we-go basis as immediately as possible. If we persist, however, in sowing the whirlwind we shall reap a tornado."

All normal Red Cross work is financed from low annual membership dues. Everyone who joins a local chapter during the yearly roll call helps to maintain community and national services. Millions of new members are needed this year. The membership campaign begins November 11 and ends November 30. Don't fail to join the American Red Cross.

"There are two kinds of dishonesty in politics—dishonesty of money and dishonesty of power."—Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen.

"This country yearns for what the whole world needs—a return to honesty, respect for the pledged word, and faith in the promise by which men live."—General Hugh S. Johnson.

Pro-British citizens and British aliens of the country are determined the United States shall become involved in the war for power now raging in Europe. If they have their way,—and they will, unless the masses stand firm against such a course,—the liberty for which the founders of this republic fought and died will be sacrificed, for the glory of England.

During October, 13,000,000 individuals received from the Federal Government checks totaling $900,000,000. The number of Federal Government employees jumped from 832,305 in December 1939 to 1,002,820 in June 1940. Facts to ponder!

The Hatch so-called "clean politics" law apparently was not designed to bring about an real cleansing. For, a decision has been rendered to the effect that, while the act requires the dismissal of a Federal Government employee for political activities it "apparently would not prohibit" the re-employment of the dischargee in some other government position. More deceitful legislation!

Those members of the Federal House of Representatives who voted to exempt themselves from the peacetime draft should be voted out of office at the coming election.

Commenting on the enormous general fund deficit of the California State Government, Ralph H. Taylor, executive secretary of the Agricultural Council of California, says: "The plain facts are that bureaucracy has been thriving in California at the same time that the individual citizen, whether farmer or city worker, has been having a hard time to make ends meet. The plain facts are that where economy should reign waste rules. The plain facts are that payroll have been expanded in state service, without regard to the ability of the taxpayer to pay for new governmental frills and increased governmental services."

"Man's capabilities have never been measured nor are we to judge what he can do by any precedents, so little has been tried."—Thoreau.

All big game animals except mountain goat and bighorn have increased rapidly in recent years in the national forests.

"The skull of the wise man and that of the fool look very much alike."—Bismarck.

IN CALIFORNIA WITH STEVENSON'S REGIMENT, 1847.

Dr. Peter T. Conmy, Grand Historian N.S.G.W.

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR MAGAZINE.)

IN THE LATE SPRING OF 1846 PRESIDENT Polk and Secretary of War Marcy determined upon sending a regiment to California. At the time, the Mexican War was still in progress, but participation therein seems not to have been the reason for sending this additional force to the West. According to the plan unfolded this regiment, to be recruited in New York State, was to be transported to California by the slowest of the three possible routes, namely, that of sailing around Cape Horn. Soldiers had been and were being marched across the plains. Others were taken by ship to the Isthmus of Panama and thence on board another boat for California. The fact that this regiment was to take the longest journey possible is indicative of its purpose, which was not military, but civic. Assured of an American victory over Mexico, President Polk looked to the ultimate acquisition of California, if permanently possible, he well knew, only if an American population should move in. Therefore, this regiment was recruited according to a special and unusual arrangement. The men were to be mustered out of the service at whatever point the government might select and were to be barred from any claim for transportation from this location to New York, where their homes had been. In back of this was a recognition of the long distance across the continent, the physical limitations of traveling to the East from California, and the fact that men discharged from the army in the Far West could be likely to settle there.

Jonathan D. Stevenson was commissioned as colonel of the proposed regiment and was in charge of the recruiting. The men were mustered in during the early summer and spent two months training at Governor's Island, New York. September 11th, Colonel Stevenson received detailed and final instructions from the War Department. Three ships were chartered at a cost of $65,000. They were the Thomas H. Perkins, the Loo Choo and the Susan Drew. These three vessels set out from New York September 26th under the convoy of the U.S.S. Preble. Most of our present day knowledge of the voyage comes from a diary kept by one of the officers, Lieutenant John McHenry Hollingsworth, who sailed on board the Susan Drew. This was the heaviest of the three vessels, being 701 tons, and it was a command of Captain Putman.

According to the record kept by Hollingsworth, nothing of great consequence took place in the journey down the Atlantic Coast. November 25th the Susan Drew reached Rio de Janeiro. Several days were spent there and Hollingsworth seems to have enjoyed the stay really. By December 12th they had reached latitude 37° 14'. By the 17th they were in latitude 44° 46' and the weather was very cold. The entry for this day states that the sun was at down at eight o'clock the night before, which indicates the presence of summer in the South Temperate Zone. Christmas was now approaching, and at the same time and same rate the ship was reaching Cape Horn. Christmas day brought them to the great cape itself. Most reports of mariners suggest stormy weather. Hollingsworth does not mention a storm, but does state that the weather was cold. There probably was not a storm raging, for the officers seem to have had a gala time, which they could not have had if the ship had been in danger. His diary for Christmas Day reads:

"December 25. Christmas off the Cape. We had a masked party on board who made a handsome turn out. The Col was invited to see them which he did and in return asked them into the cabin and set out his wine of which they partook freely. The leader of the party proposed toast which I will give another time. This is the only real fun we have had and we treated a company of masqueraders to buckets of punch which pleased them very much and some of them gloriously drunk. The officers kept the Col up until very late—who said they were not all sober. We had a poor dinner but plenty of hot punch. The weather is very cold and has been so for the last ten days with a sea running mountains high and rain making us all keep our heads down. We have done nothing else but eat and sleep for some time—in fact we cannot keep ourselves warm unless we go to bed."

The toast given at the Christmas party and referred to above was as follows: "The Susan Drew—our Bonnycastle—may her declining years be passed on the bosom of a river beautiful as the Shannon with water of the strength and sweetness of pure Hollingsworth; may one continual Day beam over it and the wings of Marcy overshadow it, and if sadness shall settle upon her may it be like the melancholy of Burton—sweet, pleasing and soul consoling." The proper names in the toast represent a play upon the surnames of certain officers on board the ship, namely, Lieutenant Bonnycastle, Captain Shannon, Captain Marcy, Lieutenant Day, Colonel Burton and Lieutenant Hollingsworth.

The trip up the Pacific Coast seems to have been uneventful. The Susan Drew arrived in San Francisco Bay March 22, 1847. May 6th the outfit to which Hollingsworth was attached was transferred to Camp Kearney at Monterey, where they remained until May 8th, at which time they embarked for the Los Angeles area. During the summer and fall of 1847 the several divisions of Stevenson's Regiment did garrison duty in various parts of southern California. As the winter drew near Hollingsworth made frequent entries in his diary. However, for the ten-day period from December 17th to December 27th he made no notations. Hence there is no direct statement concerning the manner in which Christmas of 1847 was spent. Apparently there were festivities, as the following entry indicates:

"December 28. Lt. Davidson gave a party last night. I had been there but a few moments when I was ordered to the command of the guard by Colonel Stevenson. I went to the guard house and found that the officer of the guard had been placed under arrest for getting drunk and raising the devil generally. I had been there but a few moments when I heard a great noise in the street and was informed that Lieutenant V was drunk and trying to break into a store. I then received orders from the officer of the day to arrest him. I proceeded to do so, found him full of fight, knocked him down and had a general row with him. The Colonel came up in the midst of it and ordered me to take him to the guard house, at the same time ordering him to be quiet. He behaved very badly. . . . He was sent to his quarters in the morning by the officer of the day but did not remain in them as he broke his arrest and got drunk again to the guard house this morning and is there at present."

New Year Eve was spent in a jolly fashion. A party was given by the commander of the regiment, Colonel Stevenson. This is described by Hollingsworth in the following entry in his diary: "January 1, 1848. I was at the ball last night given by Colonel Stevenson. He was very polite to all and it was the most elegant affair I have ever seen in California—the supper splendid. The people here had never seen the like before. There was much beauty in the room. I could but regret that I could not wait and enjoy myself as others. I however kept sober and that was more than most did."

From what has been said above, it will be clear that the men and officers of Stevenson's Regiment celebrated two Christmas Days, 1846 and 1847, in uniform, before they were mustered out of the service. In both cases, on shipboard and on land, they resorted to jollification by indulging in the arts of Bacchus. It is interesting to recall that in 1774, when the Anza expedition was on the march from Tubac to Monterey, the padres made the same criticism, and that at the mass on Christmas Day one of them preached a sermon against celebrating the anniversary of the birth of Christ in a drunken manner.

One hears much about the amount of drinking that is done at the present time during the holiday season, especially, it is often alleged, by the young. The writer certainly withholds his approval from drunken revelry. However, it is very much to be questioned whether there is any more indulgence in liquor now than in the earlier generations of California or elsewhere. There is reason to believe that much better discipline obtains now on board United States army transports and United States naval vessels at sea during the holiday season, than aboard the Susan Drew off Cape Horn in 1846 or at Colonel Stevenson's land party in 1847. Let us not lose faith in the present, nor in our youth!

CHRISTMAS WISH

(MINNA MCGARVEY.)

(Written Especially for The Grizzly Bear.)

When the merry Christmas season is with us once again
And the blessed bells are ringing "Peace on Earth Goodwill to Men,"
'Tis a time for joyous greeting with the old wish winging wide,
And Love to bear the message for a happy Christmastide.
May friends be ever faithful and love be always true
To make the music sweeter, forget-me-nots more blue,
To make of care a bubble and pain a passing dream
As lightly drifting as a cloud upon a silver stream.
And when the dusk falls swiftly and the wintry nights are long,
And some times from your slumber you are awakened by a song
To see the bright stars shining and hear a distant bell,
May Peace enfold you gently, reassuring "All is well."
And when the blessed season has left its gifts with you,
And friends have still been faithful and love has yet been true,
May you keep the faith serenely, without a doubt or fear—
God is in His Heaven and we're all His children dear.

HAWAIIAN STATEHOOD AND DUAL CITIZENSHIP

At the general election November 5 the citizens of the Territory of Hawaii indicated by a two-to-one vote that they desire statehood. This does not mean that the Federal Congress will grant statehood—it only means that the citizen themselves, a majority of whom are of Oriental extraction, believe that Hawaii should be a state with the right to elect those who govern it.

A most interesting phase of that election was the approval by the electorate of the Republican candidate for the Territorial Senate, Sanji Abe. During the entire campaign and up to November 2 Abe was a citizen of both the United States and Japan! He was only expatriated three days before election, when his papers were rushed from Tokyo!

When the Territory of Hawaii will elect to its highest legislative body a man who had the temerity to seek and accept the nomination for office while still owing allegiance to Japan, the question may well be asked, "Is Hawaii read for the responsibilities of statehood?"

Hawaii is this country's most important fortification. Over one-third of its voters are of Japanese ancestry, and of these about 60 per cent have dual citizenship—are citizens of Japan as well as of the United States—and are subject to military duty in Japan. The safety and welfare of the one hundred and thirty million Americans in the whole nation must not be jeopardized by turning over the government of its most important military outpost to a majority of Asiatic descent whose allegiance is largely divided.—CALIFORNIA JOINT IMMIGRATION COMMITTEE, representing the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, the State Federation of Labor and the American Legion.

Diego County. Assured he was dead, his wife drank carbolic acid and ended her existence. Both bodies were encased in expensive casket and returned to Austria.

Ah Gee, a Chinaman, shot and killed C. E. Seaton at San Rafael, Marin County, December 2.

The Republican candidates were successful in the Los Angeles City election December 1. Hazard was elected mayor over Ling by 201 votes.

J. B. Curtis, an old and eccentric character of Sutter Creek, Amador County, was burned to death December 21 when fire destroyed his cabin.

Thomas August Galt, one of the best-known residents of El Dorado County, died December 20 near El Dorado Town. He was a former sheriff and tax collector.

Secretary George W. Tilgham of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners died December 25 at Sausalito, Marin County.

Alexander Henry's wine shed at Anaheim Orange County, burned December 29 and 12,000 gallons of wine was destroyed.

SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES

THE AMERICANISM COMMITTEE OF Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W., Los Angeles,—Margaret A. Kerr, chairman; Martha Decker, vice-chairman; Ernestine F. Aylward and Ethel Hearst—submitted a report to the Parlor November 12. It was approved by the Parlor, which requested its publication in The Grizzly Bear. The report follows:

"When this measure [the outlawing of the Communist Party in the State of California] becomes operative, it is also hoped that the doors of the schools of our State will be barred automatically to meetings held under the auspices of the Communist Party of the U.S.A., section of the Communist International, and its seditious associates.

"The very fact that Communist candidates received a substantial vote in various communities in California after the Communist Party had been declared illegal in California and had been barred from the ballot in a score or more states indicates that we have within our borders an organized fifth column which challenges the peace and security of our citizens as could no alien foe. Their candidate for the United States Senate . . . received more than seventy thousand votes.

"We submit for your thoughtful consideration extracts from the 'Report on Subversive Activities' adopted at the twentieth annual convention of the Peace Officers Association of the State of California at Fresno. . . .

"It is with regret that because of the circumstances existing today we find we must give grave consideration to the danger which threatens our country—the danger of the destruction of our government and of our democratic institutions by subversive forces.

"The present world situation is without parallel in history. We are the privileged witnesses of the monstrous of the Old World, obliterating boundary lines and consuming, one by one, the struggling but helpless smaller countries; and in our own United States the avid agents of these marauding conquerors are still carrying on activities identical in those which preceded the collapse of the victimized democracies of Europe.

"California, with all its natural resources and its man-made advantages, has long been an ideal field for subversive operations. . . . we have the most potent and far-reaching propaganda mediums in existence—the radio centers and the motion picture industry. While California has been regarded as a key point by subversive groups for many years its estimated importance to the world situation has multiplied many times since the European war assumed its present proportions.

"The activities of the various subversive groups have grown in proportion to the acknowledged importance of California as a war industries center. However, since the last report . . . there has been developing in the public mind a strong resentment against the so-called 'fifth columnists' or the 'incurable horse.' These persons are totally undeserving of the dignity implied in the term, and should be referred to only in the terminology which properly fits them. They are traitors, spies and scoundrels. They are part of a vast criminal conspiracy to bring about the overthrow of democracy as it is practiced in this country and to substitute a reign of foreign tyranny such as is practiced in the enslaved countries overseas.

"Contrary to its ridiculous claims, the Communist Party is not intrinsically a political party. It utilizes the political angle as a means of securing legal protection while it engages in constant efforts to win over the American people to Communism as opposed to American democracy.

"When the Communist Party set itself up in business in the United States (the business of destruction of our existing government), it went about the thing systematically. The domain of forty-eight states and the territories was plotted just as a realtor maps out a subdivision. Intellectually conducted research informed the party leaders on such matters as industry, agriculture, sectional life and habits, community interests, etc., as they existed in every section of the country. . . .

"Any slight change to be noted may be found in the fact that (Communist) Party units are operating with more guardedness and caution at this time than they did before war talk became the order of the day. It is the policy of the party to dive under-ground in times of stress and a semi-preparedness for this exigency is now in process of perfection. . . .

"The assignment of its members to specific tasks by the Communist Party is not a hit-and-miss proposition. The party leaders realize that specialists in any field get superlative results only when they have been scientifically trained or have received highly specialized training. To this end, training grounds naively referred to as 'workers' schools,' are conducted by the party. They serve a dual purpose: they train future agents, spies and organizers for the party and, being open to outsiders, they open up a new field of potential victims which are artfully bombarded with red propaganda. . . .

"There is a militant organization which provides legal defense and bail for persons arrested for subversive activities. . . .

"There is the organizational device for organizing the unemployed and those persons enrolled on WPA and other relief projects. It is becoming increasingly militant. Vigorous and defiant fighters are picked from the party's rolls to head this organization and their militancy inspires the disciplined rank-and-file to acts of violence and terrorism. . . .

"Without exception, the subsidiary organizations carefully avoid any obvious connection with the Communist Party, although it is their parent. Many of them are so skillfully camouflaged that they operate for years among unsuspecting Americans with great financial and organizational success. Sometimes their true identities never become known to the public, but in other cases where patriotic groups or law enforcement agencies expose them as charlatan organizations, the party either changes their names or sets up substitute organizations to replace them.

In extreme cases organizations are scrapped altogether. One example of this is the case of the American League for Peace and Democracy, which thrived for years, garnering rich harvests in dollars and members. . . . Huge mass meetings are dear to the hearts of Communists. It is customary for the party to seize upon every pretext to stage a large meeting or rally. Election campaign periods provide ideal opportunities. Protest meetings, such as are held to demonstrate against conscription or any other issue in disfavor with the bolsheviks, reap lucrative monetary harvests for the party. Nationally known revolutionary speakers are sent on tour throughout the United States at various intervals, and their meetings usually net a neat profit for the sponsors, as well as having served as ideal media for propaganda. . . .

"It is imperative that steps be taken at once to inform the public as to the proper procedure in cases which cause proper suspicion. It should be made clear that instead of wishing to discourage widespread public interest in exposing our enemies, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) welcomes the receipt of any and all information which may fall into the hands of the laymen. All such facts as may give good reasons for suspicion should be submitted to the FBI at once and the laymen should not attempt to make the decision as to whether or not the information may be important. Let the properly equipped agency the FBI determine this point.

"The California peace officers closed their report with recommendations for legislation requiring: deportation of aliens engaged in Communist, Nazi or other subversive activities; prohibiting of employment of any such persons in tax supported offices; outlawing of the Communist Party, Nazi Bund and Fascist organizations; discharge of any such persons in national defense industries; denial of use of public buildings to such groups; disbarment of attorneys who actively engage in aiding, abetting and furthering the program of the Communist Party and Nazi-Fascist organizations.

"The police officers whose responsibility it is to maintain public peace and safety speak with conviction because of their long experience and intimate knowledge of situations about which the public know little. Their warning cannot, therefore, be ignored by loyal citizens. Their report concludes with the following statement in which your Americanism Committee concurs: 'Our inheritance of this great democratic form of government is the highest of earthly honors. To accept this heritage with humility is to be a reverent citizen; to appreciate it by striving to make ourselves worthy of it, is to demonstrate our gratitude; and the prerogative of defending it against all enemies is our most sacred privilege'.

The Western Fairs Association is to have its annual meeting December 11-13 at San Francisco.

History Board Meets.

San Francisco—The California History Board met November 1, with Grand Historian Dr. Peter T. Conmy presiding. Emmet Joy of San Francisco Parlor No. 49 was named secretary for the coming year.

The proposed memorial park at the site of the former Laurel Hill Cemetery, San Francisco, was endorsed. A near-future meeting of the Board will be held in the Bancroft Library at the University of California, Berkeley.

City's Naming Observed.

San Diego—This city observed November 12 the three hundred and thirty-eighth anniversary of its naming. In recognition of the occasion, Deputy Grand President Albert V. Mayrhofer, representing San Diego No. 108, took flowers to the California Building in Balboa Park, where statues of the first White men to come here—Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, Don Sebastian Viscaíno, Friar Antonio de la Ascension and Father Junipero Serra—were erected in 1915.

November 12, 1602, Don Sebastian Viscaíno brought three tiny ships, the San Diego, the Santa Tomas and the Tres Reyes, safely to anchor off Ballast Point, now within the United States military reservation of Fort Rosecrans and marked with a three-ton granite boulder and bronze tablet—and named the harbor San Diego. In doing this he ignored the fact that Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo had arrived sixty years previously and, September 28, 1542, named the "beautiful harbor of the sun" San Miguel.

Fifty-fourth Anniversary.

Livermore—Las Positas No. 96 celebrated its fifty-fourth institution anniversary with a banquet November 14. Following the banquet Grand Trustee Richard F. McCarthy paid his official visit to the Parlor, and expressed pleasure at the accomplishments of Las Positas which has made a substantial gain in membership.

The meeting was also addressed by Grand First Vice-president Edward T. Schnarr, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Treasurer John A. Corotto, Grand Historian Dr. Peter T. Conmy and Past Grand Harmon D. Skillin.

Annual Duck Dinner.

Los Banos—A large number of members of the Order attended the sixth annual duck dinner of Los Banos No. 206 November 13. President Ernest Toscano was the toastmaster, and among the guest-speakers were Grand First Vice-president Edward T. Schnarr, Grand Second Vice-president Lloyd J. Cosgrove, Grand Treasurer John A. Corotto and Past Grand Joseph J. McShane. Yosemite No. 24 of Merced was represented by a delegation of twelve, headed by President John W. Guest. During the evening four candidates were initiated. Frank Bandon and Alden Langenhovel were co-chairmen of the evening.

In the Armistice Day parade at Merced, November 11, the purple and gold float of Los Banos, featuring the Goddess of Peace, won top honors.

Twenty-five-year Emblems Presented.

Ferndale—The annual turkey banquet of Ferndale No. 93, November 18, was largely attended. H. E. Giacomini was the toastmaster and Menard Henriksen was the general chairman. On the Parlor's behalf, J. J. Bognuda and H. E. Giacomini presented twenty-five-year membership emblems to the following:

Pioneer Native Celebrates Birthday.

Palo Alto—Lucas Greer, No. 1 pioneer of Palo Alto No. 216, celebrated October 18 his eighty-eighth birthday at his big, old, frame house in Palo Alto, where he has lived since 1869. His friends enjoyed a barbecue and dance given in his honor. He is hale and happy and possessed of a wonderful memory; in fact, he is an authority on the early history of this section.

Greer, born in Woodside in 1852, is a son of Captain John Greer, an Irish sea captain, and Marie Soto, who inherited the present site of Palo Alto from her father and the 12,000-acre Canada de Raymundo of Woodside, San Mateo County, from her first husband, Lieutenant Coppinger. He is the last surviving member of that illustrious family and, in an atmosphere of old California, he greets his friends and lives again the carefree days of his youth.—H.G.W.

Native Daughters of the Golden West

CHICO (BUTTE COUNTY)—GRAND President Hazel B. Hansen was honored guest of Annie K. Bidwell No. 168, November 14, at elaborate ceremonies in the lovely Native Daughters Hall. Preceded by a dinner, the Parlor meeting was conducted by President June Wright. The decorations and ceremonies carried out the Grand President's theme, "Streamlined Progress." The halls, banquetroom and tables were decorated with beautifully arranged modernistic bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums, silvered leaves and spikes of silvered cattails, intermingled with tall yellow tapers.

The ceremonies of the evening were made most impressive with the assistance of an escort team of twelve lovely young women dressed in stunning white taffeta formals and carrying yellow silk muffs. A song to the Grand President, written by Florence McGuire, was given by a chorus and the escorts as she was given her seat of honor. Supervising Deputy Hattie Jackson was also given a place of honor. The ritual was impressively exemplified, and five candidates were initiated; the songs were arranged by Evadne Gray.

In presenting a gift of silver to Grand President Hansen, the escort team formed a streamlined airplane, with President Wright's small son, Kenneth, as the propeller, and Captain Olive Pearl read the symbolic meaning of each blossom of a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. At the meeting's close, refreshments were served and short talks were given. Members of the Parlor responsible for the successful evening were: Lois Coleman, Cornelia Bishop, Helen Hintz, Lila Roohr, Myrtle Stolp, refreshments; Mary Alice Kitchen, Florence Handley, Nell Baker, Katherine Peterson, Jennie Truesdale, Lucy Girdler, Nellie Georges, Helen Whitaker, Sue Terrill, Rita Dickey, Josephine Alexander, decorations; Evadne Gray, Florence McGuire, music; Laura Anderson, Irene Henry, hospitality; Olive Pearl, Nora Mulkey, Betty Eris Hannis, Mable Carper, Etta Hinton, Royce Hall, Elsie McLean, Rita Dickey, Laura Markham, Jean Roposa, Margaret Carlson, Irene Endicott, El-nora Laughlin, escort work and presentations. —O.P.

Kern County District Meeting.

Bakersfield—Seventy-five members of the Kern County Parlors—Miocene No. 228, Taft; El Tejon No. 239, Bakersfield, and Desert Gold No. 250, Mojave,—attended the Kern County district meeting here November 1. Supervising Deputy Ona Moffett presided. Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, the guest-speaker and advisor of the evening, detailed some of the Order's outstanding projects, such as the homeless children. Native Daughters Home, veterans welfare and university scholarships. Referring to the spirit which pervades the Order, she gave brief histories of Columbia No. 70 at French Corral, Nevada County, and Golden Era No. 99 at Columbia, Tuolumne County.

Other speakers, and their subjects, were: Grand Trustee Evelyn G. Towne, "Membership of Parlors;" Deputy Margaret Crawford, "Harmony in the Parlors;" Deputy Ada Specht, "Obligations of the Order;" Deputy Gertrude Phelps, "Pioneer Fathers and Mothers;" Georgia Sanders, "Pioneer Women." An inspiring tribute to the flag was given. El Tejon conducted very effective candlelight ceremonies and initiated six candidates.

Others introduced were President Isabel Fages of Californiana No. 247, Los Angeles; Deputy Eugenia Smith of Long Beach No. 154;

Chairman Mary Noerenberg of the Grand Parlor Civics Committee; President Margaret Pinkh of Miocene; President Florence Holderness Desert Gold; President Maude McKay of Tejon. Arrangements for the occasion were made by a committee that included Lucille Solabehere, chairman, Martha LaBrier, co-chairman, Georgia Sanders and Ella Bozeman. Participate in Worthy Cause.

Long Beach—Nelle Cooke, chairman Grand Parlor Veterans Welfare Committee, in a communication to Subordinate Parlors expresses hope that all members will participate in the project. Says the communication, in part:

"Each member of each Parlor can and should serve in the Veterans Welfare work of our order. This work is outlined as a project of Grand Parlor and is close to the heart of the Grand President. Enriching the life of the veteran and adding to his material comfort should be accepted as a responsibility of every Native Daughter.

"Although the government feeds and clothes the veterans in [the Veterans Facilities], many have no pensions or other incomes with which to purchase cigarets, stamps and all the other little things that raise life above a mere existence. It is the fervent hope of your Grand Parlor committee that each Parlor will send in at least $2.00, to be distributed among the facilities. Send your moneys to me at 5719 The Palmdo, Long Beach, California, before December 15th and designate them for the veterans welfare fund.

"To direct and expedite this work, the President of each Parlor should appoint a chairman, whose name should be sent to the Grand Parlor chairman immediately. Refer to your Grizzly Bear Magazine for the name of the Grand Parlor Committee member in your district."

Three Parlors Unite for Official Visit.

Marysville—Grand President Hazel B. Hansen officially visited Camp Far West No. 218, Wheeland; South Butte No. 226, Sutter, and Marysville No. 162 in joint session here November 1. Camp Far West conducted the opening ceremonies, South Butte exemplified the ritual and Marysville conducted the closing ceremonies.

The Grand President delivered an interesting and inspiring message, in the course of which she spoke of the Order's projects and referred to the success of the Subordinate Parlors. The hostess Parlors' gift to Mrs. Hansen was presented in peaches on a small peach tree from the "Peach Bowl of the World."

A loving cup given the late Dr. James Barr, Marysville in 1908 as a token of esteem and gratitude was returned to that Parlor by Mrs. Barr, who carried out a wish of her husband examining physician for the Parlor since its institution. Past Grand Esther Sullivan made the presentation address. Among the many others in attendance were Past Grand Florence Boy Supervising Deputy Margaret Davidson and Deputies Elizabeth McCurry, Gertrude Hayn Robey Skinner and Helen O'Brien. An enjoyable dinner preceded the meeting, and at close light refreshments were served.—R.E.C.

Placentia—A public luncheon and card party sponsored by Grace No. 242 for the benefit of the homeless children was a decided success. The party for prospective members was held November 12 at the lovely country home of Lena Werner. Enlightening talks were given, and a very happy evening closed with delicious refreshments. Los Angeles visitors were Mary Noerenberg, Grace Norton, Florence Schoneman and Clara Hunt. Following its usual custom, the Parlor donated toward the beautiful communion float entered in the Armistice Day parade Santa Ana that attracted 100,000 visitors.

"The dictionary defines the word 'welfare' as meaning 'organized community efforts for social betterment.' With the holidays approaching, the members of our Order have a real opportunity to put forth their efforts toward social betterment. If you will but look, you will find families in your community very much in need of your assistance and kindness. You will find too, that your efforts to make things a little brighter are greatly appreciated. Some times, there are Sisters in your own Parlor who would be grateful for a helping hand."—IDA M. MESQUITE, chairman Grand Parlor Welfare Committee.

THE WAR IN EUROPE AND THE events that led up to it have produced a definite trend toward extreme nationalism in the output of American writers, Dr. Claude Jones, English instructor at the University of California at Los Angeles, recently told a university extension division audience.

"Historical fiction has had the biggest boom in the last five years or so that it has ever had in this country," declared Dr. Jones. "This is undoubtedly the echo of a nationalism in this country which, while it certainly existed before has been considerably heightened by the international situation and its effect on America. Historically, however, this is by no means unusual. It is the sort of thing that can be expected in any country during certain periods."

"This strong tide of nationalism has been a requisite at all times of national or international stress since the ancient Greeks and perhaps even further back than that. It is simply a matter of a renewal of interest in political background material that has always been available but never as popular. Thus in peaceful times we have a tendency to read American literature as produced by such men as Thoreau, Emerson and Poe, whereas in times of political stress we turn to such men as Lincoln, Franklin and Paine, who have swayed American political opinions in the past."

IMPRESSIVE AMERICANISM PROGRAM.

The highlight of the October activities of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. was the Americanism program presented November 6 by Chairman Flora Holy. P. A. Horton of Hollywood American Legion Post gave a most interesting and instructive talk on the fourteen flags which influenced the design of the Flag of the United States of America. As Horton related a brief history of each flag a Parlor officer, gowned in white, appeared with a copy of the flag that he was discussing. The impressive program was followed by refreshments.

The homeless children sewing club of the Parlor was delightfully entertained November 8 at the North Hollywood home of Margaret Carter. Thirty-five enjoyed supper and then worked on baby garments. The assisting committee included Evelyn Arlen, Vera Bodycott, Laura Davis, Evelyn Howell, Ida Lugo, Lydia Mitchell and Juanita Porter.

December 4, Los Angeles will elect officers and initiate several candidates. December 18 the annual Christmas party will be held. The officers will be in charge, with First Vice-president Elsie Amidon as chairman. Twenty-five-cent gifts will be exchanged. Members and friends of the Parlor are invited to join the bicycling, bowling and swimming groups.—E.V.S.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W. observed its fifty-sixth institution anniversary and the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Past Grand President and Mrs. John T. Newell at a dinner-dance November 13. President Robert M. Pesqueria congratulated the couple and, on the Parlor's behalf, presented remembrances to them. Arrangements for the happy occasion were made by George C. Walker.

In conjunction with La Reina Parlor No. 267 N.D.G.W., the Parlor had a theater party November 20. Los Angeles was officially visited November 22 by Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards, who urged an increase in membership. A tamale supper followed the meeting.

December 13, Los Angeles will have a get-together meeting, with amusements and refreshments. The annual Christmas tree party, to which several less-fortunate children will be invited, is billed for December 20. "Santa Claus" Owen S. Adams is busy making the arrangements. December 27 the Parlor will have initiation.

COOKED FOOD SALE.

The Armistice Day luncheon of Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. was held November 12. The Americanism committee planned the program, with Mrs. Ethel Hearst chairman of the day. Mrs. Charles W. Decker, past national chaplain American Legion Auxiliary, offered the invocation, and the president, Mrs. Alphonse B. Fages, introduced the chairman and Deputy Grand President Lydia Ross of Santa Barbara. Dr. Charles W. Decker, past commander Allerey base hospital in France, introduced the speaker, Judge Clarence Kincaid, past state commander American Legion and Hollywood Post, who gave an inspirational address on "America Today and Tomorrow." He urged people to appreciate their liberty, as there are now 100,000,000 citizens of countries across the sea who have lost it. Miss Marion Shumway rendered several appropriate poems in a pleasing manner.

At the business meeting after the luncheon, Chairman Margaret Harris reported a very pleasant session of the Gertrude Sewing Circle at the Sherman Oaks home of President Fages, and fourteen children's dresses were received from Miss Louisa Wildasin. Following the November 26 meeting Thanksgiving tea was served by Mrs. Earl Osborn and the hospitality committee.

Californiana will have but one meeting during December, the 10th, at the Osborn home, 2458 Chiselhurst drive. The meeting will be followed by luncheon and a party under the auspices of the philanthropy committee, with Mms. Charles Jacobson and Isabella Granz in charge. Cooked food of all kinds will be on sale. Mem-

ANNUAL LOBSTER FEED.
Santa Monica—Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 N.S.G.W. was officially visited November 26 by Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards, and a class initiation was held in his honor. A turkey dinner followed the meeting. Past Grand President Eldred L. Meyer was the master of ceremonies and there were several enthusiastic addresses.
December 3, Santa Monica Bay will have its fourteenth annual lobster feed—the event that has made the Parlor famous throughout the southland, and attracts an immense crowd. Service from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Following the feast there will be entertainment and a general good time. "Renew old friendships and make new ones," says President Lee Winters in extending an invitation to all Native Sons.

SIX INITIATED.
Long Beach—The annual fall banquet of Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. was a happy, successful affair. Honored guests were Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, Supervising Deputy Evelyn Wilson and Deputy Harriette Weeks. Other guests were six candidates who were initiated at an impressive candlelight ceremony at the regular meeting after the banquet.
President Neil Cooke appointed the past presidents of the Parlor as a committee for the Christmas party, December 19; Mrs. Kate McFadyen, "mother" of the Parlor, and Mrs. Johanna Reed are the co-chairmen. Officers for the January-July term will be elected December 5.—E.S.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY.
Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. was officially visited November 15 by Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards, who outlined the Order's projects and told of the great pleasure he had received from his year of service as a grand officer. Supervising Deputy Roy W. Tarleton was also a visitor. November 8 the members of the Parlor were inspired by an address by Judge Frank G. Tyrrell.
December 6, Ramona will elect officers, and December 13 initiation will be held; refreshments will be served on both occasions. December 20 the Parlor will have its annual Christmas party for members and their families and the neighbors' children. Santa Claus will be on hand with toys, entertainment will be provided, and ice cream and cake will be served.

IN INEXPENSIVE CHRISTMAS GIFT that will be enjoyed throughout the year is THE GRIZZLY BEAR. Sent anywhere in the United States for $1.50; lower rate for clubs of five or more. Remember your friends with a year's subscription for 1941.

GALA JAMBOREE.
East Los Angeles Parlor No. 266 N.D.G.W. had a benefit card party at the Montebello home of Sadie Smith and Gertrude Tisley, October 28. Hearts were played, and refreshments were enjoyed. Many of these benefit parties are planned, and there will be a surprise on each occasion.
Hallowe'en witches and spooks were re-sorted the evening of October 31 from the streets of East Los Angeles to Garfield High School, where a gala jamboree was held under the sponsorship of the Greater East Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Over 3,000 men, women and children attended. With the Native Daughters in charge, there was a public dance on the school's tennis courts. Mildred Banning, Sadie Smith, Hortense Hill, Pauline Pappas, Lorraine Selby and Melissa Wright were hostesses for the evening.—M.W.

ANNUAL BAZAR GREAT SUCCESS.
Glendale—Old trunks in attics and basements must have been raided for the October 22 costume party of Verdugo Parlor No. 240 N.D.G.W. that created much laughter and was greatly enjoyed by the many in attendance. Ethyl Kern took a birthday gift to the Parlor's veteran at San Fernando Hospital October 27. President Mary Miller was the October 29 card party hostess.
Verdugo's annual bazar and turkey dinner November 12 was a great success. Supervising Deputy Evelyn Wilson and Deputy Ann Schiebusch were there. Alfonse Fages, accompanied at the piano by Elsie Bledsoe, entertained with vocal solos. Among the many assisting Chairman Florence Cook of the ways and means committee, in charge of the project, were Martha Hawkenon, Geraldine Leonetti, Harriett Weeks, (More on Page 13)

IF SANTA CLAWS YOUR POCKETBOOK
You've probably found out that Christmas is a time of extra heavy expenses. There are two ways to take care of such a situation: The best way is to save in advance and have the money ready when you need it; the next best is to get a California Bank Installment Loan, which enables you to consolidate and pay off small debts. You repay in easy, monthly installments over a year's time. If you find year-end expenses burdensome; or if you have a cash reserve but don't wish to disturb it, ask about the Installment Loan plan at any convenient neighborhood office of California Bank, the bank to see for installment Loans.

Society's celebration of San Jose's one hundred and sixty third birthday November 29. The annual card party of the San Jose Parlor for the benefit of the homeless children will be held December 6.
Salinas—A dinner preceded the official visit of Grand President Hazel B. Hansen to Albi No. 102, October 23. Halloween decorations predominated, both at the dinner and in the lodge room. Three candidates were initiated, and a gift was presented the Grand President. The presentation was in keeping with the Halloween spirit, and those participating were Adela Bettencourt, Evelyn Schiro, Bertha Elliot, Claire Lanini, Jemima Davies and Grand Marshal Rose Rhyner. Past Grand Bertha A. Briggs, Deputy Mary Grunngale and Florence Dodson-Schone-man of San Pedro were visitors also. Members of Albi enjoyed a potluck supper and costume party November 14. Mildred Anderson, whose costume came from Locarno, Switzerland, received first prize.—R.R.

"In cowardly fashion one may step out the back door of this life by suicide, but he cannot thus escape life; in hell he will lift up his eyes forever, a being in torments. WITHIN OUR POWER TO REDUCE DREAD TUBERCULOSIS

(MONA GARDNER.)

THERE THE LITTLE CHRISTMAS SEAL is—a square of paper you can cover with your thumb. It is about as insignificant as a diamond would be. It glitters and shines, and then goes on to tell the world of better things than vanity—that instead of decorating yourself, you are willing to decorate others with the precious thing called health.

You might call the Seal a personal medal, in a way. Only instead of putting it in a bureau drawer, you have the fun of showing it to Aunt Kate, to Cousins Jill and Will in far-off states. And to all those scattered friends you only write to at Christmas time. You can stick it on a letter with gusto, for this medal tells everyone you are a person who wants the next generation and the one after that to be healthy.

It's a fine thing to buy power for a dollar or two. Certainly it's a lot more than we usually get for a dollar these days. Perhaps that's what makes buying the Seals so satisfactory. With all the abstract and particular fights we have to let others carry on for us, this is one fight where we can get in and finish up the thing ourselves.

In our own grasp we have the power to reduce tuberculosis to just an archaic word in an encyclopedia. Or we can go on letting it kill more girls and women between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease.

Let us examine this power, for it is actual and demonstrative.

A postal clerk in Copenhagen first thought of the Christmas Seal idea in 1904. He thought penny stickers put on letters and packages would raise enough money to build a new hospital for children. He was right. Enough pennies poured in from that one sale to put up a fine hospital and to buy health for many children.

Three years later a Delaware woman, Emily P. Bissell, tried it in the United States. She hoped to get $300 so that a small hospital which housed tuberculous children might remain open. The 300 Seals gave out in the middle of the sale; more were printed; and a third batch. By Christmas Eve, the sale's total was $3,000.

There is the accumulative power produced when more than five million people put dollars into the fight against TB.

And how is this power used?

Well, looking back at the 36 years of activities of the National Tuberculosis Association and its nearly 2,000 state, county and city associations throughout the country, we find that these funds have promoted the establishment of the following:

732 institutions—sanatoria and hospitals having tuberculosis departments, providing 90,000 beds for the treatment and prevention of tuberculosis, chiefly for adults. 10,000 public health nurses engaged in tuberculosis work alone. 1,000 clinics holding more than 100,000 sessions annually for diagnosing and finding tuberculosis. 1,679 tuberculosis associations and 842 smaller committees, a statewide organization in every state, and local agencies in all the larger population centers.

This dogged, combined attack has tuberculosis pretty well on the decline. Certainly this is not the year to skip buying the little personal medals. We must buy at least another dollar's worth of power to give the disease the final

Christmas Greetings

"Officers and Members of Subordinate Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West—Dear Sisters:

"MERRY CHRISTMAS!! 'Joy to the world,' the wonderful message of old, re-echoes through the ages, bringing tidings of 'Peace on earth, good will toward men.'

"We remember only the smiles and happiness of other Christmas Days as we make room in our hearts for this joyous message, bringing us courage to face the problems of life with hope and faith in the future.

"In the spirit of this Christmas Day I send to each of you and your loved ones my heartfelt greetings and wishes for a continuance of that friendship so needful for close co-operation and successful furtherance of the great work of our beloved Order. More than ever, in these troubled days for our country and people, is it necessary for us to draw closer the bonds of friendship and faith which have carried us so far in the achievement of our aims and objects.

"So, on this Holy Christmas Day, let each of us lift our heart in thanks to Him for His guidance and protection, and ask continuance of His love, that we may, through Him, find the strength and faith to carry on the principles of our Order.

"Native Daughters of the Golden West, may the Christmas spirit enter into your home and bring to you joy and happiness—'Peace on earth, good will toward men.' Sincerely and fraternally,

"HAZEL B. HANSEN,

SPECIALIST TELLS HOW TO ROAST TURKEY THE MODERN WAY.

A moderate oven, a shallow, uncovered pan, and a rack are the only properties needed for success in roasting young turkey the modern way, says Lucy Alexander, poultry cooking specialist of the Federal Bureau of Home Economics.

An uncovered pan is advised, because then any steam that is formed in cooking is not closed in the roaster to draw the juices. A rack is needed to keep the bird from sticking and to allow the hot air to circulate under the turkey, and cook it evenly.

A shallow pan works best because in it the air circulates under the bird more rapidly than in a deep pan. To keep the meat juicy, do not add water in cooking to form extra steam. Keep the oven temperature moderate all through the roasting so the turkey will be tender and evenly cooked when done.

ALAMEDA COUNTY DISTRICT MEETING

(MARGIE WILSH)

Oakland (Alameda County)—The district meeting of Alameda County Native Daughters and Native Sons of the Golden West, honoring and Presidents Hazel B. Hansen and Henry S. Lyon, was held October 26. The stately, cathedral-like Madison Street Temple, with its rich red-velvet draperies, presented a lovely setting for the N.D.G.W. deputy grand presidents, who were gown in white formal. Their escort marches were beautifully arranged and most impressive.

Grand President Hansen, a perfect picture in formal black velvet and carrying an autumn bouquet of gold and bronze chrysanthemums, and President Lyon, Mayor William J. McCracken, and Supervising District Deputy Grand Presidents Esther Ragon and Louis J. Zimmerman were escorted to seats of honor. Acting marshals were Mrs. Isabel Martin, Bahia Vista Parlor No. 167; Miss Roumilda Rose, Betsy Ross Parlor No. 238; William H. Dombrink, Fruitvale Parlor No. 252. Mrs. Carol King, Piedmont Parlor No. 87, was the organist.

Greetings were extended by Supervising Deputy Ragon, who was in charge of the meeting; to colors were presented by the Green Patrol Argonaut Parlor No. 166 and Albany Parlor No. 206; Grand Marshal Rose Rhyner led the first salute and pledge; Miss Gladys Keller, El Cerezo Parlor No. 207, sang the national anthem; Rev. Victor G. Bucher, O.F.M., Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116, gave an invocation; Mayor McCracken welcomed the many visitors, and The Melodours, a trio of talented young men from Richmond High School, entertained throughout the evening with vocal selections.

Speakers, and their subjects, included: "Native Daughters of the Golden West," Grand President Hansen; "Native Sons of the Golden West," Grand President Lyon; "Homeless Children," Past Grand President Sue J. Irwin; "Native Sons of Alameda County," Grand First Vice-President Edward T. Schnarr; "Native Daughters of Alameda County," Grand Secretary Sallie J. Thaler. Grand Trustee Marion E. White spoke on "The Junior Native Daughters," and introduced the "Cubs" of Argonaut Parlor No. 166. The Juniors, in dainty green and white dresses, formed a five-point star and, in keeping with the theme of the evening, "Americanism," sang "I Am an American." Their president, Mrs. Mildred Furrer, greeted Grand President Hansen and presented to her a bouquet of red, white and blue flowers.

Many present and past grand officers of both orders, and representatives of several fraternal, civic and veteran organizations were in attendance. At the meeting's close light refreshments were served. Assisting in the planning of the district meeting were the following deputy grand presidents of Alameda County: Native Daughters—Mrs. Louise Benedetti, Fruitvale Parlor No. 177; Mrs. Dora Brayton, Bahia Vista Parlor No. 167; Mrs. Kathleen H. Dombrink, Piedmont Parlor No. 87; Mrs. Mae Fields, Brooklyn Parlor No. 157; Mrs. Viola Garms, Hayward Parlor No. 122; Mrs. Josephine Lauricella, Argonaut Parlor No. 166; Mrs. Anna Lewis, El Cerezo Parlor No. 207; Mrs. Isabel Martin, Bahia Vista Parlor No. 167; Mrs. Catherine Plumb, Laura Lima Parlor No. 182; Mrs. Myrtle Ransom, Zebra Parlor No. 106; Mrs. Minerva Reese, Berkeley Parlor No. 150; Mrs. Thelma Rogers, Zebra Parlor No. 106; Miss Roumilda Rose, Betsy Ross Parlor No. 238; Mrs. Mae Rutan, Zebra Parlor No. 260; Mrs. Marie Silva, Fruitvale Parlor No. 177; Miss Minnie Souza, Hayward Parlor No. 122; Mrs. Edna Williams, Secola Parlor No. 272; Mrs. Helen Withrow, Piedmont Parlor No. 87. Native Sons—Lloyd Alexander, Eden Parlor No. 113; Raymond P. Burke, Claremont Parlor No. 240; William H. Dombrink, Fruitvale Parlor No. 252; Harold B. Freley, Athens Parlor No. 195; Judge Allen G. Harris, Washington Parlor No. 169; Maury Peterson, Oakland Parlor No. 50; John S. Pricco, Piedmont Parlor No. 120; Ernest Ranft, Berkeley Parlor No. 210; T. Burke Woodward, Claremont Parlor No. 240.

GRIZZLY GROWLS

NOTE: Expressions of opinion in these "Growls" are, unless indicated otherwise, those of the Managing Editor.

Clarence M. Hunt

In a prayer for peace, Pope Pius XIII pleaded for an end to "the whirlwinds of war that in the light of day or in the dark of night scatter terror, fire, destruction and slaughter on humble folk."

"May justice and charity on one side and on the other be in perfect balance," he said, "so that all injustice be repaired, the reign of right restored, all rancor and discord be banished from men's minds. . . ."

"Peace among men which Thou desirest is dead. Bring it back to life, oh divine conqueror of death. Through Thee at last may the land and sea be calmed."

Addressing a teachers institute at Sacramento, Dr. Paul S. Smith of Whittier College charged that schoolteachers have spent too much time "debunking the heroes of American history," and the result has been the "setting up in the minds of thousands of youths a disrespect for the past."

"Our students," he said, "have spent years of school life in the rarefied atmosphere of objective history and have been fed stones when they needed bread."

From testimony adduced at a committee hearing, it appears the State Fish and Game Commission's patrol boats, operated at the expense of the taxpayers of California, are also frequently used for the joy-riding pleasure of a few cheap politicians high up in State Government circles and their families. Another reason why the cost of government is so excessively high.

Admiral Harry E. Yarnell says the United States "should declare an embargo on every sort of war material to Japan." That should have

BOOK REVIEWS

"FROM COWHIDES TO GOLDEN FLEECE." By Reuben L. Underhill; Stanford University Press, Publishers, Stanford University; Price, $3.50.

This historically valuable book is a narrative of California, 1832-1858, based upon unpublished correspondence of Thomas Oliver Larkin, trader, developer, promoter, and California's only United States Consul, who came to California in 1832 and located at Monterey. Says Dr. Herbert Ingram Priestley, librarian of the Bancroft Library, University of California, in the foreword:

"It would be superfluous to tell the reader . . . what he is going to find in the book. But it may at least be said that there is something stereoscopic in the vividness with which its author, by judicious choice of letters and interpolated comment, revives the essence and spirit of a past that has in many other hands become legendary and distorted. Larkin was a very real person living in a highly practical but colorful world. Mr. Underhill has striven for three ends in his writing: adherence to historical 'fact' as it may be found, human interest in both narrative and portrayal, and proper but not undue emphasis upon the man he studies. . . . Here walks in his proper ambient again the vitalized Larkin."

"GARDEN OF THE SUN." By Wallace Smith; Lymanhouse, Los Angeles, Publishers; Price, $3.50.

This is a history of the great San Joaquin Valley from 1772—the date of the arrival of Pedro Fages, the first man of any race or color to make a written report of the interior valley,—to 1939. Says the author:

"The San Joaquin Valley has been the scene of many heroic episodes and stirring deeds. No section of a similar area in the United States can show a greater variety of happenings. The men and the women who have made possible the horticultural paradise known to its residents as the Garden of the Sun are worth remembering."

Author Smith, instructor in history at the Reedley Junior College since 1933, wrote the "Garden of the Sun" at the suggestion of Dr. Herbert Eugene Bolton, famed historian. It is claimed to be the only complete history of the San Joaquin Valley which has ever been written.

been done long ago, when Japan began its "holy war" against peaceful and unoffending China.

In a Thanksgiving Day address at Mexico City, United States Ambassador Josephus Daniels predicted that in 2040 "there will be not a king or queen or emperor holding power by right of inheritance or life tenure, nor any dictator seizing power by force or holding it by denial of the popular will." Would that the predicted condition prevailed now; then this war-weary world would be at peace.

San Francisco has something new in the way of organizations: the "Accept Ickes Resignation Club." The only obligation is, that each member shall urge President Roosevelt to accept the resignation recently tendered by Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes. Possibly some one will now promote a "Urge Mme. Perkins Resignation Club."

Believe it or not, the little man who wasn't there has been found—in Los Angeles. Benjamin "Bugsy" Siegel by name, indicted for murder and refused liberty on bail pending trial, he was supposed to be confined in the county jail.

But "Bugsy," reputedly wealthy, should worry about little things like indictment and bail! The records disclose that he was out frequently and dined in cafes, and when in was provided special accommodations, and servants from among the other prisoners. Ask "Bugsy" if crime doesn't pay!

Native Sons and Native Daughters Parlors sponsoring affairs of any nature should keep in mind the fact that the Federal Government demands that a tax be paid on all admission fees over twenty cents, unless an exemption be obtained before an event.

An additional 200,000 employees of the Federal Government have, by legislation, been placed under civil service without competitive tests. Political pull gets a place at the public feeding trough; ability and experience count for little.

Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura who, newspapers report, will be Japan's next ambassador to the United States, says "There are few—if any—Japanese who want war with the United States." An old Jap custom is to deceive, so the opposite is, most likely, a fact.

George Washington warned against "excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike for another." Little attention, however, is paid these days to the warnings of the founders of this republic.

"One Uniform Asked for All Guardsmen," headed a news item in a metropolitan daily. Shocking! The Federal Congress should immediately insist that each guardsman be provided a uniform.

Thomas D. Galbraith, a member of the British Purchasing Commission, declared in a Boston address that it "indeed would be a glorious and happy day in the annals of British history should America ever decide" to take up arms against "the totalitarian nations." Glorious and happy for Great Britain, sure, but inglorious and unhappy for the United States.

California's cash deficiency, according to the State Controller, was $71,980,989 October 31—$17,847,765 higher than at the same time last year. And it will go much higher, regardless of increased revenues, unless the State Legislature economy bloc "sits tight."

The dollar-boys are disheartened! They had hoped to have the calendar rearranged so that they would have a longer period of time between Christmas Day and New Year Day in which to dispose of their stocks of liquid merchandise. Perhaps the idea will "go over" next year.

A Tokyo news dispatch says the widow of Hiroshi Salto, "former Japanese ambassador to Washington, is sending a Japanese stone lantern to be placed on the grounds of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis." Could be a guide for Jap bombers!

Chairman Henrietta Toothaker of the Grand Parlor N.D.G.W. Education Committee calls attention to the following, from a leaflet of the National Educational Policies Commission titled "Education and the Defense of American Democracy": "The present generation must rise to the intellectual and moral stature of the men and women who founded the republic."

In Memoriam

DANIEL F. SULLIVAN.

To the Officers and Brothers of Downeyville Parlor No. 92 N.S.G.W.—We, your memorial committee entrusted with the sad duty of arranging resolutions of love and respect to the memory of our late Brother Daniel F. Sullivan, submit the following:

By the call of the Great Ruler of your Universe on August 5, 1940, our beloved brother passed on from the activities of this life to enter the Great Parlor on High, thus transferring his membership with Downeyville Parlor, of which he was a member. He was born in Mount Pleasant, Nevada County, California, on September 24, 1868, and joined this Parlor March 28, 1932, and during these many years he was a loyal and devoted Native Son.

We extend to his sorrowing relatives our sincere sympathy in this time of sorrow, and we ask that a copy of this memorial be sent to them, and that copies also be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine and Mountain Messenger for publication.

Fraternally,
 GENE A. TURNER,
 RAY L. HENKERA,

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY

THE NATIVE SONS OF THE SOUTHLAND will have a group initiation at the Los Angeles headquarters of Ramona Parlor, Friday, February 14. The grand officers, headed by Grand President Henry S. Lyon, will, it is expected, exemplify the ritual, and one of the largest classes ever initiated into the Order is anticipated.

The event is being sponsored by Arrowhead Past Presidents Assembly No. 14, which will award twenty-five dollars to the Parlor presenting the most candidates in excess of five.

To arrange for the group initiation, the Assembly appointed the following committee: John O'B. Bodkin, chairman; Eldred L. Meyer, Dr. Robert L. White, Harry T. Honn, Roy W. Tarleton, Walter H. Odemar, Walter C. Richards, Clarence S. Hunt, Walter E. Hiskey and Dewey Richards. This committee met December 23 at the University Club and mapped a course of action.

Every Parlor in District No. 1 is urged to engage actively in this campaign for new members. There are numberless desirable eligibles in every community, and each member can, if he wills so to do, secure at least one candidate. "Let's all pull together and get somewhere," urges Chairman Bodkin.

CHRISTMAS BASKETS FOR THE NEEDY.

Through benefactions of members and friends, Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. will be able to adopt two babies the first of the year 1941, according to announcement at the philanthropy party December 10 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Osborn, when Mms. Charles Jacobson and Isabella Granz, together with Mrs. Osborn, hosted a large and happy assemblage. People are always happiest when doing something for the less-fortunate. A delicious luncheon was served at noon, and the committee sold out its entire stock of cooked foods and fancy articles. Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish of the music committee presented Louis Kusmiak, talented pianist, in a recital of delightful numbers.

The philanthropy committee filled Christmas baskets for the needy from the proceeds of the party. The Parlor's Christmas party for children of the members and others less-fortunate was held December 27, and pupils of the Peggy Vanne school presented a program of dances. The shining tree held gifts for all the kiddies, and refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Emma Osborn chairman. A silver offering was asked for homeless children work.

Californiana decorated a table at the Yuletide luncheon of the Women's Auxiliary of the Chamber of Commerce, and it won the grand sweepstakes prize. The lovely Christmas decorations were a gift from Mrs. Arthur Holliday, and they were developed artistically by Miss Grace Vejar and Mrs. Harold Palethorpe.

Californiana's first gathering of the new year will be the meeting of the Gertrude Sewing Circle, January 6, at the home of Mrs. John P. Welch, 4120 Degan boulevard. Noon luncheon will be served, Mrs. Marcella Palethorpe (CA 8653) taking reservations. Beginning with the first business session of 1941, January 14, the Parlor will meet the second and fourth Tuesdays at new headquarters, the Women's University Club, 943 South Hoover street. Luncheon will open the meeting.—O.L.

In his honor Herbert Linkletter and his 18-year-old son, Herbert Allen Linkletter, were initiated. The Grand Trustee delivered an inspiring address, in the course of which he urged the building up of the Order. Walter E. Hiskey was also a visitor and speaker. Following the meeting refreshments were served and cards were enjoyed.

December 17 the Parlor and Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. presented a California State (Bear) Flag to the Long Beach City Council. Municipal Judge Percy Hight made the presentation address, and Mrs. Fred Campbell spoke briefly for the Native Daughters. Mayor Frances H. Gentry, a member of No. 278, accepted the flag on behalf of the Council, and brief addresses were made by Councilmen Carl Fletcher and Martin L. Moxley, also members of the Parlor.

In the near-future Long Beach N.S.G.W. will have a flag raising ceremony featuring the two State Flags that float from the dome of the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium. Manager John M. Johnston is in charge of arrangements.

PAST PRESIDENTS TO HAVE INNING.
University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. was officially visited December 5 by Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards, and in his honor ten candidates were initiated, the ritual being impressively exemplified by a team with Wm. J. Quast as president. Among the many in attendance were representatives from all neighboring Parlors. Grand Trustee Richards complimented the Parlor on its splendid membership gain, and urged the initiates to take an active interest in University and the Order. Other speakers were Past Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Grand Trustee Judge Ben Harrison, Supervising District Deputy Roy W. Tarleton, Councilman Earl C. Gay, Deputy Grand Presidents Clarence M. Hunt and Bernard J. Hiss, and Past Governor General Walter E. Hiskey of the Past Presidents Association. Refreshments concluded a very pleasant evening.

Interesting educational and social meetings have been arranged by University for the new term, which begins January 9, when officers-elect, with Owen Barnes retained as president, will be installed by District Deputy O. Benton Worley. Carl Martin, chairman of membership, promises a big class of candidates for the February 14 group initiation. Walter Wells will lead the boys to his old Chinatown haunts for the monthly stag dinner January 16. The past presidents will have an inning January 23, and each of the twelve will at that time receive a diamond emblematic pin from the Parlor. University is not overlooking the womenfolks, and a January 30 theater party is being arranged for them. — W.W.W.

BUSY SEASON PLANNED.
President Dorothy Camy of East Los Angeles Parlor No. 266 N.D.G.W. entertained at a card party at her Alhambra home. This was the third in a series of parties being given to raise funds for Parlor activities. Many surprises were introduced, and refreshments brought the enjoyable occasion to a close. Vida Wells, Lee Armstrong, Buelah Wells and Melissa Wright sponsored a largely attended card party. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the exciting evening.

East Los Angeles initiated four candidates November 27, the ceremony being directed by Deputy Eugenia Smith. During the evening a surprise shower was given Marshal Tessie Solinger Wooster, and she was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The Parlor has planned a busy winter season under the energetic leadership of President Camy.

CONGRESSMAN PRESENTED STATE FLAG.
In recognition of his service to California in the Federal Congress, Hollywood Parlor No. 196 and University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. presented to Congressman John M. Costello a California State (Bear) Flag December 17. Walter F. Wells presided.

Past Grand President Eldred L. Meyer made the presentation address and said the bear on the flag typifies the fighting spirit of the Congressman. In accepting the flag Congressman Costello, a member of Hollywood Parlor, said "I'm going to take this back to my Washington offices, for I want people back there to know something about the glorious heritage of this state."

Brief remarks were made by Sheriff Eugene W. Biscalluz, Postmaster Mary D. Briggs, John O'B. Bodkin, Ann T. Schiebusch, Bernard G. Hiss, Assistant Postmaster Riley, Mary Noerenberg and Maynard Garrison.

WHITE ELEPHANT PARTY.
The annual Christmas party of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. was enjoyed by some hundred members December 18. The hall was beautifully decorated with colorful wreaths and huge baskets of shrubs. At the president's station stood a white Christmas tree decorated with red and silver ornaments. Elsie Amidon, chairman of the evening, was a picture of the Christmas spirit, gowned in bright red and wearing a gold bracelet of bells. The program opened with the officers of the Parlor entering, carrying lighted candles and singing "Adeste Fideles." Later, members and of San Jose No. 22, departed this life November 23. He was born at San Jose, May 5, 1857, and was affiliated with the Order forty-six years. Although he had taken a leading part in public life, having held both the offices of Chief of Police and Chief of the Fire Department in this city, he nevertheless was active in the Order and never lost an opportunity to urge young Californians to join.

Deceased ever sought to give all possible preference in civic employment to Californians by birth or by longtime residence, and but recently persuaded the City Civil Service Commission to adopt a rule requiring a minimum of five years' residence for all applicants for municipal positions.

A past president of San Jose, oldtimers in the Order will remember him as several times a delegate to the Grand Parlor, and always active on the committee of arrangements whenever an Admission Day celebration was held in the Garden City. The funeral committee of the Parlor officiated at his burial, and Grand Treasurer John A. Corotto represented the Grand Parlor.

A TREE IN JANUARY

(ISLA PASCHAL RICHARDSON.)

She crouches, arms outstretched, a supplicant, Whose bony fingers, shivering with cold, Creak as they beat against the ruthless wind In helpless protest, quivering and old.

Then quietly one night soft, silent flakes Clothe her in glistening white . . . she stands serene,

And suddenly transformed, draws close her cloak Of regal ermine, stately as a queen.

December 12. A program of hilarious stunts was presented by various groups. During the evening a letter of thanks for the final payment on the Parlor's adopted twins, Harry and Harriett, was received from Secretary Mary E. Bruse of the Central Homeless Children Committee. Those in charge of the good-fellowship affair were Elnore Hayenza, Emma Huff, Laura Schwein, Irene Henry and Laura Anderson.

December 14. Annie K. Bidwell had its annual children's Christmas party. Decorated Christmas trees, holly and ornaments added to the beauty of the rooms of Native Daughters Hall. The little guests played games and presented a delightful program. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus (Olive Pearl and Royce Hall) were there, danced with the children and entertained them with stories. A delicious chicken luncheon ended a delightful evening, arranged by June Wright, general chairman, Violet Myers, Florence Handely, Mable Marshall, Isla Cole, Ivy Hoar, Mable Carper, Myrtle McLarras, Kathleen Campbell and Mable Estes.

December 26 the Parlor featured an educational program, with Eleanor Carlson as chairman. Talks on a nationwide trip, illustrated by colored movies, were given by Helen Pearl, Glenda Carpenter and Geneve Trumbly. Every month the Parlor puts on a fifteen-minute radio program. That of December 28 included a talk by Ivy Hoar on 'The Exploration and Discovery of Humboldt Bay,' and Christmas music arranged by Eleanor Carlson. December 6 members of the Parlor had a potluck dinner, after which they sewed for the British relief.—O.H.P.

A Superior Article for Sale.

Sacramento—Genevieve H. Didion, chairman Grand Parlor Extension of the Order Committee, sent the following letter to the Subordinate Parlors December 10:

"With our motto 'Success Never Comes on the Wings of Doubt' and the slogan 'Increased Membership,' we launch our campaign for new members. It should not be a difficult matter to interest native-born Californians in our Order. If we do not interest them, do you know what is lacking? 'Salesmanship!'"

"We should sell our Order to California-born young women, and in order to be a successful salesman, you have to promote your goods. Well, in 'Native Daughterism' it is a very easy matter to sell the article, for we have a superior article for sale.

"With aims and objects such as this Order promotes, any native-born California woman should feel privileged to be invited to join our ranks. You know the old adage 'You are just as fine as you make yourself,' and in order to make yourself fine, you have to ACHIEVE. Therefore, our Order should be the leading organization in membership in this glorious State of ours.

"In many instances when women are approached to join our organization, the excuse is 'Oh, I would just love to, but I do not go out evenings.' Now, here is your opportunity to exemplify your 'salesmanship' by the institution of a 'daylight parlor.' Of course, in selecting your customers be sure they are of the type our Order would be proud to have as members."

Meeting Hall Acquired.

Standish—Nataqua No. 152 initiated four candidates December 4. As the result of a series of three card parties, a generous donation has been sent the Central Homeless Children Committee. The Parlor sent a Christmas remembrance to the Livermore Veterans Hospital, and in addition it has adopted a "buddy," to whom a Christmas box was sent.

Nataqua has acquired a meetinghall of its own, and the annual Christmas tree party was held there December 18. Small gifts were presented the members, and there was a kitchen shower for the hall. Arrangements for the occasion were made by Clara French, Dorothy Capezzoli and Mayda Elledge.

arranged by Angelita No. 32 N.D. was followed by the distribution of gifts.

Martinez Mount Diablo No. 101 and Las Juntas No. 221 N.D. sent to the Central Homeless Children's Agency December 16 a check for $266.29. The sum represents the proceeds of the Parlor's annual benefit card party for the kiddies.

No applications, no new members to fill the ranks. And California needs more Native Sons! Today's responsibility of every member of the Order is to contact Angles. Don't leave this important duty for "George" to perform.

San Bernardino — Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards paid an official visit to Arrowhead No. 110 December 11, and there was a large attendance. Supper preceded the meeting, and L. Newton Small gave an interesting talk on "Fear." Other speakers were Supervising Deputy Roy W. Tarleton and District Deputy Julian Lecrevain. Arrowhead Past Presidents Assembly No. 14 will meet January 16 at Fontana. Guy Hale and Bob Brazelton are in charge of arrangements.

Bieber—Big Valley No. 211 had its thirtieth annual dance, and it was a complete success. The proceeds, representing about one dollar per member, were sent the Central Homeless Children's Committee.

Santa Ana—Walter E. Hiskey of Santa Ana No. 265 and wife entertained at their home December 12 those members of Arrowhead Past Presidents Assembly No. 14—and their wives—who constituted the committees that arranged for the meeting of the General Assembly Past Presidents Association at Crestline in October. Hiskey, the then Governor General of the Association, presided at that session and is now the Junior Past Governor General. A feature of the delightful occasion was a broiled steak dinner. In appreciation for their often-extended hospitality, the past presidents in attendance presented a remembrance to Mrs. and Mr. Hiskey, Jerome B. Kavanaugh making the presentation address.

Dishonesty—simply that, and nothing more, —is responsible for the ills afflicting and distressing the whole world, these United States included. Until and unless honesty reigns, there is no hope of a permanent betterment of conditions.

The present war for domination in Europe is the product of dishonesty and, because of the government's dishonest neutrality policy, the United States is helping to prolong the conflict.

There is every reason to believe history is to repeat itself and that, contrary to pre-election assurances, the United States is to be forced into the power-war now raging in Europe as an active belligerent on the side of England. The people of this nation are to be compelled by the national administration to again go to the financial rescue of the British, and that will, as in the World War, be followed by the dispatch of American manpower.

United States Senator Bennett Champ Clark declares that if the United States "is to be called upon to underwrite British war expenditures," the costs should be provided by "a special tax to be known as 'The King's royal tax for the support of the British Empire.' This tax should be collected semi-annually—June 15, which is the anniversary of the British default on the present war debt, and December 16, the anniversary of the Boston Tea Party."

Declaring the best thing for America and Americans is to keep out of war, William Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of the Roman Catholic Church, in Boston interview denounced "propagandists for war" and scored those who would have the United States "become a sort of tail-end of a foreign empire."

"It's hard for me," he said, "to understand why some of these propagandists are allowed to cry down the normal wish of the American people for peace. What is their purpose? They cannot be real Americans, because real Americans think of their own country first."

John T. Flynn, author and economist, says William Allen White, king of the "Committee to defend America by Aiding the Allies," is "the perfect type of anglophile—the American who worships the very name of England, worships its empire, its power and its might." This country has an over-abundance of that class of citizen, both in and out of government, and their plotting to take the United States into an actual declaration of war to help England will be successful unless the masses assert their opposition to such a course.

Because he was giving the California taxpayers a break, and ridding the SRA of politics, Sydney J. Rubinow was dismissed as state relief administrator. Nuff ced, if you are acquainted with the state mis-government.

Undoubtedly having in mind the deceitfulness and the treachery of the Japs, Joseph C. Grew, United States Ambassador to Japan, told them in Tokyo that this country must consider "not alone expressed intentions, but facts and actions, too, regardless of the persuasive garb in which they may be dressed."

The same bunch of dollar-worshipping humans that promoted the World War are, believe it or not, promoting the wars now in progress.

The Federal Government payroll has reached an all-time high. To keep the political pot purring, expansion of the feeding-trough is necessary, regardless of the mounting public debt.

The Divorce Reform League says married men are running out in droves. That's mainly because married women by the thousands are routing them from the business world.

Jesse Jones, prominent in the councils of government at Washington, D. C., being secretary of commerce and federal loan administrator, says England is "a good risk" for loans. Equivalent to contending that, if one would be classed as a top financial risk, he must refuse to pay his just obligations. John Bull, don't forget, has long refused to repay a single dollar of the billions borrowed from Uncle Sam—"Uncle Shylock" to the Britishers—during the World War.

The nobility slush appearing in the daily press of this nation in ever-increasing quantities is nauseating.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1940, the taxpayers of California had to produce $289,823,242 to pay the cost of operating the State Government. That was $10,538,000 more than the previous year's cost. And the cost will increase year by year unless the taxpayers unite and force dishonesty, incompetency and bureaucracy out of government.

Agents of Japan in the Territory of Hawaii are, according to the Sino-Korean Peoples League, registering all Jap males, including American citizens of Jap ancestry, for service in the Japanese army and navy.

Kilso K. Haan says that "is a hostile and unfriendly act toward the United States," and certainly is an unanswerable argument against statehood for Hawaii.

Editor Verne Marshall of the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette, is promoting the "No Foreign Wars Committee," in opposition to the "Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies"—appropriately referred to by Rev. Dr. John O'Brien of Notre Dame University as the "murder committee."

"Eighty-three percent of the population against participation in the European war," said Editor Marshall. "The No Foreign War Committee is fighting only to keep America out of another chapter of a conflict born and bred individual and government ambitions on which altars humanity is sacrificed."

SAN FRANCISCO

THE NINETY-THIRD ANNIVERSARY of the discovery of gold at Coloma, El Dorado County, by James W. Marshall, was celebrated January 24 at a banquet in the Grizzly Bear Clubrooms, Native Sons Building, attended by some two hundred members of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, state, city and county officials.

Past Grand President Lewis F. Byington, who for nearly forty years has headed the movement in San Francisco to celebrate this notable event in the history of California, was the toastmaster, and delivered one of the very fine addresses for which he is noted.

Grand President Henry S. Lyon gave a splendid talk on the history of the discovery of gold, and related several anecdotes of Marshall's career. Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, a native of Amador County, recounted earlyday events along the Mother Lode. Past Grand President Joseph R. Knowland said a movement was on foot to build at the gold discovery site a replica of the mill Marshall was constructing when he found the first nugget. Associate Supreme Court Justice Jesse W. Deasy told of conditions in California from the gold rush days to date.

THE LIVING DEAD

(BETTY L. WHITSELL)

Dead trees that stand on mountain sides
Burned black by forest fires,
Are like unto some lonely souls
Who live without desires.
Each drooping with the past that's dead,
Let only memories live,
And somber with old yesterdays
Find nothing good to give.

BUSY DAYS ARE AHEAD FOR THE Native Daughters in southern California, winding up final preparations for the civic luncheon, honoring Grand President Hazel B. Hansen, to be held February 15, 12:30 o'clock, at the Biltmore Hotel. Grand officers of both the Orders of Native Daughters and Native Sons of the Golden West, deputy grand presidents and Grand Parlor committee members will serve as hostesses and hosts for the day. A galaxy of prominent people from civic, social and cultural circles will make up the guest list. Parlors will invite the public officials and outstanding citizens of their communities.

Civics and publicity being so closely allied, it is the wish of Grand President Hansen that each Native Daughter Parlor decorate its tables according to the projects of that Order. Already keen competition is being shown by Parlors that have selected the following projects: Los Angeles, homeless children; Long Beach, veterans welfare; Ontario, pioneers; Rudecinda, San Pedro, relics; Verdugo, Glendale, americanism; Californiana, Los Angeles, history and landmarks; La Reina, Los Angeles, young women's activities; East Los Angeles, Native Daughters Home; Lugonia, San Bernardino, devotion to the flag; Compton, scholarships; Santa Ana, education; San Diego, missions.

Mary B. Noerenberg, Grand Parlor chairman of civics, will be the chairman of the day. The program will consist of many interesting features, including a fine musical program being arranged by Mrs. Florence Irish, dancing, and a message from one of California's outstanding educators, Dr. W. Barentine Remy. He is president of the Osteopathic College, and those who have heard him never tire of his inspirational talks.

An invitation to attend this luncheon is extended all members of both Orders and their friends, and it is hoped many will participate in the event. Tickets are $1.00 each. Reservations may be sent to Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, Bank of America, Seventh and Olive, or Mary B. Noerenberg, 1301 Buckingham road, Los Angeles.

"This is an opportunity to show the citizens and other organizations that we, as Native Daughters and Native Sons, are aware of the responsibilities of defending the heritage of this great state," says Chairman Noerenberg.

JOINT INSTALLATIONS

Compton—There was a large attendance at the joint public installation January 1 of officers of Compton Parlor No. 233 N.D.G.W. and Compton Parlor No. 273 N.S.G.W. The hall was attractively decorated with poinsettias and caryanthemums. Mrs. Lucie Adams was chairman of the evening.

Supervising Deputy Evalyn Wilson and District Deputy Clarence S. Hunt, assisted by Rowena Berenstein and District Deputy Dewey Richards as acting marshals, were the installing officials, and Hazel Corbett and Harry Hecock became the respective presidents. On behalf of the Native Daughters a past president ring was presented Eleanor Gunn by Mrs. Adams.

Lucille Laughlin, chairman of the evening, assisted by Beverly Butler and Mat Soares as marshals, conducted the opening ceremonies.

Deputies Harriette Weeks and Dewey Richards, assisted by Mary Stubbs and District Deputy Clarence S. Hunt as acting grand marshals, and Lawrence Ferguson as acting grand organizer, officiated at the installation, and Margaret Burch and Paul Traynor became the respective presidents.

Grand President Hazel B. Hansen, Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards, Supervising Deputies Evalyn Wilson and Roy W. Tarleton, and Mayor Frances Gentry addressed the gathering. On behalf of Long Beach Native Daughters a past president ring was presented Nell Cooke by Eleanor Starr, and on behalf of Long Beach Native Sons a past president pin was presented Fred Walker by Mayor Gentry. Presentations were also made to Presidents Burch and Traynor, and Junior Past Presidents Josephine Reichman and Paul Cooke.

At the conclusion of the installation refreshments were served by a committee that included Minnie Wagner, Lois McDougall, Pearl Corwin, Ethel van Houten and Leaman Judson.

"WHITE FLEPHANTS" CREATE FUN.

The "white elephant" party of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. January 15 was well attended, and the exchange of "elephants" created a lot of fun. Hostesses of the occasion were members of the hospitality committee, with Edna T. Neikirk as chairman. Through the courtesy of Chef Milani jars of fruit were presented twenty-one members of the Parlor for faithful attendance at meetings from July 1 to January 1. At the luncheon January 18 sponsored by the homeless children committee many well-known food products were served. Ellen Wilson and Louise Crawford were the co-chairmen.

Los Angeles' February calendar includes: 2nd, bicycling, Griffith Park. 5th, initiation and refreshments. 8th, sewing club gathering at the home of Rose Hughes and Louise Crawford, 2114 Oak street. 9th, history and landmarks committee pilgrimage to Palomares adobe, Pomona; basket picnic; Kellogg's ranch will be visited in the afternoon. 19th, Washington

WORTHY CAUSE NEEDS SUPPORT

SHROVE TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, IS the date set for the Native Sons and Native Daughters annual dinner-dance for the benefit of the homeless children at the Wilshire Bowl. "This is the third benefit, and the third time is the charm," says Betty Marshall Graydon, chairman of the Southern Counties Committee on Homeless Children. "I am just hoping and praying, and placing my trust in our Natives that they will do all possible to make this an outstanding success."

Ben Harrison, judge of the United States District Court and Grand Trustee of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, will be the master of ceremonies. He asks all Native Sons to attend the benefit and to bring their wives or sweethearts. Tariff, $2.50 per plate.

Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles and the mayors of other nearby cities will proclaim February 25 Homeless Children Day and urge citizens of their communities to support the work of the Native Sons and Native Daughters in their effort to provide homes and foster parents for homeless children. Chairman Graydon has appointed Elsie Amidon of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. and William D. Blaha of Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. as co-chairmen of the dance committee. They promise a big evening of entertainment and hilarity to the music of Phil Harris and his orchestra.

Miss Dorothy Schlingman, assistant secretary of the Central Committee on Homeless Children, handling the work of that committee in the south, reports that recently there has been a noticeable increase in demands made on her to place babies. More money is needed to carry on the work. The annual report of the Central Committee shows that the Natives of southern California provide only one-third of the amount of money expended in the south.

UNIVERSITY PARLOR NEWS.

The officers of University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. were installed January 8 by District Deputy O. Benton Worley, who was assisted by Supervising Deputy Roy W. Tarleton as junior past president, Walter E. Hiskey as marshal and William R. Blaha as organist. Owen Barnes was retained as president. Among the speakers were Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards, Carl Martin and Woodrow Wade.

Setting a new trend in Parlor appreciation, University's twelve past presidents were presented diamond pins, emblematic of their service and loyalty, January 23. Walter Wells was master of ceremonies and he recalled the highlights of each president's term. There was a fifty percent attendance of the Parlor membership. A snappy bit of entertainment was presented and refreshments were served by Harold Shoemaker. Those receiving the pins were Bernard G. Hiss, Maynard P. Garrison, George L. Woods, Clifford J. Bonk, Gerald R. Miller, Arthur A. Honig, Leslie R. Drown, S. Frederick Smith, William J. Quast, Joseph P. Hiss, John E. Mackel and Fred E. Norbury.

University has planned new and varied programs to create and hold the members' interest. Following a 6:45 get-together dinner February 6 an officers' meeting will be held. Chairman Bob Keefer will call on his bag of tricks for an interesting program February 13. Julio Reyes will be master of mirth when he presents members in an amateur show February 20. The big night will be February 27, with Deke Houlgate, nationally known football forecaster, as guest. This will be the last open meeting for some time, so bring up a prospect. "Double the membership in '41!" is the Parlor's slogan.—W.W.W.

"PERSONALITIES OF PADEREWSKI."

The year 1941 opened auspiciously for Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. The new headquarters, the Women's University Club, 943 South Hoover street, are ideal for a meeting place, and many enjoyed the luncheon served there January 14. Miss Grace Vejar, chairman of decorations, arranged for the speakers table an artistic centerpiece featuring Ignace Jan Paderewski, famed pianist and Polish patriot. The speaker of the day, Dr. George Tape of Paso Robles, had as his topic, "The Personalities of Paderewski," and he related many of the interesting traits of his character never before told. Mrs. Florence Irish, Grand Parlor chairman of music, extended greetings and said that music was still playing its noble part among the warring nations of Europe. Mrs. Mary B. Noer-

MORE THAN ONE THOUSAND STUDENTS, representing approximately 100 public and parochial high schools in California, will compete in the fourth annual statewide public speaking contest sponsored by the Grand Parlor. Tryouts will be conducted immediately by individual schools throughout the state, and successful entrants will compete in county finals.

The purpose of the contest is to create widespread knowledge of California's historical background, and toward this end subjects selected by contestants deal directly with events of historical importance.

Since inauguration of the public speaking contest numerous educational institutions throughout the state have given wholehearted support. Semi-final winners of the contest, chosen to represent northern and southern California, will compete for the state championship at the Grand Parlor to be held in May at Lake Tahoe.

Details of the public speaking contest are in charge of the following Grand Parlor committee: Reynald J. Bianchi of San Francisco, chairman, Frank M. Buckley of San Francisco, Leslie Lindsay of Sacramento, John R. Sullivan of San Jose, C. H. Rasmussen of Ferndale, Ellsworth Willard of Placerville and George M. Cuthbertson of Los Angeles.

"Let us keep this thought in mind—that each new day begins a new year. The date on the calendar really does not matter. The earth starts every morning on its journey round the sun as truly as on the first day of January, and each new dawn is, therefore, a fresh opportunity to begin right. It is for us to determine what the year shall be. The demand upon us is not that we succeed, but only that we try. And to try manfully every day and all day long is inevitably to attain in the end a supreme success."

"Heaven and hell are created by our thoughts and are carried around with us."

A SPLENDID RECORD.

Past President Lee Armstrong of East Los Angeles Parlor No. 266 N.D.G.W. was guest of honor January 17 for KFAC. She spoke of the coming Grand Parlor, and of the history and landmarks work of the Order. Among the many in attendance was Grand President Hazel B. Hansen, who gave an inspiring talk about the homeless children. She told how no greater service can be rendered California by the Native Daughters and Native Sons than to place homeless children in homes where they will receive loving care. "It is encouraging," said Mrs. Hansen, "that children we have already placed in private homes have made a splendid record. No child placed by our organizations has ever appeared before a juvenile court on a charge of delinquency."

The winners in the membership drive of East Los Angeles were guests January 22 of the losers at a dinner. Mildred Banning presided and among the speakers was Chairman Betty Marks of the winning team. At the conclusion of the dinner a surprise shower was held in honor of President Dorothy Camy, celebrating the arrival of a new native at her home. Sixteen members of the Parlor were entertained at the home of Esther Molina January 18. Refreshments closed a pleasant evening.—M.W.

NATIVE SONS LUNCHEON CLUB.

The Native Sons Friday Luncheon Club had a surprise visitor January 3—Thos. Thompson of Billings, Montana, a grandnephew of Snowshoe Thompson, pioneer California mailcarrier.

Dr. Charles H. Cunningham, former Native Sons traveling history fellow, was the guest speaker January 17. He was introduced by President George M. Cuthbertson, and gave an enlightening talk on "Social Security Law and Administration."

Henry G. Bodkin, president of the Los Angeles Police Commission, was the January 24 speaker. He urged the Native Sons to take an active interest in government and civic affairs. Fred Witman was chairman of the day.

The club meets every Friday at 12:15 noon in room 1126 of the Rosslyn Hotel, Fifth and Main streets. All Native Sons and their friends are welcome.

Noerenberg, vice-chairman; Mrs. Edna Neikirk and Mrs. Eugenia Smith, secretaries; Miss Flora M. Holy, treasurer.

Native Daughters of the Golden West

TO OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF Subordinate Parlors, Native Daughters of the Golden West—Dear Sisters: George Washington, rightly termed the Father of his Country and who, in the minds of all true Americans, will be as Lincoln said 'First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen.'

"On his birthday, the memory of his great greatness remains fresh in our minds and his glorious spirit marches on, leading and teaching us by his unselfish devotion to the cause he suffered so greatly to build and leave in our hands to carry on to the glory he dreamed of—Liberty, Independence and Peace.

"Abraham Lincoln, whose simple great soul understood the real meaning of those three words 'Liberty, Independence and Peace,' for which so many of his countrymen had laid down their lives, saw rising above his world's horizon a great and terrible danger to the unity of the country Washington had founded. To those three words he added this immortal statement 'United we stand, divided we fail.' In defense of all these things Abraham Lincoln gave his life.

"So today we, the Native Daughters of the Golden West, who are living in and enjoying this country left to us in all its glory of principle and worth by those two blessed men, render homage to their names in this, their birth month—February. Sincerely and fraternally,

"HAZEL B. HANSEN,
"Grand President N.D.G.W.

Nineteenth District Meeting.

Watsonville—The Parlors of Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito Counties held their nineteenth annual district meeting here January 18, with Supervising Deputy Viola Clough in charge of plans and acting as toastmistress. One hundred twenty-six members and guests were at the dinner. Decorations of red, white and blue carried out the patriotic theme, "Our American Way." Battleships, fashioned of loaves of bread and carrying the American Flag, were filled with bright geraniums and roses. Room decorations were huge bowls of calla lilies in the national colors.

A group of El Pajaro No. 35's members in red, white and blue stood at attention while a bugler sounded taps and Grand Marshal Rose Rhynier led in the flag salute. Later the Grand Marshal gave an inspiring talk on "The Stars and Stripes." Past Grand Bertha A. Briggs told of the first district meeting in this area in 1922. Deputies Vira Albaugh and Mary Grunnagle chose "Advancement" and "Unity" as the themes of their respective talks. Presidents of the participating Parlors spoke of the aims of their administrations, and Elmarie Dyke outlined future plans of Junipero No. 141. A pleasing feature of the program was the recital of her own poems by A. Antoinette Deaton, poetess and entertainer, generally known as "Tony."

Past Grand Briggs was the narrator and Julia Larkin rendered fitting musical numbers. Leona Geyer officiated as song leader, and song sheets were adorned with a typical California mining scene.

The hostess group of El Pajaro gave an amusing and clever original skit, "Planning a District Meeting." A lighted birthday cake, decorated with a United States of America Flag, bore nineteen candles, representing the nineteenth district meeting. Past Grand Briggs lighted the tapers and Grand President Hazel B. Hansen cut the cake. The Grand President chose as her topic "Americans All," and strongly stressed the need of tolerance; her talk was listened to with rapt attention.

"Wagon Wheels" Installation Theme.

Chico—Officers of Annie K. Bidwell No. 163 were publicly installed January 9 at impressive ceremonies conducted by Deputy Mae Monroe. The new president, Myrtle McLerren, having chosen as her special project the restoration of the historic Bidwell vehicles given the Parlor, the theme of the evening, "Wagon Wheels," was carried out in the lovely decorations and the spectacular floor work of the escort team. Many gifts were presented, including a past president emblem to Lucy Girdler. Refreshments were served to more than a hundred members and guests. Committees in charge of the successful evening were: refreshments—Flora Detrices, chairman, Eleanor Carlson, Raye Hall, Bessie Nelson, Josephine Alexander; table decorations—Mary Reed, chairman, Alice Bass, Irene Uhl, Nellie Georges; hall decorations—Olive Pearl, Lucy Girdler.

Following a potluck dinner January 16 the sewing circle of the Parlor sewed for British relief; Sisters McLerren and Cole were the hostesses, and Sister Girdler acted as chairman. "Hobo night" was featured January 23, when country cousins were revealed. At the January 24 broadcast of Annie K. Bidwell a play, "Old Fort Ross," was presented by Theodore Meriam, Eleanor Carlson and Ivy Hoar. The Parlor has sent donations to the Greek and the British war relief headquarters.—O.H.P.

"Hobo" Party Scheduled.

Modesto—Mrs. Clara Steele, president Morada No. 199, passed away December 27. The past presidents club met January 6 at the home of Bess Elmore, with Lucy Outland and Kate Gillette as co-hostesses. An evening of fun was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served. Myrtle Sanders, Eleanor Lewis and Geraldine Stutchman will be co-hostesses for the February 3 meeting of the club.

The sewing club of the Parlor met January 16 at the home of Agnes Frost for a potluck luncheon. The homeless children committee is busy with plans for an early March affair that, it is hoped, will raise the quota for this outstanding project.

Officers of Morada, with Emma Dezzani president, were installed January 22 by Deputy Lillian Stammerjohan. The Golden Poppy girl, a junior auxiliary of the Parlor, installed office January 8, Lavelle Leisz becoming president. The unit now numbers thirty-eight. State Chairman Irma Murray was in attendance.

February 12 a public whist sponsored jointly with Modesto No. 11 will be held. Gertrude Schroeder and Grand Trustee Ethel Enos, the chairmen, will be assisted by Mary Blaine, Co. Shirley and Mary Martin. February 26 Morada will have a "hobo" party. A potluck supper will be served, secret pals will be revealed, birthdays of members born in December, January and February will be observed, and a program honoring George Washington and Abraham Lincoln will be presented.—E.C.E.

It is our privilege to represent the Grand Parlor of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, and to pay our tribute to one so greatly admired by our fellow members. Mrs. Watt was a devoted member of Manzanita Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and a true representative of the parlor. Her many years of service to this Parlor endeared her to its members and friends.

Mrs. Alison Watt was the daughter of Pioneers. She was born in Marysville, in 1858, a true pioneer daughter of the Golden West. Most of her life was spent in the state of California. She was one of the first graduates of the state university, and she was a member of the first class of the state university. She gave freely of her talents to her community and friends.

Alison P. Watt served as Grand President of the Native Daughters of the Golden West from June 1914 to June 1915. She presided as Grand President at the Grand Parlor held in Oakland in June, 1914. Many of the projects were discussed and carried out during her term. She was a true representative of the parlor. The proceedings of her year of service contain many original voices that can be classified as literary gems.

Past Grand President Watt was proud of her pioneer heritage and often paid eloquent tributes to the California Pioneers. This is her tribute written for September 9, 1914. This day of days, dearest to the heart of every true Californian, has been honored by our Order as Pioneer Day, the day set apart to revere and honor the illustrious deeds of our loved Pioneers who by their courage and perseverance, made possible to us our great and glorious commonwealth, California.

O, Pioneer of olden time with iron heart and limb, Who journeyed ever assisted, where the trails were new and dim,

O, men who stood the frowning heights and tread
the virgin snows,

Who planted vine and fig trees where the manzanita
grows;

Who built a mighty city by the tide-ripped Golden Gate,
And sculptured from a lonely land our great and sovereign State.

"Dear sisters, do not forget what this day means to those dear Pioneers, alas so few, whom we at this time greet. They gave us great treasures. Meet them with a hearty handshake and a loving greeting. And to our Pioneer Fathers and Mothers to whom we owe so much, give all honor, love and respect, and no matter whether we are here in Oakland or in our own home Parlor, make this day California's day for California and her Pioneers."

"May Heaven continue to shower her choicest blessings on our fair State, our land prodigal in its hospitality, prodigal in its blossoms, 'in its sunshine and its spaciousness of sea and sky.' And reverently, for all these gracious gifts, let us, the children of this favored State, with fervent and earnest prayer thank God for California."

Past Grand President Watt's patriotism and loyalty to her country, state and community are worthy of emulation by all worthy citizens. She was a sincere friend with an ennobling character. She devoted her life to a service of helpfulness to her friends, the community and the organization she loved and honored, the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

"It matters not how long we serve,
How soon the sand runs through the glass,
It matters only that we give service as we pass
We may do very little well
And none of us may reach the goal.
But all that we attempt will tell
If we have done our best."

Worthy Past Grand President Alison Finnie Watt, your sisters of the Native Daughters of the Golden West have rendered for you their last service of love and honor. May the angels greet you, and our Divine Saviour meet you, when you enter your Heavenly Home.

Sacramento—With Deputy Grace Schaden presiding officers of Coloma No. 212 were installed January 5, Mrs. Mary Lerich becoming president. On the Parlor's behalf Mrs. Florence Morris presented Mrs. Grace McNeil a past president emblem. An informal reception followed the ceremonies. Miss Jane Houston was chairman of the evening.

San Bernardino—Lugonia No. 241 had as guests January 14 Supervising Deputy Maude VanFleet and Deputy Marion Pierce. They were welcomed by President Margaret Boehm.—R.C.

Delicious refreshments were served at cleverly appointed tables by Adele Enfield, Loleate Enfield, President Evelyn Stroschein and Matilda Enfield. A number of members are sewing, under the direction of Chairman Enfield, on garments for the Red Cross. Grace plans to present a California State (Bear) Flag to one of the local schools, and arrangements have been made for a February 20 card party. Several members visited Ontario No. 251 January 23.—N.M.C.

Turlock—A dinner and reception preceded the official visit of Grand President Hazel B. Hansen to Eldora No. 248 January 13. President Myrtle Raymus presided, and a candidate was initiated. A program was in charge of Mrs. W. F. Ripley. Grand President Hansen stressed the main projects of the Order in the course of her address. Among the several others in attendance were Grand Trustee Ethel Enos, Supervising Deputy Lorraine Toscano, and Deputies Gertrude Adams, Violet Roselli, Ethel Gardner and Lillian Stammerjohan. January 8 Mrs. Anthony Jerome of the Parlor was honored at a pink and blue shower at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Ramus, who was assisted by Mrs. Constance Seyfarth, Marie Ripley, Belle Bettencourt and Ouida Cooper. THE MORMON TRAIL FROM PIONEER PATH TO NATIONAL HIGHWAY

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR MAGAZINE.)

DURING THE PAST YEAR THERE HAS been much discussion among members of the Past Presidents Association of the Native Sons of the Golden West concerning the location and the historical significance of the Mormon Trail, and the writer has been asked many questions about the same. For this reason, certain facts of explanation are presented in this article.

At the outset, it should be explained that there are two trails in the history of westward expansion in the United States to which the name Mormon Trail has been applied. One of these is in California. The other is in that part of the country which is known as the Middle West. This latter was a trail which the Mormons followed in their trek from Nauvoo, Illinois, to Salt Lake, Utah. It began at Kanessville and Council Bluff in western Iowa and followed the Platte River from its junction with the Missouri across the plains of Nebraska to Fort Laramie in eastern Wyoming. The Mormon Trail followed to the north of the Platte, whereas the famous Oregon Trail, which was used by so many in those early years, was to the south of the river. The fact that the Mormons used the trail almost exclusively resulted in their name being applied to the pathway. At Fort Laramie both trails merged and continued on to South Pass, at which point the Mormons turned south toward Fort Bridger and thence to Salt Lake, whereas those going to Oregon continued their journey to Fort Hall and other points in the Far West.

The other Mormon Trail runs through California, Nevada and Utah. It starts at Los Angeles, thence to San Bernardino, through Cajon Pass, the Mojave Desert, then over the Sierra Nevada into the southeastern part of the State of Nevada, thence into Utah and finally up to Salt Lake. It would seem that this trail received its name, that is, Mormon Trail, from the fact that the first man to travel over it was Captain Jefferson Hunt, a prominent leader of the church. He was one of the commanders of the famous Mormon Battalion, a unit of the United States Army recruited for service in the Mexican War from communicants of that sect, and which came into California in 1846. There being no fighting of any consequence going on, the members of the battalion were assigned to garrison duty at various points in the Los Angeles-San Diego area. Many tributes have been paid the personnel of this battalion. The following is quoted from "History of the San Bernardino Valley" by Father Juan Caballeria, page 125:

"It was toward the close of the war between the United States and Mexico that a regiment was recruited from among the Mormons for service in the United States Army. This regiment was known as the Mormon Battalion. After their return from Mexico they were quartered for some time in southern California and while here received final discharge from service. They were law-abiding, God-fearing men and gained the respect of the people of California. Indeed, the citizens of San Diego found them so useful and desirable as neighbors that a general petition was circulated and signed by every inhabitant of the town requesting them to make a permanent settlement among them, and many of them remained in that part of California."

Following the discharge of the men and the demobilization of the battalion at the close of the war, many of the Mormons settled in the vicinity of San Bernardino. Others made their homes at Los Angeles, and still others at San Diego as was pointed out in the quotation above. Captain Hunt, with his two sons, went into the northern part of California and for a time searched for gold in the Mother Lode region. Then, in the fall of 1849, he returned to Salt Lake by the Humboldt Route, the trail which led across northern Nevada into Utah. In the spring of 1850 he again returned to California and entered by what subsequently came to be known as the Mormon Trail. Concerning this, Father Caballeria writes:

"In the spring of 1850 he made a trip to California, coming through by way of southern Utah, the Mojave Desert and Cajon Pass, the first white man to enter California by this route which was afterwards known as the Mormon Trail, or southern route to California. He stopped in San Bernardino Valley and purchased three hundred head of cattle and one hundred fifty horses of the Lugos, and packing the latter with provisions, which he purchased of Rowland and Workman, he engaged twenty Indian

GRIZZLY GROWLS

NOTE—Expressions of opinion in these "Growls" are, unless indicated otherwise, those of the Managing Editor.

Clarence M. Hunt

The "Lend-Lease Bill," proposing legislation that will vitally affect the future of this nation, is before the Federal Congress. It is opposed by such thorough Americans as United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson, General Robert E. Wood, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, Norman Thomas, General Hugh Johnson, United States Senator Burton K. Wheeler and President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago. Amos Pinchot classes the bill as "A measure to promote not so much all-out help to Britain, as all-out help to flip the American republic overnight into war and dictatorship."

The bill will, very likely, be approved by the Congress. For, the "hidden rulers of the world"—the dollar-worshipping monsters in human form that promote war and profit from misery—have decreed that this country must be an active participant in the European conflict. And going in, our manpower, our resources, our laws and our liberty will be sacrificed.

The great bulk of the citizens of this nation are opposed to engaging in a foreign war. Little attention, however, will be given their opposition unless they flood their representatives in the Federal Congress with messages insisting on defeat of the monstrous "Lend-Lease Bill." If you love these United States and would preserve your independence, act NOW!

How any American can, in the light of history, conscientiously suggest or advocate giving the wealth and the resources of these United States to England, the bully of the world, to continue its war for increased power in Europe, is beyond understanding.

The California Legislature should, as proposed, return to the several counties the administration of relief. That would, to some extent, lessen the taxpayers' overload and loosen the politicians' stranglehold on the state government.

What this country needs is more americanism and less britishism.

If all the public officials unacquainted with truth were impeached or recalled, as suggested by a Napa speaker, there would be numerous vacancies in government.

What about lifting the "moral embargo" against atheist Russia, the great menace of the world? Was not that an appeasement?

A metropolitan daily reports a Federal Government spokesman "sees peril of American invasion." He must be wearing made-in-England glasses.

Democracy! What quantity of insidious propaganda is being fed by aristocracy to the people of this nation in thy name.

Query: "If ants work so hard, how is it possible for them to attend all the picnics?"

vaqueros to take care of the stock and return over the same route to Utah."

The presence of a number of Mormons in southern California naturally brought communication with Salt Lake City, where the general administration of the Later Day Saints conducted the affairs of the church. This led to more and more frequent use of the trail had been opened up by Jefferson Hunt in 1859 the head of the organization, Brigham Young, requested that the Mormons in the Angeles-San Bernardino-San Diego area to Utah. Most of them acceded to this request and the result was the widespread use of the Mormon Trail. Concerning the departure of Mormons from California's southlands, Father Bell in his "Reminiscences of a Ranger," page 288, has this to say:

"I afterward became acquainted with many of our Mormon neighbors and was on several raids with them, and found them to be the best fellows I ever had anything to do with, when in 1859 the majority of the Mormon population in San Bernardino foolishly obeyed the order of Brigham Young, abandoned their homes and returned to Salt Lake, southern California lost the most active, energetic and enterprising part of the population contained within our borders."

The historian, Father Caballeria, who ascribes to Jefferson Hunt the honor of having been the first to enter California by the Mormon Trail, probably in error on this point. Hunt was probably the first Mormon to have traveled from Salt Lake City to California over this route, but there is no doubt that the name Mormon Trail came to be applied from his entrance and the subsequent use of the pathway by other Mormons and Mormon parties. Jefferson Hunt, however, instead of finding a new gateway to California probably rediscovered an old one, used at the time he came through in 1850. This is borne out by the researches of Dr. Owen Coy who, in his work "The Great Trek," points out that probably Jedediah Smith used this trail as early as 1826. Says Coy, pages 265-66:

"There remains for consideration, however, the Salt Lake-Los Angeles Trail which in 1849 attained undeserved notoriety through the experiences of some who attempted to follow it. The route from Salt Lake to southern California was in fact . . . the first of the California overland routes to be discovered by Americans. Jedediah Strong Smith, in the fall of 1826, struck out southwesterly from Ashley's Post on Utah Lake and reached San Gabriel Mission, near the pueblo of Los Angeles, in the latter part of the year. The following year he made a second journey over this route, which within a decade became part of the regularly used caravan trail from Santa Fe under the misleading name of 'Old Spanish Trail.' When Fremont returned East from his first visit to California in 1845, he traveled along this caravan route from a point near Cajon Pass to the vicinity of Salt Lake. Through such journeys as these the trail leading from the Great Basin to southern California became fairly well known before the events of 1849. A number of Mormon parties used it in their return from California to Salt Lake after the discharge of the members of the Mormon Battalion at the close of the Mexican War."

The Mormon Trail should not be confused with the Death Valley Trail, which is known in history as the Williams Short Route and which was calculated to save five hundred miles of the Los Angeles-Salt Lake, or Mormon, Trail. The Death Valley route was used by the Salt Walking Company in 1849. The hardships and misery undergone by this group have been described by their hero, William Lewis Manly. One of the distinguished Californians who crossed over the Mormon Trail with Jefferson Hunt was Walter Van Dyke, who for many years prior to his death in 1905 served as associate justice of the State Supreme Court.

In 1905 a railroad connecting Los Angeles and Salt Lake City and following the old Mormon Trail was built by the late United States Senator W. A. Clark of Montana and his brother, Ross Clark. Now a national highway follows the same route. The Mormon Trail, therefore, is not something of the historical past. It is a living link between California and Salt Lake City.

Greetings were extended the many in attendance by Chairman Constance Warsaw, Adele Mason led the salute to the flag, and Ann Duddy offered prayer. Vocal selections were rendered by Elsie Dethlefsen, accompanied by Helen Heineman.

Superior Judge Thomas M. Foley, the guest speaker, paid tribute to George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Supervising Deputy Georgia M. Nelson gave an interesting talk on "Conception Arguello." Mrs. Ann Truesdale and daughter, Ruth, both of Fremont Parlor No. 59, presented the Home a large United States of America Flag, and the deputies presented four dozen dessert dishes. Among others present were Grand Vice-president Clarice Cook, Grand Trustee Emily Ryan, and Past Grand Presidents Dr. Mariana Bertola and Evelyn Carlson.

PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTEST.

Under the auspices of the San Francisco Extension of the Order Committee N.S.G.W., the public speaking contest finals for San Francisco were held in Native Sons Building February 14. Frank M. Buckley of the Grand Parlor Public Speaking Committee presided, and there was an exceptionally large attendance.

Twelve young men and women, one from each of the major high schools, both public and private, competed for the honor of representing San Francisco in the finals for the championship of the northern part of the state. Edward L. Burke of Saint Ignatius High School was the winner, Daniel O'Sullivan of Saint James High School was second and Robert McGinnis of Sacred Heart High School was third.

The judges, selected by the committee, were: Chas. A. Koenig, Past Grand President N.S.G.W.; Dean Hogan of the University of San Francisco; Arch P. Cloud, president San Francisco Junior College; Dr. A. T. Leonard, president California Historical Society and Society California Pioneers; Daniel C. Murphy, president State Board Education and sheriff San Francisco.

HOMAGE PAID FAITHFUL OFFICER.

At its February 18 meeting, Pacific Parlor No. 10 N.S.G.W. paid homage to Samuel Washington Dixon, a most enthusiastic member of the Order who celebrated his eightieth birthday February 22. Born at San Francisco in 1861, he has witnessed the city's marvelous growth and development.

Dixon became a member of Pacific September 22, 1885, served as president during the July-December 1890 term, and was elected treasurer shortly thereafter. He faithfully performed the duties of that office for more than forty years, but in December 1940 insisted, much to the regret of the Parlor and its members, on turning the responsibilities over to another.

Among the speakers of the occasion were Hugh E. Ryan, Jackson Nicols, Thomas F. Duffy, Superior Judge Thomas M. Foley and Past Grand President Lewis F. Byington. They recalled their first meetings with Dixon and praised his loyalty and sincerity.

GRAND PRESIDENT N.D. VISITS.

Grand President Hazel B. Hansen officially visited Minerva Parlor No. 2, Golden State Parlor No. 50 and Arguello Parlor No. 257 N.D.G.W. in joint session February 5. A patriotic motif was used in the very attractive decorations. President Elizabeth Muller of Golden State conducted the opening ceremonies, President Ann Arguello of Arguello presided during initiation, and President Amelia Coates of Minerva conducted the closing ceremonies. The three Parlors presented a beautiful layette to the Grand President for the homeless children, and a contribution was made to the Annie L. Adair Scholarship fund.

Also in attendance were Grand Trustees Emily Ryan and Loretta Cameron, Grand Organist Mae O'Keefe, Past Grand Presidents Dr. Mariana Bertola, Mae Noonan, Evelyn Carlson, Anne Thuesen and Orinda Giannini. The enjoyable evening closed with refreshments. Irene Milan, Adele Mason and Ethel Phelan were co-chairmen of the arrangements committee.

HOMELESS CHILDREN

A Worthwhile Non-sectarian Endeavor Sponsored and Supported by the Orders of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West.

REMEMBER?

Do you, Native Sons and Native Daughters, remember that March 31, 1941, will end the fifty-first fiscal year for the work of the homeless children?

This is a reminder!

The members need only a reminder! Everyone needs to be reminded during these days of tied interests, distractions and uncertainties about an obligation he has assumed and really gets to meet.

April 1, 1941, will begin the new year, the fifty-second year of the Native Sons and Native Daughters homeless children work. Many of the Parlor have sent their yearly contributions to the central office, 938 Eddy street, San Francisco. If those who have not yet done their part toward this charity of ours will make an immediate effort during the month of March 1941. Sufficient funds will be provided to carry on, rather curtailment is impossible. The budget has been most carefully considered by the Native Sons and Daughters of the Central Committee.

To those who have already generously and promptly responded this year, the Committee records its gratitude.

Attention is called to the new law governing a federal amusement tax on admissions. Every prior contemplating a benefit for the homeless children must file an affidavit claiming exemption from the collection of the federal tax on admissions if the price of admission exceeds TWENTY CENTS!

If the Parlor will send their requests to this office, giving the character of entertainment, the date, name of building in which benefit is to be held, address and name of lessor, prompt attention will be given to completing the affidavit. It must be signed by the beneficiary—the Native Sons and Native Daughters Central Committee of Homeless Children.

Without fail, let us have "Every Member a contributor." See that your Parlor's name is in the Grand Parlor reports as having helped. One more month this year in which to do our part.

Give thought to the children. After all, this IS "Our Charity."

HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS FURNISHED.

Editor Grizzly Bear Magazine—Please find closed subscription for 1941. We hope to have a voice for the Native Sons of Colorado as The Grizzly Bear furnishes your organizations in the not-too-distant future. May I say your publication has furnished us with many helpful suggestions, and we should have had it in society going in this state long ago. If every Western state would form these native sons and daughters groups and work together collectively we could accomplish a great deal more for the western section of our country. Very truly yours, ELLA C. WILLACY, Assistant Secretary Native Sons of Colorado, Denver, Colorado.

LOS AN GELES

CITY AND COUNTY

THE FEBRUARY 15 CIVIC LUNCHEON sponsored by the southland Parlors of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West in honor of Grand President Hazel B. Hansen was an outstanding event, attended by some five hundred Native Daughters, Native Sons, public officials and civic leaders. Chairman Mary B. Noerenberg of the Grand Parlor Civics Committee presided.

Mayor Fletcher Bowron extended a welcome on behalf of Los Angeles City, and Grand President Henry S. Lyon brought greetings from the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West. Grand President Hansen outlined the principal projects of the Native Daughters. "In our work we have four objectives," she declared, "love of home, devotion to the American Flag, veneration of the Pioneers and, above all, an abiding faith in the existence of God."

"In Defense of America" was the subject of a timely and masterly address by Dr. W. Ballentine Henley. He urged Americans to remember that democracy is not simply a political belief, but "a bundle of principles worth living and fighting for." He pointed out that "the keystone of democracy is the right to disagree," and once that right is surrendered there is no democracy to defend.

Dr. Henley referred to the flood of propaganda being turned loose in this country to create a war hysteria, and stating that there is no such thing as "good propaganda," he outlined the techniques used to sway the unthinking: the staged event; the public opinion poll; the name-calling device; the testimonial device; the "bandwagon" stunt; glittering generalities; the use of transfer symbols; the "plain folks" stunt—the candidate with the pitchfork, the Indian headdress or the ten-gallon hat; the card-stacking device in which bits of evidence are made to look like a whole truth. "When you are being propagandized by the bandwagon and the glittering generalities techniques," said the speaker, "I would advise you to do like little Marjorie who, when her mother said that thousands of little girls dearly love spinach, countered with, 'name three'."

William Matchan, baritone with the Philharmonic Orchestra, charmed with "The Lord's Prayer;" he was accompanied by Blanche H. Robinson. A color guard of the American Legion Auxiliary — Margaret Harris, Eleanor Hart, Christine Lucero and Betty Boche—presented the United States of America and the California State (Bear) Flags, and the assemblage recited the pledge to the flag. A quintet from La Reina Parlor No. 267 N.D.G.W. of Los Angeles—Helen Spring, Madeline Garey, Opal Brandon, Orabelle Brandon and Frankie Walton—gave two selections, and Jack Reinhart danced.

Every Native Daughter Parlor of the southland had a table decorated to illustrate one of the Order's projects. First prize for the best decorated table went to Lugonia Parlor No. 241 of San Bernardino; "Devotion to the Flag" was the theme. Second prize went to Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 of Los Angeles, with "Homeless Children." Receiving honorable mention were: Californiana Parlor No. 247 of Los Angeles, "History and Landmarks;" Verdugo Parlor No. 240 of Glendale, "Americanism;" La Reina Parlor No. 267 of Los Angeles, "Young Women's Activities."

Among the many others introduced were Mrs. Margaret Clark, chief of the California Industrial Welfare Commission; Dr. Anna E. McCaughey, president National Catholic Women's Club; Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler and Past Grand Presidents Grace S. Stoermer and Anne C. Thuesen of the Native Daughters; Grand Second Vice-president Lloyd J. Cosgrove, Grand Third Vice-president Wayne R. Millington, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Trustees Walter C. Richards, Joseph E. Tinney and Judge Ben Harrison, Grand Organizer Roger M. Johnson, Past Grand Presidents Herman C. Lichtenberger and Eldred L. Meyer of the Native Sons. In arranging for the luncheon, Civics Chairman Noerenberg was assisted by Supervising Deputies Evalyn Wilson, Genevieve Hiskey and Maude VanFleet; Mrs. Florence Irish, chairman Grand Parlor Music Committee, and Mrs. Ella Steinbeck of the Grand Parlor Publicity Committee.

N.S.G.W. LUNCHEON CLUB.

There was an extra large attendance at the February 14 meeting of the Native Sons Friday Luncheon Club, when Grand President Henry S. Lyon, Grand First Vice-president Edward T. Schnarr, Grand Second Vice-president Lloyd J. Cosgrove, Grand Third Vice-president Wayne R. Millington, Grand Secretary John T. Regan and Grand Trustee Joseph E. Tinney were guests. Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz was chairman of the day, and the main speaker was Grand President Lyon, who stressed the patriotic principles of the Order.

At the Club's February 21 meeting, Municipal Judge William R. McKay gave an entertaining talk on "Famous Criminal Trials." Robert M. Bushnell was chairman of the day.

TRIBUTE PAID GREAT AMERICANS.

Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. was honored greatly at the February 11 luncheon meeting, when Dr. Walter F. Dexter, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Director of Education, was guest speaker. The luncheon, commemorating the birthdays of George Washington, father of his country, and Abraham Lincoln, the great emancipator, was sponsored by the americanism committee. Mrs. Alphonse B. Fages, president of the Parlor, presented Mrs. Milo D. Aylward, chairman of the day.

Dr. Dexter's topic was "Basic Concepts of Good Government." After paying high tribute to Washington and Lincoln, the speaker mentioned some of the basic concepts of our government which hold our social order together, and stated that $196,000,000 is spent yearly in this state alone for the education of our children. February birthdayites were seated at a specially decorated table.

At the business meeting Ethel Barkeley Newman was appointed chairman of the Junior Auxiliary, with Mms. Gladys Boggs, Marion Johnson and Mona Connor as assistants. Two babies were "adopted," Mrs. Edith Adams sponsoring one, to be named Richard in memory of her grandson. The California history and landmarks committee reported plans to mark Las Tunas Rancho adobe in San Gabriel April 26.

A delightful luncheon meeting of the Gertrude Sewing Circle February 3 at the home of Mrs. Edward Thomas was announced by Margaret Harris. The March 11 luncheon of Californiana at the Women's University Club will feature Pearl Irene Odell, executive director of the Music School Settlement. Outstanding students will give a musical program to illustrate the lecture.—O.L.

NEW HOSIERY FROM AMERICAN-

GROWN COTTON ON MARKET.

Attractive cotton stockings that fit well and give good service have been designed by the Federal Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Home Economics, and are now on the market.

These hose, made from American-grown long-staple cotton, are especially treated to give extra smoothness and luster. The designs include plain knits, Paris clocks, mesh toes and heels, and mesh throughout. All are carefully designed to give better fit and greater elasticity than the old-style cotton stockings had. Cotton hose are especially suitable for nurses, because they can be thoroughly sterilized and can be laundered without turning yellow.

The worthy President of the N.S.G.W. and a member of the N.S.G.W. No. 39 Native Sons of the Grizzly Bear Club, a committee on Resolutions rendered to the N.S.G.W. the following resolutions in respect to the death of Elmer Henry Gum, respectively:

Resolved, That as a citizen of the United States and the golden gateway to the great Pacific, Elmer Henry Gum, who was a true and loyal Native Son, an honest, upright and patriotic citizen, who was a true and loyal Native Son, and who always remembered that he was a true and loyal Native Son, he was a friend to the N.S.G.W. and the N.S.G.W. and the broken-spirited; he enforced the law through kindness, rather than through vengeance, he was a true and loyal Native Son, all who may follow him.

He was a kind and loving husband and father, and who heartily bowed down to his family, his friends, his friends in Heaven to meet him in the great new world of peace, in possibly assigned, and to give comfort and consolation to his bereaved family, and to give him a copy of the N.S.G.W. law, a faithful and a loyal Native Son, an honest, upright and patriotic citizen, who was a true and loyal Native Son, and who always remembered that he was a true and loyal Native Son, he was a friend to the N.S.G.W. and the N.S.G.W. and the broken-spirited; he enforced the law through kindness, rather than through vengeance, he was a true and loyal Native Son, all who may follow him.

Clarence M. Hunt

The "Lease-Lend Bill"—rightly referred to by United States Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri as a bill "to authorize the underwriting of the cost of maintaining the British empire around the world at the expense of the taxpayers of America"—is still being considered by the Federal Congress.

Although the bill is being strenuously opposed by America-first Senators, it will probably be adopted. For, the yesmen are in the saddle, and the "hidden rulers of the world"—the dollar-worshipping cutthroats that promote war and thrive on misery—have decreed that this democracy must be sacrificed.

A bill, No. 1093, is before the State Senate. It provides for the abolishment of the California Historical Association. The measure should be defeated.

In a copyrighted interview in the Atlanta, Georgia, Constitution, Henry Ford, outstanding American, referring to the war between England and Germany, declared: "There is no righteousness in either cause. Both are motivated by the same evil impulse, which is greed."

These California Congressmen are for America first—they voted AGAINST the "Lease-Lend Bill" in the Federal House of Representatives: John Z. Anderson, Albert E. Carter, John M. Costello, Harry L. Englebright, B. W. Gearhart, Lee E. Geyer, Carl Hinshaw, Thomas Rolph, John H. Tolan and Richard J. Welch.

Ferndale has no delinquent taxpayers. A record that should attract more settlers to that prosperous Humboldt County community.

If the arguments advanced by advocates of the "Lease-Lend Bill" be based on fact, a rider should be attached to No. 1776 providing for the changing of the motto on United States coins to read "In Great Britain We Trust."

Quoting Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen, the brilliant and forceful Catholic speaker: "Democracy is not dependent on the divine right of kings. . . . This war is a judgment of God, because we willed to be without God and His justice."

"If we ever are invaded in America," Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh told the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate, "the responsibility will be upon those who send our arms abroad." How true!

The America First Committee of California has been incorporated. Membership is limited to "real Americans only." Says John L. Wheeler, leader of the organizing group: "We think it is high time some group in California speaks out for America, rather than for foreign powers and doctrines such as nazi Germany, communist Russia and imperial Britain."

"THOSE WHO LOVE LIBERTY of conscience in religious matters, freedom of thought in political matters and such freedom of action in economic matters as is consistent with the rights of others should realize that they must now defend those principles guaranteed to the people of the United States, and known to them as 'Inalienable Rights,' or that, failing so to do, those blessed privileges will be forever lost."—J. M. Woods.

From 1840 to 1940 the average fleece weights of sheep sheared in the United States increased from two pounds to eight pounds, according to the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry.

YUBA RIVER TRIBUTARIES MAPPED

A map of the South Fork Yuba River from Jones Bar to Soda Springs, of Middle Fork to English Meadows, of North Fork to Ladies Canyon, and of Deer Creek to a point twelve miles upstream has been released by the Geological Survey, United States Interior Department. It shows the course of the streams, the configuration of the valley floors and adjacent slopes, constructed dams, powerhouses, canals, towns, houses, mines, railroads, roads and trails.

The Yuba River is formed by the junction of North and Middle Forks, a few miles west of North San Juan, Nevada County. The head-water tributaries, North Fork, Middle Fork and South Fork, drain a large part of the western slope of the north-central section of the Sierra Nevada. They rise at altitudes of about 8,000 feet and flow west through rugged and precipitous canyons for sixty or seventy miles before issuing from the foothills as one main stream about ten miles east of Marysville, Yuba County. There the Yuba empties into the Feather River.

The map, published in twelve sheets, should be useful in connection with plans for resumption of hydraulic gold mining, which is being made possible by the construction, now in progress, of several debris dams in the lower stretches of the Yuba, Bear and American Rivers. Development of any of the storage sites shown would be advantageous from the standpoint of flood control. A set of the maps may be purchased for $1.20 from the Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

COMPILING BIOGRAPHY OF NOTED CALIFORNIA PIONEER

Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt of the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, has resumed the important task of completing the biography of General John Bidwell, who holds a pre-eminent place among the early pioneers of California because of his leadership in different eras of the state's history, his very colorful career and his lofty character. He was personally acquainted with General Bidwell and has accumulated a wealth of material.

In a letter to The Grizzly Bear, Dr. Hunt, a member of Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W., says: "I have long desired to write this biography. Now, as we have come to the Bidwell centenary (1841-1941), the matter has been pressed upon me and I have actually resumed work on the fascinating subject. Also, I have accepted an invitation from President Hamilton of Chico State College to give an address on the occasion of the big celebration projected for Chico.

"If any reader of The Grizzly Bear has material, or knows some source of information likely to be overlooked, he will confer a favor by calling the same to my attention as promptly as possible. Such a book as I have in mind should be of special interest to all members of the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W."

(CLARENCE M. HUNT.)

"CALIFORNIA."

The Romance of a Great State.

By Dr. John Walton Caughey; Prentice Hall Inc., Publishers, New York, N.Y.; Price, $4.

In this volume of nearly seven hundred pages Dr. John Walton Caughey, associate professor of history at the University of California at Los Angeles, presents a fascinating story—a complete and accurate history of California from early Spanish days to the present.

Chapters are devoted to the changes in status from Indian realm to Spanish colony, Mexican province, and American state, and to the state's rapid rise from concentration on cattle raising to the position of one of the ranking commonwealths of the union.

In one chapter, Dr. Caughey tells the fantastic story of "The Boom of the Eighties" and its collapse, and in another chapter "The Japanese Problem" is given consideration. Numerous illustrations, seven maps and "A Commentary on Californiana" add to the value of the book.

How lonely yet how strong!
How fragile is my dream,
How hollow is my song!

I yearn to reach the heights,
Then brush away my tears,
Remembering the nights
Of strange and twisted fears.

And can it be men went
With slow-worn oxen teams,
And still were confident
The dawn would bring their dreams?

TAKING A TIP from the hummingbird, the stationary flyer, aviators of the National Park Service will hover over treetops, lakes and streams by the use of 225-horsepower autogyros. Under favorable conditions the machines are capable of maintaining stability at a virtual standstill over a chosen spot. The autogyros are wingless models controlled by a pivoted three-blade rotor operating horizontally. They can execute a 250-foot takeoff without wind. Power is supplied by a seven-cylinder radial engine.

CALIFORNIA'S GOLD RUSH DAYS brought weeds as well as Argonauts to the state, says Dr. W. W. Robbins of the University of California College of Agriculture in a bulletin available to the public. Commenting on the fact that approximately 526 species of alien plants, some 125 of them weeds of agricultural significance, are now growing within the state, Dr. Robbins says the gold rush undoubtedly witnessed a mass invasion of the state by many weeds now infesting large areas.

The bulletin, No. 637, entitled "Alien Plants Growing Without Cultivation in California," presents a gallery of these plants with brief descriptions of their origin, approximate time of introduction, and their importance to the state. It may be obtained free of charge from any county office of the agricultural extension service or from the Office of Publications, Giannini Hall, on the Berkeley campus of the university.

ALAMEDA COUNTY AT THE N.D. HOME.

A record crowd of 145 attended the annual Alameda County Sunday breakfast at the Native Daughters Home, March 9, sponsored by the deputy grand presidents of that county. Supervising Deputy Esther Ragon presided, Marie Silva and Louise Benedetti presented the colors and led the flag salute, and Grand Trustee Marion E. White gave the invocation. Allena Page delighted with vocal selections, and Barbara Silvani entertained with accordion numbers.

Grand President Hazel B. Hansen was the guest speaker, and her talk was based on "Conservation of California's Natural Resources."

She instanced the wanton destruction of young trees in the forests, and commended an oil company for its "thoughtful planting of bushels of California wild flower seeds throughout the state." Her message was interesting and instructive, and she impressed on her hearers their duty toward the conservation of California's golden soil and wild life.

On behalf of the grand officers and deputies of Alameda County, Supervising Deputy Ragon presented a thirty-two-cup chromium coffee urn, and it was accepted with thanks by Past Grand President Dr. Mariana Bertola, permanent chairman Grand Parlor Home Committee. Others in attendance were Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Trustees Emily Ryan and Doris Treat, Past Grand Presidents Mae B. Wilkin, Sue J. Irwin and Orinda G. Giannini. The occasion closed with Miss Page leading the assemblage in singing "God Bless America."—M.W.

Irish night was headed by Lillian O'Joseph and her committee of O'Maughan, O'Beatson, O'Roche, O'Hern, O'Sullivan, O'Kerrigan and O'Brien. Tasty refreshments were served, and games and dancing made it a great occasion. The Parlor's drum corps participated in the local Saint Patrick's Day parade. There is much enthusiasm and rehearsals will be resumed after Easter. Skiing and ice skating were enjoyed by this group during the winter months, and bowling is the principal sport at the present time.—R.T.

President Louise Nau of Dolores Parlor No. 169 N.D.G.W. now appoints a different social chairman each month. Ellen Rahill was chairman for February and Myrtle Bottini for March. A glimpse of the Paradise of the Pacific was provided for the entertainment of members and guests at a successful Hawaiian night. Appropriate music was provided and delicious refreshments were served at fern decorated tables. Saint Patrick's Day was observed at an Irish night affair.—E.R.

A spring festival marked the official visit of Grand President Hazel B. Hansen to Yerba Buena No. 273 N.D.G.W. Among the many in attendance were several visitors. Seven candidates were initiated, and a donation was made to the Annie L. Adair Scholarship Fund. In appreciation of outstanding Red Cross work, Mae Simmons was honored with a Red Cross pin, President Grace R. Butterfield making the presentation address. THE BEGINNING OF HISTORIC EL PAJARO

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR MAGAZINE.)

ONE OF CALIFORNIA'S COASTAL valleys, extending from Moss Landing on the south to the hills southeast of Santa Cruz on the north, is fertile and historic El Pajaro Valley. This area extends inland from the shores of Monterey Bay about ten miles until it reaches the Gavilan Mountains, as the Coast Range is known at this point. Writing in 1868 Cronise, in his Natural Wealth of California, made the statement that the valley was about ten miles in width. This, however, has been proved erroneous by later surveys, which show that the valley has several smaller subdivisions, so its total width is about twenty miles.

El Pajaro Valley was both discovered and named by the Portola expedition of 1769. It might have been discovered by Cabrillo in 1542 and he been able to effect a landing on Monterey Bay. The waves were especially rough when the great mariner passed up the coast, and notwithstanding the fact that he tried to land was unsuccessful in doing so. For this reason to contour along Monterey Bay remained obscure to the eyes of Spanish explorers for two hundred and twenty-seven years when, in 1769, Don Gaspar de Portola led an expedition up the coast from San Diego. The mission at San Diego having been founded, Portola sought to buy the directions of the viceroy and found a second establishment on the only other harbor known to exist on the Alta California coast, namely, Monterey Bay.

Early in the month of October this party reached its goal, but because of the points from which they viewed it the observers failed to recognize the features of indenture which constitute a bay. Several days having been spent surveying the coast between what is now Carmel and Monterey, and all agreeing that the harbor had not been found, it was determined that the expedition should press on up the coast, continuing the search. The resumption of the march began Saturday, October 7th. The country through which they traveled was difficult. That evening was spent by a lagoon near the present site of Castroville. The soldiers called the place La Laguna de la Grulla, because there were a number of cranes flitting about along the shores. Father Crespi, however, named it Santa Brigida.

The next day was Sunday. Mass was celebrated, following which the last sacraments of a church were administered to a number of very ill soldiers. The disability of these men did not hamper the progress of the expedition. They were carried on litters in the rear of the company. On this day the party had a goal. This was to reach an Indian village which the advance guard had reported to exist on the banks of a fresh and sheltered stream. There were two reasons which impelled Portola to seek this village. First, he sought a shelter for his sick soldiers in the camp of the Indians. Second, he desired to speak to these Indians so that he might learn something about the nature of the country he was in.

However, just as Portola had sent out an advance guard, the Indians, too, had been watching his progress. Frightened, they abandoned their village, so that when the party arrived there were no Redskins to be found. This was disappointing to the Spaniards. They looked for what was left with great interest, however. One of the remains was a very large bird, probably an eagle, which extended about ninety-nine inches (eight and a quarter feet) from wing to wing. This bird had been stuffed with grass and probably had some religious significance for the tribe.

At this period of history it was customary for California Indian tribes to adopt certain animals as a form of taboo. One might claim tutelary divinities, patron saints or demigods. The grizzly bear occupied this position in the taboo-ideology of a number of the California tribes. This bird, therefore, had a religious significance to the natives. The Spaniards, however, were impressed at the size and splendor of the eagle, and immediately named the stream which flowed calmly by the deserted village El Rio del Pajaro, "The River of the Bird." Father Juan Crespi, the pious Franciscan who accompanied the party and wrote the diary of this expedition, followed his usual custom of applying a religious name to all unnamed places. For this reason he called it Senora Santa Anna, that is, "Lady Saint Anne." In this instance the name applied by the laymen survived the years, and the Rio del Pajaro soon gave its name to the beautiful and fertile valley through which it flowed. Father Crespi describes the discovery of El Pajaro River as follows:

"After Holy Mass, Sunday, October 8th, we administered Holy Viaticum to the sick soldiers of last night, and to another who is likewise very ill. The latter also received Extreme Unction today. They nevertheless followed the expedition seated or fastened on the litters prepared for them. . . . After this tender and devout function we set out for the north over hills which were somewhat higher than those of the preceding day, but every break in the hills was found to be a lagoon of greater or smaller size, which compelled us to make a circuit many times. After wandering onward five leagues, during which we covered four leagues, we reached a village of which our advance guard had spoken before; but contrary to our expectations we found it deserted and destroyed. . . . We camped on the bank of a river which the advance guard had discovered not far from the destroyed village. . . . here also we saw a bird which the natives had killed and stuffed with dry grass. To some it appeared to be an eagle. It measured from the end of one wing to the tip of another, eleven palms. For this reason the soldiers called the stream El Rio del Pajaro, but I applied the name Lady Santa Anna."

It is now believed this Indian village was situated on the site now occupied by Chinatown, opposite the present city of Watsonville. El Pajaro Valley, however, although especially fertile and moderate in climate, was slow in being settled. Mission San Carlos was founded at Monterey in June 1770. Shortly after, however, Father Serra observed the Indians frequented the shores of Carmel Bay and the small valley through which the Carmel River ran more than the area now known as Pacific Grove and Monterey. For this reason another branch of San Carlos Mission was built at the present site of Carmel. Such agriculture as was engaged in by the fathers of Mission San Carlos naturally took place on the Carmel side. That there was an Indian population in El Pajaro Valley which needed attention by the priests was recognized by the great missionary, Father Palou, in 1774. After traversing the area from Monterey to San Francisco Bay, Father Palou recommended six sites for subsequent missions. One of these was on the banks of El Pajaro River near the present City of Watsonville. This recommendation was never adopted.

The founding of Mission Santa Cruz on a hill overlooking the San Lorenzo River, August 28, 1791, was a boon to the settlement of El Pajaro Valley. The coastal plains northwest of Santa Cruz Mission were none too good for agriculture, and even at the present time are used for dairying rather than growing. On the northeast of Santa Cruz lies the valley of the San Lorenzo River which, after a low meander, is covered with a dense growth of redwoods. Santa Cruz Mission, therefore, had to look toward the south, to El Pajaro Valley, for its agricultural development. For this reason some of the soldiers of the mission were given grants of land in El Pajaro Valley.

In 1797 the Spanish authorities decided upon the establishment of a pueblo on the coast of Monterey Bay where the San Lorenzo River empties into the Pacific. This village was called Branciforte. Its establishment was bitterly opposed by the Franciscans, who felt that a town at Mission Santa Cruz would hamper greatly their progress with the Indians. In deference to their protests the town was located on the side of the river opposite the mission. This settlement was never a success. However, for those who lived there it was necessary to have a food supply. For the reason that the area around was unsatisfactory for mission agriculture, the people of Branciforte looked to El Pajaro Valley. A number of the famous old Spanish families lived in El Pajaro Valley. Some of these were Rodriguez, Vallejo, Amesti, Hernandez and Castro. Indeed the Castros owned the largest number of ranches in El Pajaro, and their family name is today perpetuated by the Town of Castroville.

In 1852 the Town of Watsonville was laid out by Judge John H. Watson. It was incorporated in 1868. Watsonville has continued to grow in population and is the metropolis of El Pajaro Valley. In 1850 the Legislature of the State of California faced the problem of creating counties as administrative areas for the state. February 18th of that year it was decided to create two counties on Monterey Bay. At the southwesterly end of the bay is the County of Monterey, which stretches many miles south until it reaches the County of San Luis Obispo. On the north and central side of the bay the Legislature created the County of Santa Cruz, which takes its name from the mission established by Father Lasuen, August 28, 1791. El Pajaro Valley, except for a very short distance in Monterey County, was placed by the Legislature in the County of Santa Cruz.

The Native Sons of the Golden West as a fraternal society has always flourished in El Pajaro Valley. Watsonville Parlor No. 65 was instituted at Watsonville July 18, 1885, and Gabilan Parlor No. 132 was instituted at Castroville, in the Monterey County part of the valley, November 9, 1888. Not in the valley, but nearby, are Monterey Parlor No. 75, instituted at Monterey, January 30, 1886, and Santa Cruz Parlor No. 90, instituted at Santa Cruz August 21, 1886. These Parlors have always been most active in promoting the interests of California in their respective localities, and well they may, for the blood of some of the state's earliest inhabitants flows in the veins of many of their members. They point with pride to the origin of their respective counties of Santa Cruz and Monterey, and to the beautiful and fertile El Pajaro Valley, —to which the counties are the joint heirs— named so long ago in honor of the great bird.

The wheel-ridged plains grow smooth again,
The past fades into dust,
Around Scott's Bluff, a trace of men
Whose guns are treasured rust.

The daisies grow where heavy wheels
Once left determined lines,
And Nature quietly conceals
The crude-carved rock designs.

The covered wagons traveled far
Through desolation's waste,
Today in swiftly moving car
We pass their ruts in haste.

But firm hands drove the oxen teams
That crawled the mountain side
And faith in God directed dreams
That made our highways wide.

MARKER TO BE PLACED AT MISSION.

March proved to be the busiest month of the year for Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. Members attended the Columbia broadcasting studio program of Dr. Christian, starring Jean Hersholt; toured the new Allen Hancock Foundation Building on the campus of the University of Southern California; accepted the hospitality of Juliette DeNublia for the monthly sewing party; listened to a lecture on flower arranging; surprised Sophia Rosshirt in her new home, and enjoyed a Spanish dinner.

Guest of honor at the sewing party was Marjorie McAuliffe, who received many gifts for the native-to-be; assisting hostesses were May Sherwood, Kate Williams, Mary Smith, Edna Neikirk, Amelia Mulhern, Helen Lee, Ann Schiebusch and Sophia Rosshirt. At the conclusion of the March 19 meeting Evelyn Howell introduced Gordon W. Snider, who presented a color film and a lecture on flower arranging by Laura Lee Burroughs. The March 22 Spanish dinner was a gala fiesta of Early California. Tables were set with gay colored cloths and decorated with carretas, gourds, candles and fruit. The committee of arrangements was Ruth Ruiz, chairman, Flora Holy, co-chairman, Evelyn Howell, Grace Norton, Dora Davis, Edna Holcomb, Edna Neikirk, Jeanne Clois, Elsie Amidon, Jacqueline Wilson and Marguerite Miller.

NATIVE SONS SIXTY-FOURTH ANNUAL GRAND PARLOR

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE SIXTY-fourth Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, which will convene at Al Tahoe, El Dorado County, Monday, May 19, are progressing. Grand President Henry S. Lyon of Placerville Parlor No. 9, Placerville, will preside throughout the deliberations and, at their conclusion, will automatically become the Junior Past Grand President.

A committee representing Placerville Parlor—Guy E. Wentworth, chairman; T. F. (Bud) Lewis, vice-chairman; Ellsworth A. Williard, executive secretary; E. Ogden Hook, treasurer; George M. Smith and Robert E. Roberts—is looking after the many details connected with the arrangements for the Grand Parlor.

March 6 and 7 the committee visited Lake Tahoe, listed the available accommodations, selected a general headquarters and a meeting-place, and attended to numerous other matters having to do with the gathering. The accommodations are plentiful at and adjacent to Al Tahoe, and the committee requests those planning to attend the Grand Parlor to make known their wants without delay.

"Inasmuch as the meeting is being held at such a famous point," says Secretary Williard, "the ladies should be urged to take advantage of the opportunity to visit Lake Tahoe."

The Grand Parlor entertainment program will include: Monday evening, informal reception; Tuesday evening, grand ball; Wednesday, tour of Lake Tahoe; Wednesday evening, Grand Parlor banquet. The final in the statewide public speaking contest between high school students will be held, and an extra-special feature that should be of particular interest will be an elimination contest of speakers on the subject "Lake Tahoe."

CANDIDATES GRAND PARLOR OFFICES.

The Grizzly Bear has contacted many "suspicioned" candidates for the Grand Parlor offices, and the replies received make possible the announcement of several candidacies. Subordinate Parlors must elect their delegates to the Lake Tahoe session the first meeting nights in April, and then more sombreros will undoubtedly be shied into the election ring. Here's the lineup for elective offices at press time for this issue of The Grizzly Bear:

Grand President—Grand First Vice-president Edward T. Schnarr, Fruitvale Parlor No. 252.

RECLAMATION AREAS CONSTITUTE CONTINENT'S LAST GEOGRAPHIC FRONTIER.

When the natural frontier disappeared about 1900, fewer than 17,000,000 people lived west of the Mississippi River, according to Carl C. Taylor of the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics. In 1940, more than 40,000,000 people are living west of the Mississippi, 30.6 percent of the population.

"We have arrived at the day when new areas of settlement depend almost altogether on some sort of reclamation," says Taylor. "Reclamation areas constitute the last geographic frontier of this continent, and as such they are bound to be of tremendous importance."

Sacramento will have its annual Spring Flower Show April 26 and 27.

Native Daughters of the Golden West

"Life, earth's greatest gift to the human race, has taken on a brighter hue within the past few weeks, for the season of spring has returned and with it a deeper evidence of this gift, and its meaning to mankind. Again the green gets back into the trees, the flowers put forth their blooms, the song of God's feathered songsters is heard in all the land. It is the season of resurrection.

"Who is there to stand among men, amid all this evidence of life, and of a newborn life, and doubt the promise of the One who said in ages past 'I will give ye a new heaven and a new earth?' Who can watch the unfolding of His natural blessings to mankind as Easter, the day of resurrection, approaches, and question mankind's nativity, his way of salvation of his ultimate fate? Surely if all other proof failed of a divinity that shapes our lives, the Easter season would be sufficient.

"Deep within our hearts, Sisters of our Order, as the Holy anniversary morn approaches, there will come an inspiration of the new life. To us will come a wish to sing aloud our happiness. New desires for our life's work will spring into life. Let us then prepare ourselves to successfully accomplish these desires for the good of our Order.

"May the blessings of Easter Tide be yours. Sincerely and fraternally,

"HAZEL B. HANSEN,
Grand President N.D.G.W.

Tree Dedicated to Pioneers' Memory.

San Andreas—Arbor Day, March 7, was celebrated by San Andreas No. 113 with the planting of a blue spruce tree in the Calaveras County Park in San Andreas. A social hour and refreshments followed the meeting. Members brought plants to the March 13 meeting and they were auctioned for the benefit of the homeless children fund; Esther Marsicano was in charge of the sale.

The Parlor had its spring party March 27, and a gay evening of games, entertainment and refreshments was enjoyed; Genevieve Constantine was chairman of the arrangements committee. To participate in the commemoration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the City of Berkeley, Sequoia will plant and dedicate a large redwood tree in the new Civic Center. Mrs. Marian McGuire is chairman of the committee in charge.

MADRONE TREE MARKED

Grass Valley—A marker placed at the foot of a majestic madrone tree near Union Hill was unveiled March 9 under the auspices of Manzanita Parlor No. 29 N.D.G.W. The weather was ideal and over a hundred citizens attended the impressive ceremonies. The tree, declared to be the largest in this vicinity, is estimated to be between 65 and 75 years of age. It stands like a rugged giant, weathering the storms and spreading its protective branches over the surrounding areas.

The idea of marking this outstanding landmark originated with Manzanita Parlor members and was brought to fruition with the cooperation of the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation. Executive Vice-president Errol MacBoyle assured the Native Daughters he would do all in his power to preserve the tree as it now stands, and he provided the granite base for the marker, which is inscribed: "This Madrone Tree Marked for Preservation by Manzanita Parlor No. 29 N.D.G.W. March 7, 1941."

Eben K. Smart, Grand Trustee N.S.G.W., was master of ceremonies, and the program included: Musical selection, John Blamey; reading, "Conservation," Mrs. Margaret Nolan; vocal solos, "High on a Hilltop" and "Trees," Harold Hansen, president Quartz Parlor No. 58 N.S.G.W.; recitation, "Madrone," Mrs. Marlynn Berryman; cornet solo, "America the Beautiful," John Blamey; remarks and unveiling of marker, Miss Katherine Gallino, president Manzanita Parlor; chorus, "America," assemblage.—L.A.K.

baugh—and Alta Trowbridge led the assembly singing of patriotic airs.

Many other members and guests joined the diners for the later initiatory ceremonies, when two candidates were initiated for each Parlor. Grand President Hansen delivered an inspiring address, which was listened to with rapt attention. She was the recipient of a gift from San Juan Bautista presented by the officers, carrying American flags. The gift from Copa de Oro was presented by a group representing the home, the school and the church, the foundations of democracy. Marjorie Lanning sang "I Am An American." The meetinghall decorations featured an American eagle before a huge draped flag. Punch and cookies were served at the close of the happy evening.

To Participate in Centennial Celebration.

Chico—Annie K. Bidwell No. 168 has accepted an invitation to assist in commemorating the arrival in California in 1841 of General John Bidwell, colorful Pioneer and history maker. A pageant, "The Prince of Pioneers," will feature the centennial celebration of May 19 being sponsored by the City of Chico. The Parlor's committee includes Alice Richardson, Winifred Kennedy, Katie Peterson, Cora Hintz, Bessie Nelson, Opal Meriam, Lucy Girdler and Eleanor Carlson. (More on Page 19)

SANTA BARBARA DOINGS

Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W. and Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W. recently sent their administrative boards into conference for evaluation of program. Dr. Anna E. McCaughey served as co-ordinator, with President Raymond B. Romero representing the Sons and President Sylvia Griffiths the Daughters. The Parlor is determined to keep positive the part they play in meeting the objectives of the Orders, particularly as they affect the community life of Santa Barbara. To assist in lifting program into more effective channels the past presidents associations will be called on to assist. The administrative boards of the two organizations will meet quarterly in the future.

Easter Sunday morning Reina del Mar will serve its annual Easter breakfast. Mrs. William A. Birss is in charge of arrangements. There will be seasonal expression through program and an accenting of the history objective of the Parlor. Receipts from the breakfast will be used in financing participation in Old Spanish Days Fiesta, held annually in the light of the August moon.

Reina del Mar is developing its younger members as bridge-builders under Miss Maxine Hartman. March 30 a breakfast was served at La Cumbre Country Club in suburban Montecito and the year's program of Los Flesteros group was developed.

March 20 the Native Sons met to nominate delegates to the Lake Tahoe Grand Parlor for election at the April 3 meeting, and also to nominate directors for the Native Sons Building Fund. There was a variety show lasting an hour, and a sea-food banquet prepared by Frank Castro.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS FIFTY-FIFTH ANNUAL GRAND PARLOR

THE FIFTY-FIFTH ANNUAL GRAND Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West will convene at Los Angeles City Monday, June 16, for a four-day session. Grand President Hazel Bruschi-Hansen of Verdugo Parlor No. 240, Glendale, will preside throughout the deliberations.

Arrangements for the Los Angeles Grand Parlor are being made by a general committee composed of representatives from all the Los Angeles, Orange and San Bernardino Counties Subordinate Parlors: Los Angeles No. 124, Los Angeles; Long Beach No. 154, Long Beach; Rudecinda No. 230, San Pedro; Santa Ana No. 235, Santa Ana; Verdugo No. 240, Glendale; Lugonia No. 241, San Bernardino; Grace No. 242, Placentia; Californiana No. 247, Los Angeles; Ontario No. 251, Ontario; Compton No. 258, Compton; East Los Angeles No. 266, Los Angeles; La Reina No. 267, Los Angeles; Topanga No. 269, Canoga Park.

Officers of the general committee are: Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, chairman; Mary B. Noerenberg, vice-chairman; Edna Neikirk and Eugenia Smith, secretaries; Flora M. Holy, treasurer. These officers, with Supervising Deputies Evalyn Wilson, Maude VanFleet and Genevieve Hiskey, and the presidents of the several Parlors—Helen Lee, Margaret Burch, Katherine Mooney, Adlena Marshall, Mary Miller, Margaret Boehm, Evelyn Stroeheim, Isabel Paves, Frances Mitchell, Hazel Corbett, Dorothy Camy, Nell Jacques-Brown and Marguerite Tann—make up the executive committee.

The general committee has been meeting twice monthly for some time, and an exceptionally attractive entertainment program is being arranged. This will be the first Grand Parlor meeting ever held in Los Angeles, and an unusually large attendance of members of the Order from all sections of the state is anticipated. Subordinate Parlors must nominate their Grand Parlor delegates the last regular meetings in April, and elect the first regular meetings in May. Resolutions to be introduced at the Los Angeles session must be filed in the office of Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler before April 30.

Unless custom be reversed, and there is no indication that it will be, Grand Vice-president Clarice E. Cook of Caliz de Oro Parlor No. 206, Stockton, will be chosen Grand President at Los Angeles.

"GRAND PARLOR THE CULMINATION OF THE YEAR'S ACHIEVEMENTS." (MARY B. NOERENBERG.)

Twenty-three years ago, in Santa Cruz, that sprightly red-headed miss from Los Angeles, Grace S. Stoermer, took the seat of honor and presided over the Thirty-second Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West. As the Fifty-fifth Grand Parlor is to be held this coming June in Los Angeles, it seems most appropriate that, as Past Grand President, she has been selected by Grand President Hazel B. Hansen of Glendale to serve as the general chairman. When interviewed about plans, theme and arrangements, she gave a cryptic smile, but we knew from her past achievements that this is going to be the best Grand Parlor ever.

Recalling her own Grand Parlor, Miss Stoermer said: "Every Grand Parlor, like each season, is relished because it differs from its predecessor. It is the culmination of the year's achievements and with the different projects of our Order, the changes in our year's routine cannot help but fill memories with treasures priceless in value.

"How synonymous it seems that women today, like in 1917 and 1918, are called upon to defend all they have—honor, heritage, everything they hold most dear. Civilization is on the march to where? But what does that mean to us, as Native Daughters of the Golden West? We are in a world where stress analysis and force application play a most important part. We, as Native Daughters, can make our force applications in americanism, sound patriotism, betterment of local conditions, political, social and cultural. When we aid in placing homeless children we are forcing the betterment of social environment which aids the acceleration of better citizens. It is our responsibility as women to defend our heritage because women are the psychic centers of power in the future."

POSTOFFICE CORNERSTONE LAYING AND DEDICATION

Saint Helena (Napa County)—Some five hundred people attended March 2 the cornerstone laying and the dedication of the new United States Postoffice Building under the auspices of Saint Helena Parlor No. 53 N.S.G.W. and La Junta Parlor No. 203 N.D.G.W. Paul R. Alexander was the master of ceremonies, musical selections were rendered by the Saint Helena High School band and flag raising ceremonies were conducted by Saint Helena Boy Scouts of America Troop.

Rev. Herbert Booth Smith Jr. gave the invocation and Mayor Walter Metzner of Saint Helena Parlor extended a welcome. Other speakers were Postal Inspector O. H. Fuller of Quartz Parlor No. 58 N.S.G.W., Grand President Henry S. Lyon of the Native Sons and Past Grand President Anna M. Armstrong of the Native Daughters. A message from Congressman Frank H. Buck of Sacramento Parlor No. 3 N.S.G.W. was read, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Father John J. O'Brien.

The cornerstone laying ceremonies were conducted by the following Native Sons: Grand President Henry S. Lyon, Grand First Vice-president Edward T. Schnarr, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Trustees Walter C. Richards and Eben K. Smart, and Grand Historian Dr. Peter T. Conmy. The following Native Daughters officiated at the dedicatory ceremonies: Past Grand Presidents Anna M. Armstrong and Orinda G. Giannini, and Grand Vice-president Clarice E. Cook. Preceding the program the visiting grand officers were entertained at luncheon by Saint Helena and La Junta Parlors. A postoffice was established in Saint Helena December 15, 1856, with George McLeod as the postmaster.

SAN JOSE DOINGS

San Jose—The first annual get-together of the nine Santa Clara County N.D.G.W. and N.S.G.W. Parlors, held here March 8, was attended by more than 200 members of the Orders. Supervising Deputies Henriette Marcotte and James P. McCall presided, and patriotic addresses were delivered by Grand Presidents Hazel B. Hansen and Henry S. Lyon.

Other officials introduced were Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Grand Treasurer John A. Corotto, Past Grand Presidents Bertha A. Briggs and Evelyn I. Carlson, Grand Vice-president Clarice Cook, Grand Marshal Rose Rhyner, Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Trustees Doris Treat, Evelyn Towne and Ethel Enos, Grand Outside Sentinel Zouza Tompkins, Deputies Margaret Farnsworth, Ivy Rost, Harriette McPheeters, Helena Hansen, Leonard Avilla, Joseph Semino, Jack Collins and Harold Semichy. Appearing on the entertainment program, presented by William S. Burke, were Sergeant Nutting, Mrs. A. S. Smith, the Royal Hawaiians, Jonny Allen, Dr. John M. Howatt, Lucille Roberts and Glennabel Moening. The decorations, in a Saint Patrick motif, were supervised by Ada Fox.—I.M.S.

Former N.D. Grand Officer Passes.

Mrs. Clara Gairaud, affiliated with Vendome Parlor No. 100 N.D.G.W., died suddenly March 7, survived by her husband, David J. Gairaud, and a son, L. Louis Gairaud, both identified with Observatory Parlor No. 177 N.S.G.W. She was born at San Jose, August 12, 1869. Deceased attended several Grand Parlors as a delegate from Vendome, and served two terms as Grand Organist and two terms as Grand Trustee. Memorial services for Mrs. Gairaud were held by the Parlor March 12. President Margaret Cobb presided and a eulogy written by Past Grand President Mamie Pierce-Carmichael was read by Elizabeth Hayes. [Death came to David J. Gairaud March 13, one week after his wife's demise he was born at Santa Clara City, January 1, 1868.]

Dinner-Dance.

The dinner-dance of Observatory Parlor No. 177 N.S.G.W. at the San Jose Country Club March 1 was well attended and greatly enjoyed. President William S. Burke extended a welcome on the Parlor's behalf, and George Leese headed the arrangements committee.

Arbor Day Observed.

At the Arbor Day ceremonies sponsored by Vendome Parlor No. 100 N.D.G.W. two trees were planted in honor of Luther Burbank. Participating in the program, planned by Ed Graham, were Allan P. Lindsay, Marshall Hall, Margaret Farnsworth, Madeleine Malove, Past Grand President Mamie Pierce-Carmichael, Harry C. Young, Edward Teubner, and pupil of the Herbert Hoover Junior High School at the Woodrow Wilson Junior High School.

The Parlor's sewing club, Winifred Latta chairman, is enjoying evening parties at the homes of members. Gertrude Roberts is chairman of the Wednesday afternoon series of card parties that are proving very profitable for the Parlor. Vendome initiated a class of candidates March 26. Julia and Martha Waddington have charge of the banquet room, and Ada Fox arranged the decorations.—I.M.S.

Long Beach—The highlight of March for the members of Long Beach Parlor No. 154 N.D.G.W. was an open meeting the 20th. Chairman Elizabeth Campbell arranged a very interesting program. The chief feature, emphasizing Arbor Day, was the showing of colored films of California trees by Mr. Goodcell of the public relations department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Refreshments were served by the March committee, Minnie Wagner chairman.

During the past months the efforts of all members of the Parlor have been turned towards the support of benefit affairs, sponsored by the officers to raise No. 154's quota of Grand Parlor entertainment funds.

Under the chairmanship of Nell Cooke, plans are well under way to make the April 17 official visit to Long Beach of Grand President Hazel B. Hansen an outstanding affair. All members of the Order are cordially invited to attend. Chairman Leola Temby announces the Mother's Day breakfast will be held May 4 at 10 a.m. in Recreation Park Clubhouse, and requests that reservations be made not later than May 1.—E.S.

SAN PEDRO—THE SIXTEENTH INSITUATION anniversary of Rudecinda Parlor No. 259 N.S.G.W. was celebrated March 7 at a dinner at the home of President Katherine Mooney. Ten charter members were among those in attendance, and Deputy Lucille Adams and Dorothy Perry were guests.

Silent tribute was paid Mrs. Carrie Lenhouse-Northway, organizer of the Parlor, and Mrs. Rudecinda Dodson, after whom the Parlor is named, both deceased. The latter was the mother of Mrs. Florence Dodson-Schoneemann, chairman Grand Parlor Pioneer Relics Committee, a member of No. 230.

Following the dinner a handkerchief shower was held for Mrs. Ann Mooney-Churchman, who left the following week to join her husband in Philadelphia. Arrangements for the anniversary celebration were made by a committee composed of Marcella Sandoval, Catherine Hackett, May O'Malley, Dessie Buyo and Ann Churchman.

The Florencita Thimble Club met March 12 and 16 at the homes of Dessie Buyo and Virginia Bruckner for luncheon and work. Marcella Sandoval was hostess at a series of card parties held during March. Deputy Lucille Adams, accompanied by a delegation of Compton Parlor No. 258 members, visited Rudecinda March 24. Refreshments were served after the meeting.—R.B.

MOTHER MISSION IN MINIATURE

The glory of old California mission days is portrayed in America's first notable outdoor miniature, the "Little Mission of San Diego," on display in the Lido gardens of the Los Angeles Ambassador Hotel until April 20.

This remarkable reproduction of the mother mission about the year 1820 is drawing much interest from California history fans. Considerable research was conducted in order to build an authentic model of the entire mission establishment. The quadrangle shows those buildings so much a part of the mission's early life, but now completely gone. The model is constructed one inch to the foot and covers an area of more than one thousand square feet. Small figures of people and animals dramatize mission scenes with amazing reality.

Organizations wishing to sponsor a day or evening at the exhibit may do so by writing "Little Mission" Attendance Committee, 1342 North Martel, Hollywood. There is necessarily a small door charge to continue this work, which will present the entire mission chain.

California Aggie Picnic Day is billed for April 19 on the Davis, Yolo County, campus of the University of California.

GRIZZLY GROWLS

NOTE—Expressions of opinion in these "Growls" are, unless indicated otherwise, those of the Managing Editor.

Clarence M. Hunt

The expected has happened. The Federal Congress has approved H.R. 1776, the "Lease-Lend Bill," and it has become a law. The yes-men responded faithfully to the cry of the "hidden rulers of the world"—the dollar-worshipping cutthroats that promote war and thrive on misery—and again the people of these United States will be forced to foot the bill of making the world safe, not for democracy, as the war propagandists contend, but for British imperialism. These comments, by outstanding Americans, should be given serious thought:

United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California—"We hear that we are dependent for our safety upon the British fleet. Since when did the United States become so palsied and so feeble as to demand protection from any fleet, or any army or any nation? . . . I don't care what the British premier says about not wanting our men. It does not lie in human nature to lure us into a war and then make no demands on our manpower. . . . War—this bill is war. They (its supporters) purr peace, but have a passion for swords and stilettos. In every line, though cloaked and hidden, it shrieks its presence, and soon will burst forth in all its fury. . . . Have you been consulted, you who pay in blood and treasure? . . . God bless and save America!"

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh—"We in America are being led to war by a group of interventionists and foreign interests, against the will of a majority of our people. . . . In British propaganda lies the danger of our involvement. . . . It is often asked today why our rearmament program moves so slowly, why our people are so divided and confused. Why indeed! The answer is clear. It is because we have neglected the wisdom and experience of our forefathers—we have not followed Washington's advice. We have let the destiny of America become confused and entangled with that of foreign lands."

United States Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana—"All-out aid for England, Greece and China means all-in war for the United States. . . . During the 1940 presidential campaign it was all aid 'short of war'—now it is 'all-out effort'—and the opiate phrase 'short of war' is conspicuously lacking. . . . Is this what the American people want? Do you want your foreign policy directly or indirectly dictated by a European imperialist? . . . Just as before the last world war, the British have again invaded Washington—not with redcoats [as in 1812], but with some 2,000 agents and employees disseminating war propaganda. . . . Propaganda has made honest though deluded Americans actually believe opposition to war and dictatorship in the United States is pro-Nazi."

United States Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota—"The only navy in the world that has ever been a threat to any liberty or any policy pursued in the Western Hemisphere is the navy which we are now caused to believe is our first line of defense. We never, never have been dependent upon the British navy. . . . It is the British Empire that is calling us. And this empire doesn't even know the meaning of the word democracy. . . . Step by step through the centuries and right down to the present time, British imperialism has extended British sovereignty over people, until now the empire numbers nearly if not all of a half-billion souls. And these have been won by conquest, by invasion—by the very kind of aggression we deplore and want to stop today. Be honest; if we join Great Britain in the cause of stopping aggressors, we join the power that has practiced more aggression than any other power in recorded history."

The Federal Census Bureau reports one-fifth of Americans' income in 1940 went for taxes. Collections totaled $14,300,000,000—an average of $109 per person. And, we "ain't seen nuthin yet" in the way of taxation!

The State Supreme Court has ruled that women veterans of this country's wars are entitled to a $1,000 tax exemption in California, just as are the men veterans. A just decision.

Defense officials of the Federal Government are reported to have admitted that three of this nation's "big" interests—DuPonts, General Motors and Bethlehem Steel—obtained in a seven-month period twenty-three percent of all defense contracts exceeding a million dollars. "Nuf ced."

President Alfred J. Lundberg of the California State Chamber of Commerce warns that, if the "economic diseases" of this nation be not overcome, the "depression that will surely follow the defense boom will be one that will make 1933 look like boom times."

WHAT THIS COUNTRY NEEDS IS MORE AMERICANISM and less britishism.

The California Fruit Exchange is authority for the good news that, in spite of the unusually wet winter, this state's grape and deciduous fruit crops will be normal.

The State Finance Department has instructed all of the governmental agencies to save money for the taxpayers by using postcards instead of letters for correspondence. Straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel! About fifty percent of the branch-governments should be abolished.

Because of war activities, rents in several California communities are being skyrocketed beyond all reason. Assessors and tax collectors should act accordingly, for the best and only way to curb the rent-shylock is through the pocketbook.

Bishop Karl Morgan Block of the Protestant Episcopal Church says "The basis of true citizenship is loyalty to God, from which springs that aristocracy of character on which all true democratic citizenship is built."

Citing the cost of the world war,—10,000,000 lives by the sword, 30,000,000 more by famine and pestilence, and $400,000,000,000 in money—Dr. W. Ballentine Henley suggests: "Before boarding the war train, know where you are going, what it will cost to get there, and what good to mankind will come of it." He sees grave danger "in the propaganda techniques being used in the guise of defense of democracy."

Quoting President Robert Gordon Sproul of the University of California: "Our American political philosophy is based upon the concept that there is something about the human spirit which is sacred; that there is a place in the human soul that no government and no man may justly enter, where reside those inalienable rights that the Declaration of Independence asserts in its stirring periods. That, of course, is religion quite as much as democracy and we cannot reject the one and retain the other."

CALIFORNIA HISTORY ON THE SPOT

(DOROTHY M. CATON.)

THE LIFE OF THE CALIFORNIA STATE Historical Association is in jeopardy!

The budget recommended by the State Department of Education for support of the Association for 1941-43 was abruptly deleted from the official budget before it was presented to the Legislature. Unless this is restored, the Association will have no funds for operation in the coming biennium.

Furthermore, a bill has already been introduced (S.B. 1093) by misguided advocates of "economy at any cost," to abolish the Association and transfer its "powers, duties, books," etc. to the University of California.

Either of these blows would be enough to hurt the state historical work severely, but both abolishment and lack of support would be conclusively fatal. The University was not consulted about the proposed transfer and has no funds to develop or even to keep alive the functions of the Association. Transfer would mean that California, already lagging behind half the states in this respect, would give up entirely the policy of state support for state history.

There are many reasons why this should not happen, especially at a time of national crisis when public morale should be strengthened. An indispensable phase of a defense program is building up in citizens, young and old, an informed appreciation of the value of human heritage and ideals as expressed in growth of community and commonwealth. Faith in democracy has its roots and its justifications in local history.

Since its inception in 1923, the Association has been devoted to collecting and popularizing accurate state history, and to preparing useful tools for study. Its function is to supplement the work of local societies, not to compete with them. Membership and publications are available to all at moderate cost. One of its products is the "California History Nugget," a popular magazine which by co-operation of the Department of Education will be issued this spring. Printed in editions of 18,000 or 20,000 for free distribution to all public schools in the state having pupils enrolled in grades 7 and 8. A revised Directory of Organizations interested in California history will be issued this spring. Clerical workers paid from WPA funds have made notable additions to a growing index of historical and geographical place names in the state. Material available for publication includes a handbook of California landgrants; a catalog of periodical articles 1854-1914; election returns for 1849 with names of voters; and a geographical index to seven volumes of Bancroft's "History of California" including footnotes.

Albert V. Mayrhofer of San Diego Parlor No. 108 N.S.G.W. has served as president of the Association for several years. He urges all members of the Orders of Native Sons of the Golden West and Native Daughters of the Golden West to help the Association retain its place as the official agency for promotion of California history. Letters to legislators should stress reinstatement of the Association in the biennial budget, defeat of S.B. 1093, and approval of two identical bills (A.B. 1529 and S.B. 48) which will provide funds for publication.

LOVED NATIVE DAUGHTER PASSES.

Just as the last pages of this issue of THE GRIZZLY BEAR were about to go on the press, Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West advised the passing of Past Grand President Carrie Roesch-Durham at Stockton, March 26.

Mrs. Durham, loved by all who knew her, presided as Grand President at the Fourth (San Rosa 1890) Grand Parlor, and had the distinction of having attended all of the fifty-four annual sessions of the Grand Parlor. She was member of Joaquin Parlor No. 5, Stockton.

THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOWS (LIDA NEWMAN DIEDERICH.)

In the beautiful psalm that has comforted souls through centuries long past,
There is a glorious promise
That will even Death outlast.

When we enter the Valley of Shadow
We do not there abide;
We only "walk through the valley,"
And our God walks close beside.

When the Angel of Death calls us to come
There is no room for doubt or fear,
For His rod and His staff bring comfort;
His presence is always near.

Death means only a trip through the Valley
That we do not take alone—
For a tender hand is holding ours
And His blessed Peace is our own.

AMERICAN DEMOCRACY

AT THE PRESENT TIME MORE thought is being given to the concepts of American Democracy than ever before in our history. This is true not only in America, but also throughout the entire world. Certain individuals and certain organizations in the Old World are not in accord with the ideals of our democracy, and they look upon our country and our ideals with hatred and contempt, mingled with apprehension.

"It is a sad reflection upon our civilization to find, as we do today, the forces of greed, hatred, ambition for dictatorial power and individual political advancement, seeking and wreaking destruction of human lives—not only combatants, but innocent and helpless men, women and children,—in order to gratify the lusts of the leaders of those races.

"The sanctity of the home and the church; the preservation of historic landmarks, works of art and architecture; and, as well, the utility of schools and hospitals, no longer are held sacred by the 'war masters,' and all are being swept aside or crushed as they stand in the path of men gone mad in their misuse of power and their attempt to seize and take by sheer force of power lands and property to which they are not entitled. Such conduct cannot be justified, and any attempt to do so betrays a sympathy for such practices by the parties seeking such justification.

"Americans, from the very inception of our government, have realized the great importance of organizing and preserving a democracy—one in which we would call an American Democracy. We have the freedom of religious worship—the right of worshipping God in the manner of conscience dictates and of closing the church and the domination of our belief; the right of a free press; the right to have social, fraternal and political gatherings where problems may be freely sounded and discussed. Public and free educational institutions have been and always will be the bulwark of American Democracy, which guarantee to all the right to live and to live in an American home, and wherein the rights of others are duly considered and violations thereof are met with appropriate and legal redress.

We are today being called upon to defend the form of government. Many sacrifices are being made, and we are going to be called upon to make many more—in money, time, ability and, perhaps, with our lives. These sacrifices must not be limited to any class of people, but must be borne by all of us equally. And all of us must be loyal to our government, truly patriotic, and devoted only by the highest ideals, whether we wear the khaki, a white collar, work on the farm or work in the factory. We must not allow our pocketbooks to either expand or limit our patriotism.

Let us present a united front! Regardless of the activity or association of individuals, we must expect and demand loyalty to our government.

(GRAND PRESIDENT N.S.G.W.)

Those of us who remain at home have a tremendous task ahead of us, and let it not be said by those in the military service of our country that we who have our part to do at home have shirked our duty.

"Every member of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West has taken obligations in har-clearly not only our duty, but a privilege. We should strive always to make California a brighter star in the 'Union of Stars' and a better and happier place in which to live and rear our children.

"I have greatly enjoyed my term as Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, and I am looking forward with keen enthusiasm to the Grand Parlor which will convene this year at Lake Tahoe, El Dorado County, from May 19th to May 22nd, inclusive.

"An increased and active membership in the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, as an aid to the preservation of our American Democracy, should be the principal theme motivating us for the good of our Order, our beloved native state, California, and our country, the United States of America."

LET STUDENTS FINISH COLLEGE.

The world will need engineers, physicians, educators and statesmen when the war is over, according to Dr. Gordon S. Watkins, dean of the College of Letters and Science on the Los Angeles Campus of the University of California, and it is of the utmost importance that American college men and women be allowed to finish their studies during the present crisis.

He points out that while there is no definite national policy on this question at the present time, the United States should profit from the example of nations already at war. "Perhaps one of the most heroic chapters in current history is being written in China, where colleges and universities with their large student bodies have migrated thousands of miles into the interior as a consequence of Japanese invasion," he says. "The government of China is insisting that young men and women continue their college education, and a similar policy has been formulated in other warring nations.

"In the new world that must necessarily emerge from the present conflict, a world burdened with unprecedented problems of economic, political and social reconstruction, the need for trained men and women will be great. Extraordinary intelligence, cultivated by higher education, will be required to guide a disorganized world into channels of constructive readjustment."

FIRST NATIONAL FOREST FIFTY YEARS OLD.

The National Forest system is fifty years old this year, although the name, "National Forest," did not come into use until 1907. The Federal Forest Service recalls that the beginning of the system was a tract of a million and a quarter acres in Wyoming set aside by President Benjamin Harrison in an order of March 30, 1891, and confirmed by proclamation, September 10, 1891. This tract is now part of the Shoshone and Teton National Forests in Wyoming.

President Harrison in 1891 made a second reservation of more than a million acres of public land in Colorado, the White River Plateau Timberland Reserve, now the White River National Forest. In 1892 he followed with eight reservations—more than 3,300,000 acres in all—in Colorado, New Mexico, Oregon and California; and the Afognak Forest and Fish Culture Reserve, now a part of the Chugach National Forest in Alaska.

The present system includes one hundred and sixty national forests and nearly one-tenth of the land area of the United States.

HENRY S. LYON of Placerville,
Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West.

mony with the exalted principles and ideals of our American Democracy.

"As brothers of our fraternity and as true, loyal and patriotic citizens of the State of California, let us ever be on the alert for sympathizers and agents of foreign governments spreading subversive propaganda in an attempt to undermine our system of American Democracy. This is

EL DORADO COUNTY

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR MAGAZINE.)

AT THE SIXTY-THIRD (BAKERSFIELD 1940) Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West a resolution was adopted stipulating that the 1941 Grand Parlor meet "at Lake Tahoe in El Dorado County."

The resolution was approved as a tribute to El Dorado County's two fine old Subordinate Parlors, Placerville No. 9 and Georgetown No. 91, and to honor the incoming Grand President, Henry S. Lyon, who wanted the Grand Parlor session over which he will preside to meet in his native county, El Dorado. The 1941 session will be El Dorado County's first Native Sons Grand Parlor.

El Dorado County is one of the original counties of California, having been created by act of the State Legislature February 18, 1850. When first created it was somewhat larger than at present, having lost territory in 1851 by the creation of Placer County on the north and again in 1854 by the establishment of Amador County on the south. The names given to the twenty-seven original counties (including El Dorado) were, in many instances, carried over from local names which had, as it were, grown up with the places. For this reason the Legislature appointed a committee to trace the history and meaning of the names of the twenty-seven original counties. This committee, headed by Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo, reported April 16 of the same year and had this to say concerning the origin of El Dorado as a place name:

"El Dorado—the far-famed fabulous region of genial clime and never-fading verdure, where gold and precious stones are as common as rocks and pebbles, where wines gently flow from fountains, where wheat spontaneously grows overtopped with tiny loaves of bread, and pigeons fly about already roasted, where nature has converted the rudest things into harmony of shape and appearance, and where, in fine, a creature of the genus mulier, full of sympathy and grace, trips about in natural loveliness, the most beautiful of God's creations. Francis Orellana, a companion of Pizarro, first spread the account of supposed existence of this province in South America. As it is universally known how and when the discovery (of gold) was made that has caused the star of the west to spring up as if by magic, given it the appropriate epithet of 'golden,' and will eventually revolutionize the world, more than the passing remark that gold was first discovered in this country at Sutter's Mill, is here deemed unnecessary. The county derives its name from this circumstance."

The term El Dorado is the Spanish for field of gold. From the above quotation, however, it will be seen that by virtue of Orellana's writing the term had come to connote a land of plenty. And in this respect the word was not ill applied as the name of this county, for truly it may be said that El Dorado County is a land of plenty. Today as one drives into El Dorado County from Sacramento County on the west, he first enters a large cattle-raising area. As he proceeds further east the ranches give way to vegetable gardens and fruit orchards, pears being one of the principal crops. Still further east the lumbering and mining areas are found and, finally, at the extreme eastern end of the county, a jewel in the high Sierra, crowning the county as it were, is the beautiful and world-famous Lake Tahoe.

It was at the old town of Coloma, about ten miles north of the present City of Placerville that, January 24, 1848, James W. Marshall discovered gold. Within two years Coloma had a population of over two thousand, and for this reason was made the county seat when El Dorado County was organized in 1850. In 1857, however, the population of Coloma having dropped and Placerville occupying a more central position, the latter was made county seat and still holds that honor. However, the fact that gold was discovered in El Dorado County does not imply that this brought about the opening up of the area. As a matter of fact, the lumber industry antedates the mining. Sutter's Mill was built in 1847. As one drives into the county today from the Sacramento County line the first settlement through which he passes recalls the early lumber industry. This is the quaint old hamlet of Shingle Springs, so named because a shingle machine was operated there by a man named Scott in 1847.

The present City of Placerville has had an interesting history. The people there, progressive and prosperous, have tried to keep pace of the times, and have introduced many improvements. However, they have not been able—and it is hoped never will be able—to escape the contour which pioneer days has bequeathed them. Placerville began as a mining camp. In this respect it should be emphasized that the city was not a mining camp situated near a gold field, as in so many instances in northern California. In this case the camp was the gold field. Placerville was, and still is, a mass of ravines. In the early days a creek flowed through each one of them. The prospectors discovered that these little mountain streams were laden with deposits of the precious metal, and for this reason the settlement began in the year 1849. It is interesting to note that Placerville, the successor of Coloma as the county seat and as the chief settlement in El Dorado County, was itself discovered because Coloma was overcrowded and some realized that the Coloma field would soon be exhausted. The principal street of Placerville today follows the course of the principal ravine of the old days.

A false impression has been given of the early history of Placerville by a number of popular accounts which have emphasized a name by which the place was known in 1849, namely, Hangtown. It should be noted that this was never the official name. Also, it should be understood that there were no more hangings in Placerville than in other western villages. As a matter of fact, the name came to be applied not because of an unusual number of hangings, but because of the fact that the first tribunal of popular, or vigilante, justice in the mining days was at Placerville. Three men were hanged there one night by an excited mob for a crime—not murder—allegedly committed a year before. The tree from which the men were hanged stood for many years on the principal street, but today is commemorated by a marker. This incident which took place in 1849, is responsible for the appellation Hangtown. There were some, however, who wished this name to be officially adopted, but in 1852 the Legislature decreed otherwise, and after fully considering the name Hangtown and Ravine City, which had also been proposed, determined on the name Placerville. This was because the placer, as opposed to the sluice, mining method was being used in the many ravines. In 1848 and 1849, before the hanging of the three men, the camp was known as Dry Diggings. Placerville was incorporated May 13, 1854. The first mayor was Alexander Hunter.

Placerville is today the outstanding city of the Mother Lode, as El Dorado has always been a foremost county. Writing in 1868, Cronise in his "The Natural Wealth of California" gives a clue as why this part of California has gone ahead. This is due to the fact that through the county runs an arterial which connects California with the State of Nevada to the east. There were four passes which connected California with Nevada. The northernmost of these was through Plumas and Lassen Counties. Below this was one through Nevada County, and the one through Placer County. South of these and more centrally located, is the one which runs through El Dorado County. This one, however, has a double advantage. First, it leads from Placerville to Lake Tahoe and thence into Nevada through the Johnson Pass. Second, it leads through Placerville and then further east in the county connects with Alpine County via the famous Kit Carson Pass which Fremont used in 1844. When the silver rush was on in Nevada, and especially when the Washoe excitement was raging, miners passed through Dorado County in large numbers. Not only miners, but wagons with supplies being shipped from the "Port of the West," San Francisco. This led to a demand for a railroad through Dorado County. A preliminary meeting was held as early as 1854, but was not provocative of tangible results. In the winter of 1857 one J. Johnson carried the mail on snowshoes from Placerville into Carson City, Nevada. The path which he used is known as Johnson Pass, and has become known as "Snowshoe" Johnson the history of El Dorado County.

A line of tri-weekly stages was established from Placerville to Genoa, in the Carson Valley of Nevada, via Johnson Pass in 1856. In 1858 the overland mail from Salt Lake to Sacramento was also brought over this route. This eventually increased the demand for a railroad, many years before. In 1866 the Federal Congress authorized a floating grant of ten sections per mile for building the railroad through El Dorado County and to Virginia City, Nevada. To the end and purpose the Placerville and Sacramento Valley Railroad Company was formed. Both El Dorado County and the City of Placerville bought stock in this company under special authority granted by the Legislature. The road, however, was a disappointment. It was but only twenty-six miles from the Sacramento County line into El Dorado County. Angered, the people of the county petitioned Congress to revoke the subsidy granted in 1866, and this was done in 1874. Later, however, a line was built as far as Placerville.

The first church in Placerville was erected in 1850, being a Baptist Church and consisting of poles wrapped with canvas. In 1851 a United Church was erected. In 1852 Bishop Soule of the Methodist Church visited the settlement and the crowd being too large for the church, services, in true pioneer fashion, were held in a nearby gambling saloon.

In holding the Sixty-fourth annual Grand Major Session at Lake Tahoe, the Native Sons of the Golden West are honoring more than the Mother Lode Grand President, Henry S. Lyon, himself a native of the old mining settlement of Smith Flat, a few miles east of Placerville. They are honoring the men and women of the past citizens of Dry Diggings, Hangtown, Ravine City, Georgetown, Coloma, Gold Hill, Kelsey Smith Flat—the El Dorado County Pioneer—the long ago.

This year's festival will be on a more elaborate scale than any yet held and will bring together May 4, the day of the historical parade and free barbecue, more Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters than any other event in the state, aside from the observance of Admis-

A BELOVED NATIVE DAUGHTER PASSES AWAY

MRS. CARRIE ROESCH-DURHAM, Senior Past Grand President of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, passed away at her Stockton, San Joaquin County, home March 26. During her term as Grand President she instituted ten Parlors, and her appointment by Grand President Olive Edford-Matlock at the Twenty-seventh (Tallahassee 1931) Grand Parlor, she was the chairman of the important Credentials Committee.

Briggs, Evelyn I. Carlisle, and a California State (Bear) Flag to the City of Redlands, and it was accepted by Councilman G. Richard Rees, a member of the Parlor. The flag will fly over the City Hall beneath the United States of America Flag, presented at the same time by Redlands American Legion Post No. 106.

son, Sue J. Irwin and Mary E. Bell, and Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler. Past Grand President Mae B. Wilkin delivered this eulogy.

"As text, I give you Gentleness, Courtesy, Loyalty.

"Carrie Roesch-Durham, daughter of Conrad and Christina Roesch of Stockton's very earliest group of Pioneers and wife of the late William W. Durham, was born in Stockton on the same property where she spent her entire life, except for the few years of her married life in Durham, Butte County, and in Stockton she met the summons which took her from a very full life, rich in the doing of things so well done and so well worth the doing.

"An exemplar of loyalty to the fundamentals of the activities which engaged her attention as a member of the Presbyterian Church, the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, the Rebeccas and the Kings Daughters, Carrie Durham's interest never wavered after achieving the greatest recognition they had to offer her. Especially has this been so in her association with the Native Daughters.

CARRIE ROESCH-DURHAM

"A charter member of Joaquin Parlor No. 5, she represented it, as a delegate, at the First Grand Parlor, in 1887, and again in 1888, when she was elected Grand Vice-president, a forerunner to her election to the Grand Presidency in 1889—the third to be elevated to the position of head of the Order. Since 1934 she was the Senior Past Grand President.

"To Carrie Roesch-Durham, having been Grand President did not mean that was all the Order held for her, nor all the claim it had upon her loyalty, as is evidenced by the unprecedented record of fifty-four years as a participant in every session of the Grand Parlor. Through the years, in the upbuilding of Native Daughterdom, her wisdom, justice and courtesy, exercised in discussions, as a many-time chairman of important committees, as treasurer of the Board of Relief since its inception, as a member of the Home Board, and for the past twenty-eight years as chairman of the Committee of Credentials, her services contributed greatly to the orderly conduct of each Grand Parlor session.

"Thus, you will see, the honors of Grand President were not all that came to Carrie Roesch-Durham, simply because she gave of herself unstintingly to the Order which had honored her. Not satisfied her obligations were fulfilled when she was accorded the highest rank, she never faltered in her loyalty, sharing always in the work to be done. And this is as it should be!

"A remarkable memory for persons and events, Carrie Durham had a closer acquaintance with, and was personally known to a larger number of, members of the Order of Native Daughters than any other member of the organization. Her uniform kindness made it so, and those who enjoyed her friendship were rich indeed. Her memory of historical incidents of the Order was always reliable and of service to those interested. Her passing means the going from us of a source of information of great value to the membership which may never be replaced.

"As we traveled by her side, we were always conscious of her fidelity of purpose and her unflinching courtesy. To follow in her footsteps and emulate those qualities so natural to her—gentleness, courtesy and loyalty—will be to

FOR THIRTY-ONE YEARS THE TWO Orders of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West in these United States of America have been ardently engaged in California in the constructive project of providing mothers and fathers and homes for children who otherwise would not receive their due.

Thirty-one years of consideration have been given for the future of their state with the six thousand citizens and future citizens to help build a world of Peace. One year in the Old World fifty times six thousand children have been bereft of homes, parent or parents, through men of evil, seeking Power, who know only greed, selfishness and brutality, and care naught for the peaceful beauties of home and families—nor for

"A simple child

That lightly draws its breath
And feels its life in every limb—
Why must it know of cruel Death."

When we hear the children now in America and Canada talking over the radio to their brave but agonized parents across the waters, detect the catch of emotion in the throats of the children and listen to the responses of the parents,—who deceive no one in their bravado of cheerfulness—ever shielding their children from the awfulness of Hate, we thank our Heavenly Father that there is a Haven in America and that there are still living in California thousands and thousands of native-born men and women eagerly giving all that they can give to provide happiness for the children. There are children grown tall who still retain in their hearts the teachings of Him: "Suffer the children to come unto me." "Love thy neighbor."

With real reverence, then, for this spirit which prevails in the two Orders of Native Sons and Native Daughters, the members of the Central Homeless Children Committee, holding not lightly their responsibilities for the children in need of this California charity, are able to chronicle in the columns of a California magazine open always to anything pertaining to the success of the work for the child, that through the efforts of the Parlors the quotas have been met to carry on for another year. There has been a marked personal effort toward generous giving of money and clothes, and greater interest in the homes and in the supervision of the children.

TOTAL DEFENSE INCLUDES

GOOD HEALTH AND HIGH MORALE

Current research by the Federal Home Economics Bureau, says Dr. Louise Stanley, chief "places special emphasis on diet as an essential of national defense. We believe healthy men and women are the real backlog of our national strength. And good diet is a basis for good health.

"Total defense" involves more than guns, ammunition and statesmanship. It means, first of all, having a population armed with good health and high morale and ready for whatever lies ahead. It includes defense against low vitality and malnutrition."

(JIMES FRENCH DORR INCE)

Santa Barbara. Observance of the fortieth birthday of Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W., April 19, was an outstanding event. Coincident with the birthday party was the official visit of Grand President Hazel B. Hansen, who was attended at a banquet by Miss Grace S. Stoermer of Los Angeles, Past Grand President and state chairman for the 1941 Grand Parlor; Mrs. Clarence Noerenberg, state chairman of civics; Mrs. Wesley McCormick, supervising deputy, and Mrs. Ida Ireland and Mrs. John D. The Grand President spoke of the underlying principles of the Order, which she outlined as love of country, abiding faith in God, devotion to home and veneration of the pioneers. She declared Reina del Mar Parlor particularly fortunate in the help it has from the adopted citizenry in developing its community bridgebuilding. Dr. Russell Buchanan, professor of history at Santa Barbara State College, was the speaker of the evening and his subject was "The Value of Community Bridgebuilders."

Mrs. George McCrea of the Parlor's past presidents association pointed out the theme of the evening: "At a time when all community forces are being enlisted for national defense in their respective fields of activity, Native Daughters, without neglecting any of their California interests, are called upon to serve again as community bridgebuilders, this time in national defense behalf." A birthday cake with forty candles was brought in by twelve candidates for initiation, conducted by Miss Mary Ronk. Mrs. Muriel Edwards, superintendent Santa Barbara County schools, presented a program that included a talk by Mayor Patrick J. Mahar, and musical numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McManus. RHODA W. SMITH.

To the Officers and Members of Lunonia Parlor No. 241 Native Daughters of the Golden West: We, your committee appointed to draft a resolution of respect to the memory of our late departed Sister Rhoda W. Smith, a Charter Member and Past President, herewith submit the following:

In your hour of bereavement our tears mingle with yours in the loss we have sustained, and this letter is being written to voice the sympathy that goes out to you from our entire membership.

The memory of a life well spent, the companionship she has created, the nobility of character she has achieved, the affections in her family and large circle of friends that have been hers, all have become a memorial in this present world and an ideal to be striven for by her associates.

Such a treasure-house of fond recollections will ever be a joy to you as the years come and go until we meet in the land that is "fairer than day."

Resolved, That this resolution be included in the minutes of the Parlor, that a copy be sent to the bereaved members of her family, and one to The Grizzly Bear Magazine for publication.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH ROBERTS,
HAZEL POOLE,
NOLA NOYES,
Committee.

"Life holds such happy yesterdays,
So many glad tomorrows,
We must believe these sad todays
Will sometime lose their sorrows,
God has so proven His love divine
In ways He understands,
We know our loved ones, ours and thine,
Are safe within His hands."

Respectfully submitted,

Believe it or not, this country is to be forced into the European holocaust, regardless of the wishes of a majority of the people. If necessary, an incident will be framed to create sentiment for a war declaration. The "hidden rulers of the world"—the dollar-worshipping cutthroats that promote war and thrive on misery—have so willed, and their satellites will bring about the fulfillment of their desire.

As General Hugh S. Johnson remarked, "We are so close [now] to [the] hell [of war] that it is no great feat to smell the sulphur. . . no explorer of the road to war can fail to recognize its blazed trail in the lease-lend bill."

The Civilian Conservation Corps was eight years old March 31. It has "graduated" 2,500,000 youths and has cost $2,800,000,000. The CCC is a worthwhile activity and should be continued permanently.

Sad to relate, the sayings of "prominents" in and out of government are so filled with misleading statements and deliberate untruths that there is an increasing inclination to believe as facts the very opposites of what they assert and promise.

N.S.G.W.—NEWS PARAGRAPHS.—N.D.G.W.

In observance of its fifty-fourth institution anniversary, Alta Parlor No. 3 N.D.G.W. entertained six of its charter members at a banquet. Music, songs, dancing, and greetings from all made the evening a most enjoyable one, long to be remembered. Among those in attendance were President Rose Cuneo, Deputy Charlotte Keohane and Past Grand Anne C. Thuesen.

Genevieve Parlor No. 132 had its annual Easter whist, with Nonie Soderberg as chairman, April 17. Deputy Claire Lindsey and representatives from many of the local Parlors were in attendance. Pals night will be observed May 1, when Chairman Rena Taube and a secret committee will reveal the pals for the year. Mothers night will be observed May 15.—R.T.

Castro Parlor No. 178 N.D.G.W. observed its thirty-first institution anniversary with a dinner party at which eight charter members and President Mary Draper were guests of honor. Secret pals night was held April 2, and members revealed their secret pals of the past year, exchanged gifts and selected new pals for the ensuing year. The drill team had its secret pals party April 15 at the home of Bessie Wester. Mothers of the Parlor's members will be entertained at a dinner during May. Alice Lane is chairman of the committee making arrangements.—M.E.H.

William Mooser was presented a fifty-year emblem by Presidio Parlor No. 194 N.S.G.W. March 31. He originally joined Pacific Parlor No. 10 in 1890, but when Presidio was instituted in 1894 he transferred to that Parlor. Treasurer Harold T. Dupont made the presentation address. This was also Presidio's annual California history night, and Grand Historian Dr. Peter T. Conmy delivered a talk on "The N.S.G.W. in the Nineties." Among the many others present were Grand First Vice-president Edward J. Schnarr, Grand Secretary John T. Regan and Past Grand James A. Wilson.

The sixteenth annual Mother Lode Rodeo and days of gold parade are to be held May 10 and 11 at Sonora, Tuolumne County.

GRIZZLY GROWS

With this number The Grizzly Bear Magazine begins the thirty-fifth year of continuous publication—thirty-three of them under the present management. Through the years a wealth of friends, life's chief asset, has been accumulated.

The management sincerely thanks those who, through their advertising and subscription patronage, make possible the publication of the magazine. And the hope is expressed that that support will be continued, so that The Grizzly Bear may continue on its course.

Like it or not, the people of this nation are to be compelled to foot the bill of England's war to maintain its control of Europe.

Sunday, May 18, has been proclaimed "I Am an American Day," for the recognition by appropriate ceremonies of the importance and significance of American citizenship.

We repeat: How any American can, in the light of history, favor lending, leasing or giving the wealth and the resources of these United States to England, the bully of the world, is beyond understanding.

"The platform is something to get on with, but not to ride upon," comments the United States News. "This applies to trains, trolleys and politics." How true!

"The disease of an evil conscience is beyond the practice of all the physicians of all the countries in the world."—Gladstone.

ACTIVITIES CAPITAL CITY NATIVE DAUGHTERS

Sacramento—Camellia Parlor No. 1941 N.D.G.W. is the name of a ritual team, formed by Supervising Deputy Flora A. Schmittgen to visit the nine Sacramento County Parlors. Three very successful meetings have been held, and much benefit has been derived from the school of instruction conducted on each occasion.

Annual History Party.

La Bandera Parlor No. 119 had its ninth annual history party under the supervision of Historian Ruth E. Peterson April 1. A dinner was followed by a program and the regular meeting. "California Missions" was the theme. Among the many in attendance were Past Grand Dr. Eva R. Rasmussen and Edna B. Briggs, and members of Camellia Parlor No. 1941.

The past presidents club of La Bandera is very active and recently had a card party for the benefit of the homeless children at the home of Mrs. Genevieve Didion, with Mms. Edna Briggs, Flora Schmittgen and Nina Scamas, and Miss Hazel Baker as hostesses. The La Bandera Juniors, Miss Barbara Dalton president, celebrated their first anniversary with a luncheon April 19. An entry was made by the group in the annual flower show, and a fashion show is to be held in the gardens of Mrs. Lucille Longshore.

Preparing for Official Visit.

The five Sacramento City Parlors—Califia No. 22, La Bandera No. 119, Sutter No. 111, Coloma No. 212 and Rio Rito No. 253—will meet jointly May 6 for the official visit of Grand President Hazel B. Hansen. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of Native Sons Building, recently redecorated and now known as "The Gold Room." Each Parlor will have a definite part in the evening's entertainment and ritual exemplification. A highlight of the affair will be the presentation by the Grand President of fifty-year emblems to the fourteen living charter members of Califia and to an adopted member of Sutter. Four hundred members of the Order will, it is predicted, be in attendance.

The following executive committee, composed of representatives of the hostess-Parlors, with Supervising Deputy Flora A. Schmittgen as the general chairman, is in charge of arrangements: Califia—Mms. Callia Mezzanares, Thelma Peyton, Katherine Hansen; La Bandera—Mms. Ernestine Ward, secretary, Blanche Perret, Grace E. Schaden; Sutter—Mms. Christine Findley, Lavinia Blakly, treasurer, Annie Watts; Coloma—Mms. Mary Leriche and Gertrude Keehner, Miss Jane Houston; Rio Rito—Mms. Mildred Stout, Myrtes Orr, Iva Langness.

realize the worthwhileness of our relations to one another in the Order of Native Daughters, something so dear to her, no tribute to her memory could be greater.

"As we pause this day at her side, in contemplation of the wealth of service she has rendered, we turn to those most dear to her, with every assurance of our full understanding of the loosening of the ties which have held you in close affection—ties which are not severed, for your loved one has but climaxed a very full life by going on where she is relieved of its sufferings, and where she will have a greeting awaiting you. In the words of Carrie Jacobs-Bond we seem to find it so.

I found a path that led me day
Upon a path I found
And I walked a path I found
The door that led to God.
And as I looked inside I saw
These words upon the wall
You find a Love and Love among Work,
There's Love and Work for all."
No path I can follow
We should do our part
Shout work awhile and play awhile
With all our soul and heart.
For all who do their work with joy
From toil can find no more
And in the end they find the key
That opens every door."

In Memoriam

CLARA A. GAIRAUD.

To the Officers and Members of Ventura Parlor No. 104, Native Daughters of the Golden West—We, your memorial committee entrusted with the sad duty of drafting resolutions of love and respect to the memory of our late Sister Clara A. Gairaud, submit the following:

Whereas, Our Sister Clara A. Gairaud has been called by the Great Ruler of the Universe and passed on from the activities of this life March 27, 1941; and

Whereas, Ventura Parlor No. 104, and the Order in general, have lost a true and loyal member; and many years and a past grand officer, let us say:

May Angels surround her sweet soul
And peace, amen, ever be her lot.

And we do so say:

That only, be it resolved, That our deep and heartfelt sympathy be extended to her bereaved son, Louis Gairaud, who lost both parents in one week, and to her devoted sisters in their loss; that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Native Daughters of the Golden West, The Grizzly Bear Magazine, and also be spread upon the minutes of this Parlor.

Respectfully submitted,

IDA M. STOCKTON,
ELIZABETH HAYES
DOROTHY SALAS
San Jose, March 27, 1941.

CARRIE ROESCH DURHAM.

To the Officers and Members of Joquian Parlor No. 5, N.D.G.W.—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of our dear sister member and Past Grand President, Carrie Roesch Durham, submit the following:

"Leaf by leaf the roses fall, Droop by droop the spring tines die."
Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in His Divine wisdom has sent the Ruler of our mind and removed from our fold our beloved sister.

Whereas, Our sister has been a faithful member and a regular attendant throughout all these years and has helped carry the Parlor through all its joys and pleasures and trials and tribulations. She has faithfully lived up to the pledge of Patience, Duty and Filial Affection at all times.

Whereas, The loss of this worthy sister will be keenly felt by this Parlor; her sister and brother will miss her sweet kindness and devotion, and her many friends will be deprived of her helpfulness.

Resolved, That again, Parlor No. 5, N.D.G.W. extend to the surviving family the heartfelt sympathy of the sisters, and furthermore be it

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved ones and be spread upon the minutes of this Parlor, also a copy be sent to the publication, The Grizzly Bear. Let us say:

With a heavy sigh and a heavy heart
She has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be when she sings there.

Respectfully submitted,

MAMIE C. GATTON, FLORILLA CAMPBELL,
IDA R. SAV. LEBILL.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.

Hollywood Parlor No. 196 N.S.G.W. celebrated its forty-fifth institution anniversary with a banquet at the Hollywood Athletic Club April 14. There was a fine attendance, and the evening was greatly enjoyed.

President Fred L. Alles Jr. introduced as the toastmaster Henry G. Bodkin, president of the Police Commission, and the speakers included Past Grand President Eldred L. Meyer, Ed. Lovie, Grand President Henry S. Lyon, Grand Secretary John T. Regan, Leo Carrillo, Mayor Fletcher Bowron, Sheriff Eugene W. Biscalluz, Congressman John M. Costello and Jim Woolley. Also introduced were Albert Goldenson, who furnished the floral decorations, Walter Odemar, Ernest Orfila, Judge Louis Kauffman, John Conannon, Dr. Warner, Grand Trustee Walter C. Richards, Grand Organist Roger M. Johnson and President Robert Bushnell of Ramona Parlor No. 109. A telegram of greetings was read from Past Grand President Herman C. Lichtenberger, unable to be present on account of illness.

A California State (Bear) Flag was presented to Loyola Law School by Hollywood Parlor March 26. Henry G. Bodkin introduced Mayor Fletcher Bowron, who made the presentation address, which was responded to by Bradstreet Miller of the student body and Father Joseph J. Donovan, dean of the school.

TO ENTERTAIN MOTHERS.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. had its largest attendance of the year April 16, when it was honored by an official visit from Grand President Hazel B. Hansen. The hall was artistically decorated with red and white flowers, the red to signify the ruby (fortieth) anniversary of the Parlor's institution. Escorted to seats of honor were the Grand President, Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, Supervising Deputy Evalyn Wilson and Deputy Marion Johnson. Ten candidates were initiated.

President Hansen had as her theme "The Givers and the Savers," and pointed out how Natives could serve their state and country by giving rather than saving. The Parlor's gift of silver to Mrs. Hansen was presented by Past Grand President Stoermer, who said she was reminded of her own official visit to Los Angeles twenty-three years ago, when beloved Annie L. Adair spoke words of warm friendship when presenting to her the Parlor's token of love. At a dinner at the Women's Athletic Club preceding the meeting the "outside" guests were Louis S. Hansen, husband of the Grand President, and Clarence M. Hunt and wife.

TO HONOR FAITHFUL MEMBER.

At the May 2 meeting of Ramona No. 109 N.S.G.W., Hervey Lindley Kitchin, who has been unanimously voted the best and most useful member of that Parlor, will be awarded the George M. Cuthbertson gold cup trophy for the year. A large outpouring of the membership to honor everybody's friend and a tireless worker is anticipated.

May 9 has been designated Superior Judge Ruben S. Schmidt night; entertainment will be provided and refreshments will be served. May 16 the Parlor will have another of those celebrated dinners prepared by Lieutenant Russell O. Smith and Steward Ralph Walters; free to all members of the Order.

Troop 109 Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by Ramona, presented its annual scouting program April 11 under the supervision of Scoutmaster Herbert A. Otto and President Robert M. Bushnell. Music for the occasion was furnished by the sixty-five-piece Southwest Boys and Girls Band organized by Lee Winters of Santa Monica Bay Parlor.

April 15, Ramona presented a California State (Bear) Flag to State Attorney-General Earl Warren, a member of Fruitvale Parlor No. 252. Grand President Henry S. Lyon made the presentation address, and Walter H. Odemar headed the arrangements committee. Past Grand President Eldred L. Meyer was among those present.

CALIFORNIANA JUNIORS INSTITUTED.

Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. will long remember the official visit of Grand President Hazel B. Hansen April 22. Lovely blossoms in pastel shades, arranged most artistically by Miss Grace Vejar, made the meeting place a dream of spring. One candidate was initiated.

In the course of her address, Grand President Hansen said the Order must change its plans and not get into a rut, and expressed the hope that the Native Daughters would take their rightful place in the affairs of state. The Parlor's gift of silver to Mrs. Hansen was presented by President Isabel Fages. Other guests and speakers were Past Grand Presidents Cora B. Sifford and Grace S. Stoermer, Grand Trustee Evalyn G. Towne, Supervising Deputies Evalyn Wilson and Genevieve Hiskey, Deputy Lydia Ross and Chairman Florence Dodson Schoneham of the Grand Parlor History and Landmarks Committee.

Following the meeting the hospitality committee of the Parlor, Mrs. Earl Osborn chairman, served tea. During the afternoon Grand President Hansen instituted Californiana Juniors No. 8, with seventeen members. Mary Joan Noerenberg is president of the group.

CALIFORNIA POPPY CALLED

ALTAR CLOTH OF SAN PASQUAL.

Telling a University of California Extension Division audience about the California poppy, Mrs. Mildred F. Davis, horticulturist and lecturer in landscape design for the division, said:

"The beautiful yellow poppy we call the California poppy was first discovered authentically by a physician and naturalist, Dr. Friedrich Eschscholtz, on a scientific voyage around the world with a Russian group during the years 1815 to 1824. He was in California at that time and wrote enthusiastically about the new golden flower he found.

"Botanists named the poppy Eschscholtzia for him and added California for the species. Even fifty years before the poppy was officially discovered, some Spanish sailors approaching the coast of southern California saw a hillside ablaze with the poppies and called it the altar cloth of San Pasqual, a favorite saint of the Spanish peasants. The sailors, after landing on the shores of southern California, offered mass among these poppies for a safe journey to a new country."

NATIVE DAUGHTERS GOLDEN WEST.)

Union. Thirteen of the other states could, at the same time, be placed side by side within the boundaries of California and not lap over the border anywhere. California is over seven hundred miles wide and its coast line is more than one thousand miles long. We have fifty-eight counties, and one of them is the biggest county in the world. Our Mount Whitney is the highest mountain in continental United States, and right beside it, and in the same county, is the second lowest point of land in the world, Death Valley. We have the redwood trees, the Yosemite Valley and other attractions, too numerous to mention.

"Animated by a love of state and a desire to perpetuate California's glorious history, the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West was founded September 11, 1886, in the mining town of Jackson, Amador County, by a group of young state, our achievements and accomplishments have been numerous during our fifty-four years of existence. Although we were organized primarily for the preservation and restoration of historical landmarks, we have extended our program, thereby enabling every Native Daughter to maintain a keen interest and to have an opportunity for service.

"The Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West is a patriotic organization, and the first in the state to have the flag as a part of its ritual. We make no demands, but those which will be of value to our state and country. Also no pledge that will conflict with civil or religious liberty. We hold a leading place among fraternal organizations throughout the state with regard to civic, welfare and cultural activities.

"The veneration we give the pioneers of California cannot be expressed in mere words. Little do we realize the hardships that were endured by our forebears in the building of this glorious state. The pioneer mother of California proved the virtues which dominate womankind. She was loyal to her husband, and went with him into the unknown and perilous wilderness. She was the true mother, meeting unpredicted dangers to her health with courage and skill. She carried religious teachings and the spirit of righteousness unto the churchless plains, and ministered to the sick. The pioneer mother built into her children the moral fibres that make men and women who are fit to be free. She trained them in the knowledge that our freedom was only achieved by heroic sacrifice. She rooted in their souls the comprehension that rights are founded in duties. Where better shall we receive inspiration and courage to defend these rights than in the story of our pioneers?

"The ease of modern life has made us forget the stern realities which faced our pioneers and which they met and conquered by personal courage and effort. They sought from God strength in themselves to meet problems. They did not look to the government to do it for them. We have grown to take our freedom as we do light and air and beauty and sunshine. To many foreign countries freedom is an ideal; something to strive for, hope for, dream of. They would have a hard time to grasp the greatness of the privilege which is ours, as we meet in our convention at Los Angeles, meeting at will, expressing freely our thoughts, opinions and ideas, living an abundant life—all this because we choose to.

"The dictators of Europe believe that the democracies have failed, and will perish from the earth in this generation, because their peoples have grown soft. They believe that we have become so complacent in our ease and prosperity that we have forgotten the value of our liberties, and that we are weak through our slow democratic procedures; that we cannot fight effectively to preserve our liberties. If we are to save ourselves, we shall have to recapture the spirit, the courage and the personal independence of our pioneers. The great lesson which they taught us meets the greatest need of the hour in our state and nation today—the lesson that our rights are founded in our duties, the lesson of morality and discipline.

"As Americans and free citizens, as a liberty-loving race, we resent and resist disciplines that are imposed upon us by coercion or force, yet without discipline we must inevitably disintegrate as a free nation. Therefore, our disciplines must be self-imposed. We must remember that we are only entitled to our liberty, and we are only capable of using it wisely, if we are capable of self-discipline. Without that, our very existence is in jeopardy. We are in peril of losing all that we hold most dear—liberty of conscience, liberty of speech, liberty of action. We are in peril of losing all the privileges of free citizens, among them, not the least precious to us, indeed, the right of freedom of assembly. We exercise that right in every meeting which our organization holds. Without that right our organization could not exist.

"It is no empty phrase to say that the American home is the foundation of American democracy, and it is not an idle assumption that the American home, as such, a life-saving and life-giving institution, is weakened and threatened today. If our American homes and American institutions are to survive tomorrow, American citizenship and patriotism must be revived today, in the sense in which our pioneer forefathers understood and demonstrated them.

"When we join the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, we take a solemn vow to support and defend the Flag of the United States women who had a vision and a capacity to grow. For fifty-four years this Order, built and founded on the principles of love of home, veneration of the pioneers, devotion to the flag, and an abiding faith in the existence of God, has grown from the first thirteen charter members to a membership of over fourteen thousand.

—The New Age.

THE YEAR 1940-1941 FOR THE Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West is rapidly drawing to a close. In a few days we will assemble for another Grand Parlor, where we will again meet with members of the Order to review the accomplishments of the past year and to legislate for the good of the Order, state and country. For the first time in the history of the organization, we will convene in the beautiful City of Los Angeles, the City of the Angels. Here we will receive a hearty welcome, and feel the warmth of true hospitality. It will be my happy privilege to welcome you, permanent members, past grand presidents, grand officers, delegates and visiting Native Daughters of the Golden West.

With my welcome will be mingled a prayer that all may enter into the deliberations of the session with a spirit of loyalty and charity one toward another, and that all legislation that may be enacted will be for the welfare and the promotion of our Order and the Golden State it represents. Let no member hesitate to give expression to her views; be ready to advance a reason for an opinion voiced, and also give due consideration to the expressions of others.

"I have sought to make this a progressive year for our beloved Order, and to impress in the minds and hearts of our members a higher conception and a broader view of our projects. Our efforts have been successful, due to patient and faithful adherence. 'A spirit of progress and initiative is the great secret of success'—and to be successful, we must not lose our enthusiasm for the projects so dear to our hearts. Individual effort is to be commended, but unity, co-operation and confidence will accomplish greater things for our Order. May this same spirit prevail throughout the deliberations of the Grand Parlor, to the end that we may add not only movement, but friendship.

"Fraternal friendships are one of the objectives of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. To have a good friend, is one of the highest delights of life; to be a good friend, is one of the noblest and most difficult undertakings. Friendship depends not upon fancy, imagination or sentiment, but upon character. There is no one so poor that he is not rich if he has a friend; there is no man so rich that he is not poor without a friend. But friendship is a word made to mean many kindly impermanent relationships. True friendship is abiding. Like charity, it suffices both long and is kind. To aspire to friendship, one must cultivate a capacity for faithful affection and a clear discernment. Friendship is a gift, but it is also an acquirement. Even fragments of friendship are precious and to be treasured. But to have a whole, real friend is worthy of earth gifts save one. To be a whole, real friend is worthy of high endeavor, for faith, truth, courage and loyalty bring one close to the Kingdom of Heaven. Increasing one's stock of friendship increases one's own stock of happiness.

Sincere regret is expressed that many who have been in former Grand Parlors will be unable to be present. Tender memories are recalled of those who have answered the Master's call during the past year. However, we wish to pay tribute to all, as they have added much during their lifetime toward the preservation and continuance of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West. We are following in their footsteps, ever striving for perfection of Order, state and country, which was their goal and which is ours. As expressed by Longfellow in the following words:

"Lives of great men oft remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time."

No one who has lived in California all her life and loves her native state could refrain from feeling deeply honored at being chosen to serve the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West.

There must be a definite reason why California, of all the forty-eight states in the Union, is the only one whose sons and daughters have been moved by love and pride to form organizations such as the Native Sons and the Native Daughters of the Golden West. The glamour of the state's history, the beauty of its scenery, and the natural resources we possess—these have much to do with our love. And why not! As natives of California, we are natural boosters for our state. We are aware that California lays claim to more beauty, romance, riches and fame per square mile than any other state in the

CITY OF AMERICAN PROGRESS

Dr. Peter T. Conmy, Grand Historian N.S.G.W.

(WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR MAGAZINE.)

JUNE 16, 1941, THE FIFTY-FIFTH ANNUAL session of the Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West will convene in the City of Los Angeles. Never before in the long history of that organization has a Grand Parlor met in Los Angeles. However, the place has been wisely chosen for the 1941 meeting, for no part of the State of California has made such rapid and also such extensive progress as have the City of Los Angeles and the surrounding territory which is fondly referred to as the southland.

California had its first development in the middle of the eighteenth century, when the missionaries came. It was by the Spanish that the Pueblo of Los Angeles was founded in 1791. However, under neither Spanish nor Mexican leadership did Los Angeles make any great progress. Indeed, Professor Chapman in his book, "A History of California, the Spanish Period," devotes one chapter to the subject, "Los Angeles, the Queen of the Cow Counties," implying thereby very little development of any consequence. It was, therefore, during the American period that Los Angeles achieved its claim to greatness. Hence the title of this article, "Los Angeles, City of American Progress."

It was August 2, 1769, that the site of the City of Los Angeles was discovered by Portola and his men. They were on the way to find the Port of Monterey. The site of Los Angeles was named by the Portola expedition "Nuestra Señora de Los Angeles de Porciuncula," that is, "Our Lady of the Angeles of Porciuncula." They were impressed with the possibilities of a large settlement here. The first years of the Spanish occupation of California, however, were given to founding the missions, and it was not until 1781 that affairs were ready for a pueblo on the site of Portola's camp of August 2, 1769. Here, September 4, 1781, Governor Felipe de Neve ordered the establishment of what is now known as the City of Los Angeles.

Some historians are wont to state that the original and official name of this city is "Neustra Señora la Reina de Los Angeles," that is to say, "Our Lady Queen of the Angeles." It would seem, however, that such is not the case, and the name given in 1781 was "El Pueblo de Neustra Señora de Los Angeles de Porciuncula," as given by Portola twelve years before. July 13, 1827, the Disputacion of California (a legislature) recommended to the government of Mexico that the name of Los Angeles be changed to "Villa Victoria de la Reina de Los Angeles." No action was taken on this recommendation. In 1835 General Barragan declared Los Angeles to be a city and the capital of the province. This was an unauthorized act on his part, however. February 22, 1845, however, Governor Pio Pico did move the capital to Los Angeles. His act was short-lived because during the American occupation, which followed within a year, Monterey was recognized as the capital.

Los Angeles played an important part in 1846 when the United States took possession of California as an act of war. It was August 6, 1846, that Commodore Robert F. Stockton raised the Stars and Stripes over what is now San Pedro. A week later the same eminent commander, assisted by John C. Fremont, raised the flag over Los Angeles. The Mexican people of the southland did not submit as gracefully to American occupation as those in the northern part of the state. Serbulo Varela and Jose Maria Flores both led revolts in the Los Angeles area. Flores drove the Americans out of the city. After help had been obtained from San Francisco and Monterey, Los Angeles was re-taken by the United States forces and from October 8, 1846, the Stars and Stripes have flown uninterrupted over the place. July 4, 1847, Fort Moore, a garrison intended to protect Los Angeles, was dedicated. This fort was abandoned shortly after.

Los Angeles has continued to progress under the American government. The population has grown steadily. For a number of decades the census counts showed San Francisco to be the largest city in California. This tendency held good through the count of 1910. In 1920, however, Los Angeles forged ahead. In 1930 its population was 1,238,048, and in 1940 it reached 1,496,792. This population is scattered over a very wide area comprising over four hundred square miles. City planning really began in 1849, when Lieutenant E. O. C. Ord surveyed the area and a map was made which was known as "Plan de la Ciudad de Los Angeles."

The establishment by the California Legislature of Los Angeles County, February 18, 1850, led to the incorporation of the City of Los Angeles April 4 of the same year. The United States Government recognized the importance of the coming city April 9, 1850, when a regular post-office was opened. This young settlement faced the problem of law and order in much the same degree and in much the same manner as its sister city, San Francisco.

The crimes which brought about the formation of the famous San Francisco Vigilance Committees in 1851 and 1856 are known universally in the history of the West. Almost similar crimes in Los Angeles were dealt with in an almost similar manner. In 1854 a long series of violent crimes led to the formation of a company of rangers under A. W. Hope. In 1857 a vigilance group of two hundred, led by Andres Pico, undertook to rid the vicinity of a band of desperadoes, and succeeded in its task.

Newspapers flourished in the northern section of California before they were introduced into the southern part. The Californian was founded at Monterey as early as 1846. A few years later it was moved to San Francisco, where it was merged with another paper and published under the title Daily Alta Californian. Los Angeles' first newspaper, the Los Angeles Star, was published for the first time May 17, 1851. This paper was printed in both English and Spanish for many years.

The anti-Chinese agitation which flourished in San Francisco during the seventies under the leadership of Dennis Kearney, also had its counterpart in Los Angeles. October 24, 1871, a mob of enraged citizens looking for a Chinese criminal in the historic Calle de los Negros, known as Nigger Alley, and unable to find him, seized and lynched some eighteen innocent Chinese. This is known as the Chinese massacre in the history of southern California.

Pasadena is now famous for its annual Tournament of Roses. This is now an old custom. The first tournament was held there January 1, 1890, at Sportsman's Park. There was an attendance of over 2,000 people. Re-echoing the Chicago World Fair and the San Francisco Midwinter Exposition, Los Angeles, April 10, 1894, held its first great celebration, since repeated so many times successfully, known as La Fiesta de Los Angeles.

Another development in Los Angeles somewhat similar to a movement taking place in San Francisco was the matter of a water supply for this great and growing city. About the same time that the people of San Francisco acquired the Hetch-Hetchy area near Yosemite for their water supply, Los Angeles, also, decided upon bringing water from the Sierra. In 1913 the Los Angeles aqueduct, bringing water from the Owens River to Los Angeles, was completed under William Mulholland at a cost of $25,000,000.

The first circumnavigation of the globe by air was another Los Angeles project. This was completed September 23, 1924, by Lieutenant Lowell Smith at Clover Field, Santa Monica. Three Los Angeles-made planes were used in the flight.

The Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West have for a long time flourished in the City of Los Angeles. Dr. Eva R. Rasmussen, now a member of Coloma Parlor No. 212 of Sac-

IN A GHOST TOWN

In red-scarred hills, the ghost town sleeps
Lulled by the running streams,
Still filled with great Bonanza days.
And wild and restless dreams.

The pines stand, etched like tapestries,
The sun shines on Boot Hill,
And ever shadows come and go,
When everything is still.

And down the street, they come at night
Across the wooden walks,
They flutter by like drifting leaves,
But no one ever talks.

Around the curve of mountain road
Into the wheel-ridged plains,
They blithely go adventuring,
Not one of them remains.

ramento, was Grand President in 1906-07. At the time, she was a member of La Esperanza Parlor No. 24 of Los Angeles, which surrendered its charter a number of years ago. In 1919 Miss Grace S. Stoermer of Los Angeles Parlor No. 12 became Grand President, and in 1940 the present incumbent, Mrs. Hazel B. Hansen of near Glendale, affiliated with Verdugo Parlor No. 240 assumed the office. The Native Sons of the Golden West have had three Grand Presidents from Los Angeles: Herman C. Lichtenberger of Ramona Parlor No. 109, who served 1912-13; the late William I. Traeger, also of Ramona Parlor, who served 1921-22, and the late John T. Newell of Los Angeles Parlor No. 45, who served 1930-31. Eldred L. Meyer of Santa Monica, affiliated with Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267, became Grand President in 1937. It is expected that the 1941 session of the Native Daughters Grand Parlor to be held at Los Angeles will be one of the best in the entire history of the organization.

of America and all that it represents. We feel deep pride in the knowledge that this Order was the first fraternal organization to include such an oath of allegiance and patriotic loyalty in its ritual. Today, as never before, during these critical times, we should renew our allegiance and be prepared, in every way, to abide by its demands.

"Our government and our American institutions were formed through the united action of men and women, voluntarily joined together to serve the common good. The defense and the perpetuation of the institutions which were created can only be achieved by united action."

"The Native Daughters of the Golden West represent, in an unusual degree, an organization formed with the purpose of achieving unity of action for the general good of state and country. More than ever before in our history, cohesion in our own ranks, harmony in our deliberation and unity in our action as an organization are needed. With greater thoughtfulness and zeal therefore, than we ever have urged upon ourselves before, in the name of patriotic duty let us turn sternly away from any sectional or personal interest, jealousy or competition which would divert us from our goal of unity in action for the welfare of all."

BOOK REVIEWS

(CLARENCE M. HUNT.)

"CABLE CAR DAYS IN SAN FRANCISCO." By Edgar M. Kahn; Stanford University Press Publishers, Stanford University; Price, $3.

This charming historical narrative is based on the story of transportation in San Francisco with emphasis on the cable cars, for many years, one of the city's distinctive attractions. Those little cars form a link with the eventful past of the city by the Golden Gate, and in the relating of their history the author, Edgar M. Kahn, also recalls to memory notable personalities and anecdotes of the longago.

"The Horsecar Period" is, of course, given due attention, and another interesting chapter is that devoted to Andrew Smith Hallidie, originator of cable-railway transportation. He was born in England in 1836, came to California in 1852, and in 1856 became identified with the business life of San Francisco. There, in 1873 he organized the Clay Street Hill Railway Company, which built and operated the city's first cable railroad.

"Even if the once epochal cable car may soon pass into history," says Author Kahn in the concluding chapter, "in retrospect there remains the realization that it was an important stepping stone in our city's destiny, which required loyalty and faith translated into action to be fulfilled. . . . These cable cars, still crawling over the brows of San Francisco's hills, are not only a traditional part of the city's past but represent for the period of their origin a mechanical achievement comparable with the bridges of today and a still living inspiration to San Francisco's future progress and prosperity."

Typographically, "Cable Car Days in San Francisco" is most attractive, and it is liberally illustrated with oldtime photographs, and drawings by William Wilke.

California dates should find a favorable market during the coming season because of increased national purchasing power.

"Better keep yourself clean and bright; you are the window through which you must see the world."—G. B. Shaw.

(CLARENCE M. HUNT.)

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 16, AT 9:30, the Fifty-fifth annual Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West will convene at Los Angeles City for a four-day session. Grand President Hazel Bruschi-Hansen of Glendale, Los Angeles County, affiliated with Verdugo Parlor No. 240, will preside throughout the deliberations and, at their conclusion, will automatically become the Past Grand President. The Grand Parlor sessions will be held in the Biltmore Hotel, 515 South Olive street. This will be the first time in the Order's history the Grand Parlor has met at Los Angeles.

Reports of grand officers and committees to the Fifty-fifth Grand Parlor will show the Order to be in a flourishing condition. The finances are in excellent shape, and the membership is increasing. All of the Order's many projects have been advanced during the Grand Parlor year.

Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler will report the institution of three new Subordinate Parlors since the Oakland (1940) Grand Parlor: Burlingame No. 274, Burlingame, San Mateo County; Sierra Pines No. 275, Colfax, Placer County; Santa Maria No. 276, Santa Maria, Santa Barbara County.

Grand Parlor legislation provides that the entire personnel of a Grand Parlor must pay a registration fee of two dollars. Visitors to the Los Angeles Grand Parlor will be accorded the same privileges as delegates on payment of the registration fee.

MEMBERSHIP.

The Order is composed of 180 Subordinate Parlors, located in practically every county of California. The Grizzly Bear requested from each Parlor its membership-figures, and from responses received up to publication-time, the following has been compiled:

FIFTY-FIVE YEARS

(OLIVE LOPEZ.)

WHEN THE FIFTY-FIFTH ANNUAL Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West is held in Los Angeles, June 15-22, particular interest will attach to the origin, history and tenets of the organization, as well as to the decided action that will be taken on current issues. More than 1,000 delegates and other members are expected at the session. They will review the objectives of the organization, as set forth in its constitution, and will proceed to carry those aims into action through vigorous resolutions.

San Francisco, July 25, 1887, with Mrs. Tina L. Kane occupying the chair. Already the membership had reached a total of about 1,000. Of the original thirteen members, six are living, and they are expected to be in Los Angeles June 15. They are: Rose Genaro-Carley, Flora Podesta-Ferraro, Mary Meehan-Fontenrose, Mellie Peek, Flora Carter-Seymour and Emma Boarman-Wright. Headquarters of the organization are now in San Francisco.

One of the Order's most noteworthy accomplishments is the Native Daughters Home, located at 555 Baker street, San Francisco, and entirely free from debt. Not forgetting the aged of the organization, the beautifully appointed Home is maintained for members in need of the advantages offered. This project is one of which the Order may well be proud, for it is a home in the true sense of the word. A room is set aside for the use of the Grand President when in San Francisco, and Native Daughters working in that vicinity may live at the Home for nominal fees. Many social activities of the Order are held there, and the monthly breakfast is a feature event.

Much interest is displayed in the Home, and substantial contributions have been made to it. In 1939 Past Grand President Emma G. Foley deeded her home properties, located in Marin County, for use in connection with the Native Daughters Home after she passes from this world, thus recognizing the humanitarian work done for less-fortunate members. To Past Grand President Dr. Mariana Bertola, the organization is greatly indebted, for her vision, tenacity of purpose and untiring efforts throughout the years have guided the destiny of the Home from Los Angeles. It is hoped this year will see the completion of the Annie L. Adair memorial scholarship for a student wishing commercial or social business training.

Conservation is another of the outstanding projects of the Order of Native Daughters. The most noteworthy accomplishment along that line was the purchase of a redwood forest in Humboldt County, dedicated May 10, 1931. The organization joined with numerous clubs and public-spirited citizens to preserve the splendid natural wonderland of the northern country otherwise lost forever, since these magnificent

The history of the Order dates back to 1886. Since that date the organization has trod a glamorous, colorful trail, growing up with California, keeping pace with the ideals of the Golden State, and often taking a determined hand in guiding the destinies of this terrestrial paradise on the Pacific Coast.

Founded in Jackson, Amador County, when Lilly O. Reichling had the vision to foresee a society composed entirely of women born in California, the Native Daughters began with an initial enrollment of thirteen, truly a lucky number for the first Parlor, Ursula No. 1. From that day, the Order has kept pace with the progress of California. Today, its membership totals more than 14,000, and there are 180 Subordinate Parlors. Its first emblem was the spotted fawn; later replaced more impressively by Minerva, the oriflamme, sheaves of grain and the mystic letters P.D.F.A.

The first Grand Parlor met in Pioneer Hall,

BERTHA BRIGGS

AMY MCAFAY

Past Grand Presidents N.D.G.W. the days of its infancy to the successful project it is today.

The activity for which the Order is best known, and one which would alone justify its existence, is that of finding proper homes for homeless children. Babies of every race and every creed are cared for until foster parents claim them. This excellent work is carried on in conjunction with the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, and is supervised by Miss Mary E. Brusie of Argonaut Parlor No. 166, Oakland. The head office is located at 998 Eddy street, San Francisco. The Los Angeles office is at 3924 Sunset boulevard, with Miss Dorothy Schlingman of Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 in charge. The Native Sons and the Native Daughters, jointly, form one of two organizations which have the state-granted privilege in California of finding homes for unfortunate kiddies.

When the homeless children's project was undertaken, it was the first time in history that any fraternal organization sponsored philanthropic work for the general good of society. This means that no restrictions of birth, race or creed are placed on this service. Every healthy, normal child in need of an adoptive home is given consideration, whatever the nativity of its parents, and all applicants who can measure up to standard as foster parents are considered. But in order to safeguard both babies and foster parents, the children are placed in homes of the same racial background and the same religious faith as their natural mothers. An endeavor is also made to secure likeness of appearance, and the results are surprisingly successful.

Believing that good education is the foundation of good citizenship, the Order of Native Daughters provides scholarships for young women at Mills College, the University of California at Berkeley, and the University of California at trees were privately owned, and would have been cut down and sawed up into lumber for private profit. In this connection, it is interesting to know that Native Daughters suggested the measure passed by the State Legislature that made the noble redwood the official California state tree.

One very important interest of the Native

Daughters is their americanization work. They believe they can best serve their state and nation by opening many avenues of patriotic action. Forty years ago, the Order became the first fraternal organization in California to include in its ritual the pledge of allegiance to the American Flag. Another interesting fact is, the Order has the honor of being the first organization in the United States to erect a special memorial to Betsy Ross, the maker of the national emblem. This is a flagpole in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, at the end of the Lincoln Highway.

GRAND PARLOR, N.D.G.W.

614 CENTRAL TOWER, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

(This space paid for by a Native Son)

WITH GRAND PRESIDENT HENRY S. Lyon of Placerville Parlor No. 9 presiding throughout the deliberations, the Sixty-fourth Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West was in session at Al Tahoe (Lake Tahoe), El Dorado County, May 19, 20 and 22.

The reports of grand officers and committees dealt, mostly, with matters heretofore given full publicity in The Grizzly Bear. Follows a summary of the Lake Tahoe Grand Parlor proceedings, with no reference, however, to proposed legislation that failed of passage:

GRAND PARLOR CONSTITUTION CHANGES.

Art. VI, Sec. 1 amended by adding: "The Grand President shall have power to appoint Supervising District Deputy Grand Presidents. It shall be their duty to supervise and co-ordinate the work of the District Deputy Grand Presidents in their respective districts and to perform such other functions as the Grand President may direct."

Art. VIII, Sec. 3 amended by adding Subd. 15C: "A Drum and Bugle Corps, Drum Corps and Drill Team Competition Rules Committee of five members."

Art. IX, Sec. 1 amended by adding after the word "expedient": "provided, that a Grand Parlor Mileage Fund shall be created and maintained, and all appropriations thereto shall remain intact, except the actual charges made at each Grand Parlor."

Art. IX, amended by adding Sec. 15C: "A Drum and Bugle Corps, Drum Corps and Drill Team Competition Rules Committee duties under the direction of the Chairman of this Committee, shall be to act as advisors and interpreters of these rules and regulations to the local committees and to the contestants; to supervise the carrying out of the details of these regulations, as prescribed; to make such changes and adjustments in the rules and regulations as proposed and favorably voted upon by the majority of the units concerned and authorized by the Grand President."

Art. XI, Sec 12—"Any Parlor providing, directly or indirectly, any liquors, spirituous or malt, at any entertainment, banquet or supper, or at any celebration given under the auspices of the Order, Parlor or Parlors, shall be subject to such penalties as the Grand Parlor may determine upon."—was repealed.

BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

Slight changes in the Opening and Closing Ceremonies of the Grand Parlor were approved. Lake County was selected as the meetingplace of the Sixty-fifth (1942) Grand Parlor.

Balboa Parlor No. 234 of San Francisco and Galt Parlor No. 243 of Galt were ordered dissolved.

San Diego was awarded the Admission Day, September 9, celebration for 1942. [At the Bakersfield Grand Parlor last year Oakland was designated as the place for holding this year's celebration.]

The Board of Grand Officers was directed to investigate the feasibility of providing additional insurance for Subordinate Parlors.

El Dorado Parlor No. 52 of San Francisco, Ukiah Parlor No. 71 of Ukiah, Santa Ana Parlor No. 265 of Santa Ana and University Parlor No. 272 of Los Angeles were granted permission to purchase Rituals at one dollar each.

The Southern District Interparlor N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Committee was voted a contribution of $500 toward the expense of a float to be entered in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses parade January 1, 1942.

Ordered, that the Grand Parlor encourage the formation in Subordinate Parlors of "emergency first aid units" that, "under present world conditions, would be of great help in any home defense movement."

The Board of Grand Officers was directed to "investigate the cost of orchestrating and printing copies [of 'Loyal Native Sons March'] and report to the Sixty-fifth Grand Parlor."

For the use of the California History Board during 1941-42, $100 was appropriated.

Fines levied against Elk Grove Parlor No. 41 of Elk Grove and Santa Monica Bay Parlor No. 267 of Santa Monica were ordered remitted.

A committee of five was ordered appointed by the Grand President to investigate the payment of death benefits by Subordinate Parlors. The committee is to report to the Board of Grand Officers, and the findings and recommendations are to be submitted to the Parlors prior to the convening of the Sixty-fifth Grand Parlor.

The Grand President was directed to appoint a committee "to draft a revised pamphlet setting forth the achievements of the N.S.G.W." The STRESS LOYALTY TO JAPAN.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted, and copies were ordered sent the Governor and the Lieutenant-governor of California, and every member of the State Legislature:

"Whereas, It has come to the attention of the California Joint Immigration Committee, of which the [Order of] Native Sons of the Golden West is a constituent member, that the Japanese language schools of the State of California have been teaching American citizens of Japanese descent patriotism to Japan and emperor worship; and

"Whereas, It has also come to the attention of that committee that textbooks formerly used by these schools and approved by the California State Board of Education have been superseded by textbooks, printed in Japan, which contain matter intended to arouse patriotism for Japan in American citizens of Japanese descent; and

"Whereas, Assemblyman Seth Millington of Gridley, California, Past Grand President of our Order, has introduced Assembly Bill No. 2615,— 'An act to provide for the licensing and supervision of schools teaching foreign languages, and to define and prescribe the powers and duties of the State Board of Education in respect thereto'—which provides for refusal of license or cancellation of license, if instruction in such school creates loyalty or allegiance to any foreign government, emperor, king, prince, potentate, dictator or leader; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Grand Parlor of the [Order of] Native Sons of the Golden West, in annual convention assembled May 19-22, 1941, at Lake Tahoe, urges the California State Assembly and Senate to adopt said Assembly Bill 2615 with such amendment or omission as may be deemed necessary for its effectiveness."

Grand Secretary will at the "request of any Subordinate Parlor mail to said Parlor copies of this pamphlet, in order that said Parlor may present copies to candidates or prospective members."

The history of the Order from 1900 to 1905, compiled by Grand Historian Dr. Peter T. Conmy, was ordered printed in the 1941 Proceedings.

The public speaking contest sponsored by the Grand Parlor was ordered continued, the Grand President was authorized to appoint a committee of fifteen or more to supervise the same, $250 was appropriated to support the work, and the committee was directed to draft and submit to the Grand Parlor for approval a set of rules to govern the contest.

"Investment by the Subordinate Parlors of a portion of their available excess funds in national defense savings bonds" was approved.

A "committee to be known as and designated Native Sons of the Golden West National Defense Committee" was ordered established. It "shall consist of one hundred members of the Order . . . or any greater number which, in the judgment of the Grand President, might be necessary," and its work "shall include active and militant participation in national, state and local defense programs." The "life of this committee shall continue as long as the present national crisis shall exist."

Ordered, "that starting January 1, 1942, the official regalias of the Subordinate Parlors of the [Order of] Native Sons of the Golden West will be the old style regalias." [This nullifies previous Grand Parlor action approving a new type of regalia.]

The Grand President was requested to appoint a committee of three from the Board of Grand Officers "for the purpose of preparing adopting and putting into effect a plan for the raising of a net sum of $50,000 by public subscription . . . to match an equal amount to be contributed by the State of California, through the State Park Commission, for the acquisition of" the Waddell Creek redwood grove.

The Board of Grand Officers was "directed to make every effort to have the lake to be formed by Friant Dam [a unit of the Central Valley Project now in course of construction in Fresno County] dedicated and named as 'Lake Millerton'."

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

Calling "to the attention of the California State Park Commissioners the condition of the historic Pio Pico home now owned by the State and [urging] that funds be allocated for its proper preservation."

Regretting the tragic drowning in Lake Tahoe May 17 of Captain Arthur Brodehl, nine-year old Donald Brodehl and Mail Clerk Evert Dolan, and extending the sympathy of the Grand Parlor to their families and friends.

Declaring the Order of "Native Sons of the Golden West is positively and unreservedly opposed to any teaching which will in any wise reduce or lessen the strength of our constitution system," it therefore condemns and opposes "the printing, rendition, presentation or showing of any play, speech or picture which would or could tend to have any detrimental effect on the effort now being made to unite the people of this country in one solid citizenry. . . . concessions or encouragement of any subversive, radical or communistic groups is particularly disapproved at this time and . . . all newspapers, radio networks and other means of communication [are urged] to assist in the elimination of such encouragement, to the end that we may be a united people."

Expressing thanks to those organizations and individuals that contributed to the success of the meeting, and to the comfort and the entertainment of the members of the Grand Parlor and accompanying visitors.

EDWARD T. SCHNARR OF OAKLAND, Alameda County, affiliated with Fruitvale Parlor No. 252, became the Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West at the Sixty-fourth Grand Parlor, which met at Al Tahoe (Lake Tahoe), El Dorado County. Addressing the assembled representatives of the Subordinate Parlors from all sections of California following his induction into office, May 22, Grand President Schnarr said:

"Officers, delegates and guests of this Grand Parlor: To be elevated to the exalted office of Grand President of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West is comparable only to being elected to the governorship of one's native state. I sincerely and deeply appreciate the honor that has been conferred upon me, and I do assure the delegates to this Sixty-fourth Grand Parlor assembled that in the coming year I will devote my

States of America, have selected a supreme officer of government, our President. Whether or not we agree with his policies or acts, after those acts or policies have become law we are bound by right of citizenship to stand behind our leader and remain, as in the past history of our peoples, a united nation.

"During the period of national crisis confronting us, many of us wonder what we as citizens of this western frontier can do to assist and aid in the securing of our homes and nation. There is a definite job for each and every one of us to perform, but one of our first acts should be to acquaint ourselves with the privileges granted us as American citizens, and the best way to do this is to read the Constitution of the United States of America, and make a comparison with other forms of government and privileges granted the individuals of other continents of this world. By taking stock of the rights we have and time and effort toward furthering the interests as well as the principles of our great Order.

"We as individuals are living in a period of world wonderment, suffering and dismay, but as natural-born citizens of this great democratic nation we have up to the present time been spared the suffering and bewilderment now inflicted upon peoples of other nations of the world. As Native Sons of the Golden West, American citizens by birth, believers in the democratic form of government, we have a definite course to pursue in this period of world crisis. Regardless of our political affiliation, we must at all times remain adamant to the fact that our present manner of conducting the affairs of nation and state shall always remain the American way, a government of the people, for the people and by the people. We, the citizens of the United enjoy, we will assure ourselves that we have something to protect and cherish. Thus we strengthen our morale and create a feeling of satisfaction and happiness with present home conditions and the American way of doing things. We should not allow groups or individuals interested in making a name for themselves politically, or in securing newspaper publicity, or for a monetary gain, to encroach upon our plans of national defense. Any system or national defense plan which does not have the approval or sanction of our federal officers, and naturally I mean only those officials who have been trained and authorized for this specific purpose, should be discouraged. Defense is for national protection and should be treated as such.

"Our fraternity has for a period of more than sixty-five years been an organization of service to our state, and on every occasion we reaffirm our allegiance to the United States of America. Speaking for the 17,000 members of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West, I here declare that in the years before us we shall stand as an

THE LAST OFFICIAL VISIT OF GRAND President Hazel B. Hansen in San Francisco County was made to Dolores Parlor No. 169 and Presidio Parlor No. 148 N.D.G.W. in joint session May 13. A delicious dinner was enjoyed by 116, and the meeting immediately following was attended by more than 400 members of the Order, among them Grand Vice-president Carlce E. Cook, Grand Organist Mae O'Keefe, and Trustees Emily Ryan, Marion White, Bretta Cameron and Doris Treat, Grand Outfit Sentinel Zoura Tompkins, Past Grand Presidents Orinda Cianinni, Mae Hines-Noonan, Edna Jiggs, Anne Thuesen and Evelyn I. Carlson. Thirty deputies formed an escort, and on their behalf Supervising Deputy Georgia Nelson presented the Grand President a bouquet of yellow roses and gardenias. The Juniors sponsored by Presidio Parlor executed a pretty and novel singing dance, during which Betty, daughter of Grand Trustee Emily Ryan, presented Mrs. Hansen a shower of beautiful roses. Vocal selections by Elsie Dethlefsen, representing the deputies, and Mardelle May of Dolores were greatly enjoyed.

The opening and closing ceremonies were conducted by Dolores, with First Vice-president Ollie Quinn as acting president. President Julius Nau of that Parlor presenting the colors under a baby spotlight, created a thrilling picture. The Initiatory ceremonies were conducted by the officers of Presidio, with President Ann Loto as president, and five candidates were initiated, three for Presidio and two for Dolores. For the homeless children, checks and dainty letters were donated by the two Parlors, and to gift one of Grand President Hansen's ardent wishes for the year checks for the Annie L. Fair Scholarship Fund were presented her. Preparations for this delightful occasion were under the guidance of Past Grand President Evelyn I. Carlson and Charlotte Wilson, co-chairmen, who were assisted by an efficient committee. Refreshments were served at the meeting's close, and thus a very fond aloha was tendered from San Francisco County.—E.P.H.

BREAKFAST AT THE N.D. HOME.

Las Lomas No. 72, Portola No. 172 and James Park No. 220 were the hostess-Parlors at the May 11 breakfast at the Native Daughters Home. Grand Trustee Emily Ryan was the chairman, and Georgia O'Brien gave the pledge and salute to the flag and Julia Owen pronounced the invocation. Elsie Dethlefsen, accompanied by Charlotte Bohane, entertained with vocal selections. The subject of the speaker, Judge Theresa Melkle, was "Mothers."

Many mothers were in attendance, and they were introduced by their daughters. Pearl Wedde had as her guests her mother and her daughter—representing three generations. Each of the hostess-Parlors donated $2.50 to the Home. Among others present were Past Grand President

Mae B. Wilkin, and the following members of the Home Board: Past Grand President Dr. Mariana Bertola, president; Past Grand President Emma G. Foley, secretary; Mms. Alice Lane, Inge Meyer, Ann Neilan and Madeline C. King. Fourteen Subordinate Parlors were represented.

The morning of May 5 members of the Home family were taken for an auto tour by Alice Lane, Past Grand President Evelyn Carlson, Ann Neilan and Madeline King. That same day, prior to the Home Committee meeting, Chairman Dr. Mariana Bertola was surprised with a delightful birthday luncheon, and was presented a gift.

N.D. GRAND PRESIDENT HONORED.

The thirty-one San Francisco deputy grand presidents of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West sponsored a May 24 luncheon honoring Grand President Hazel B. Hansen. Leaders of many women's organizations and other grand officers of the Order were guests also. Supervising District Deputy Grand President Georgia M. Nelson presided.

The interesting program included: salute to the flag, led by Grand Marshal Rose Rhyner; vocal selection, "The Star Spangled Banner," Deputy Elsie Dethlefsen; invocation, Past Grand President Orinda G. Giannini; vocal selections, Miss Mardelle May, official songbird of 1940-41, accompanied by Miss Helen Heineman; address, J. Ricardo Gutierrez, Nicaraguan importer.

N.S.G.W.—NEWS PARAGRAPHS.—N.D.G.W.

In memory of the thirty-nine San Francisco members of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West who gave their lives in the World War, fitting services will be held Sunday, June 1, in the Grove of Memory, Golden Gate Park. The program is under the supervision of the N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Grove of Memory Association.

With fifteen mothers as special guests, Orinda Parlor No. 56 N.D.G.W. had its annual mothers banquet May 7. Specially honored were Deputy Kathleen LaGrave and her mother, and Past Grand Emma G. Foley and Orinda G. Giannini. The spring motif was most attractive, and a pleasant evening was enjoyed. Chairman Madeline C. King and committee—Louise Junker, Katherine Cobb, Emily Fauda and Mae Shea—provided beautiful decorations and an entertainment which will long be remembered. Gifts of handkerchiefs were given the special guests.

Genevieve Parlor No. 132 N.D.G.W. observed Mothers Night May 15. Alma Quinn and committee served tasty refreshments, and gifts were distributed to the guests. Leona Clarkson, americanism chairman, gave a splendid report on "I Am an American Day," and Eileen Taube reported plans are under way for another visit to the veterans at Fort Miley.

Castro Parlor No. 178 N.D.G.W. honored twenty-eight mothers at a dinner party. Also present were Deputy Patricia Sollinger and President Mary Draper. Each mother received a gift, and the evening was enjoyed immensely. The Parlor decorated with flags Memorial Day the graves of deceased members. Whist parties are being given for the Admission Day fund.

May 18, at the band stand in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, the Grand Parlor of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West presented 500 Flags of the United States of America to newly-made citizens. Grand Trustee Emily Ryan and Civics Chairman Ann Dippel had charge of the affair.

WOMEN VOLUNTEERS AIDING.

Women volunteers in 3,300 American Red Cross Chapters throughout the nation are producing an average of 500,000 garments each month for the victims of war abroad.

Since the women volunteers started to sew and knit early in the war the chapters have shipped to the Red Cross warehouse at Jersey City, New Jersey, 3,200,000 garments and 21,239,000 surgical dressings.

Native Sons of the Golden West

THE CALIFORNIA JOINT IMMIGRATION Committee, with which the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West is identified, reported to the Sixty-fourth (Lake Tahoe) Grand Parlor as follows:

"For the past year the Committee's activities have been devoted largely to attempts to have corrective legislation enacted, both in the United States Congress and in the California Legislature, to the end that American born Japanese (Nisei) may be denied opportunity to come under the influence of Japan. . . .

"Close watch has been kept on the activities of the Nisei. Their political activities have become rather marked, and their leaders advocate the formation of a political coalition with the Negroes. Also, the Nisei are making it a point to call the attention of local politicians to the fact that they now have a bloc of some 25,600 votes in California and are therefore entitled to consideration. This becomes more interesting when it is remembered that so many of their number have dual citizenship. However, because of unsettled international conditions these American-born Japanese are becoming uneasy, and there is much talk in their press of expatriation. No figures are available, but the opinion of competent authority is that not much headway is being made in expatriation. . . .

"Statehood for Hawaii has been actively opposed by the Committee on the ground that the large Oriental population of the territory has not given proof of its trustworthiness. Confidential information indicates that under present conditions Congress has no intention of jeopardizing the safety of our most important fortification in the Pacific."

organized unit, opposing all that dare attempt to divide the people of our native state or nation either geographically or on the fundamental principle of democratic government.

"Perhaps the easiest way to eliminate the tendency of a little effort is to assume the George do it' attitude, or to say that the day the fraternal organization is past. To those of the first group, I say we are willing to accept the gauntlet and carry on the traditions of our fraternal organization, because we definitely know that an order with a background and a future such as possessed by the Native Sons of the Golden West will always have an appeal to the individual that has the true feeling of love of home and sense of duty toward state and nation. channel to further the advancement of humanity itself, and create a better feeling and understanding between men.

"We are informed by the daily press and polls that certain groups and persons are using the spirit of national defense to encourage the admission of the Territory of Hawaii to statehood. We challenge these individuals to clarify the issue and give the true facts of the situation concerning the Oriental and just what statehood for the territory at this particular time would do to the states of the western coast, and especially to California, on an economic basis. Also, what effect the admission would have on the present theory of the Oriental Exclusion Act now upon the statute books of our country. Therefore, I say that in the days to come, and definitely until the political situation of the territory is under the control of the Caucasian race, we follow the mandate of his Grand Parlor and do object most strenuously against the admission of the Territory of Hawaii as the forty-ninth state.

"We are advised that within a very short period of time the historic site on the South Fork of the American River near Coloma, where Marshall discovered those glittering flakes which led to the great gold rush and the period of premaria development and settlement of California, will possibly be acquired by the State Park Commission for preservation as an historic shrine. Nothing could be more fitting than to have the Native Sons of the Golden West assume the lead in a movement to erect upon this site a replica of the original Sutter's mill, or a monument befitting the importance of the site. This achievement would unquestionably properly mark the spot which ignited the flame that brought our state into its very own. Our Grand Parlor Landmarks Committee, under the capable leadership of Past Grand President Joseph R. Knowland, as been in contact with this development and will act when the proper time presents itself.

"To the individual Parlor, let us encourage and hold open meetings observing designated days and periods, such as 'I Am an American Day,' 'Citizenship Week,' 'Flag Day' and 'Constitution Week.' Participation in these patriotic exercises tends to create a closer feeling among peoples with a common aim, and expands knowledge of matters so important in the past and vital to the future. We should broaden our participation and interest in local affairs and take an active part in all community exercises or celebrations; thus we become an intricate part of our respective communities.

"Membership is an essential factor to any fraternal society, and in approaching this vital question we must consider the conditions under which we exist. We must not hesitate to solicit or membership any eligible candidate who is of good moral character. In the past, the majority of our members affiliated with our organization because of a direct interest in the affairs of the fraternity. Perhaps because their parents or their parents' parents were in some way connected with the glorious history or the traditions of our native state. We must now realize that those individuals who are today eligible for membership in our Order are, in many instances, removed from the history and past of the State of California, but still if given the opportunity would be only too happy to pay tribute to those pioneers who made possible living conditions as they are today in our home state, California. From practical experience, I say that we should not hesitate to ask those persons whom we consider desirable to affiliate with our movement.

"In order to create a little rivalry between our Parlor and to set a specified period for a statewide membership movement, during the coming months of June, July and August we will conduct an 'Ask An Eligible' campaign. The Parlor of the state have been segregated into eight groups, depending upon the numerical membership of each Parlor, and cash awards will be made to those Parlor showing the greatest numerical gain in each classification. At the close of the months of June and July a bulletin covering membership gains or losses of each classification will be forwarded by the Grand Secretary to each Parlor in each of the eight classifications. By this method each Parlor will be informed of the progress being made throughout the state by other Parlor of a like membership. Complete rules governing this membership contest, as well as other membership data, will be forwarded to the subordinate Parlor within the next two weeks.

"During the coming year each Parlor will be visited monthly by its assigned District Deputy Grand President. This Grand Parlor officer is more than an installing officer; he is the Parlor contact man for the Grand President, and should be extended every courtesy by the Subordinate Parlor. The past few years have revealed that in some cases the recording secretaries of the Par-

LOS AN GELES

CITY AND COUNTY

IN EXISTENCE ONLY SIX WEEKS IN THE early part of 1852, the Western American, an early California newspaper, had a stormy and colorful career worthy of the lusty journalism of the gold-rush days. Lawrence Clark Powell, junior librarian on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California, has made a special study of this newspaper for the Bibliographical Society of America.

The Western American was founded by Charles Edward Pickett, a cousin of the General Pickett of Gettysburg fame. The thirty-two-year-old editor dedicated his paper to governmental reform.

Pickett played rival papers in San Francisco and even tilted with editors in Stockton and Sonora. Writing of the "Legislature of a Thousand Drinks," which met in San Jose, Pickett described its members as an "infamous, ignorant, drunken, rowdy, perjured and traitorous body of men"—a description which is quoted to this day by historians although they have forgotten the source.

The paper also had its lighter moments. Oysters were served in the office at closing time and the Jenny Lind Theater was scolded for not pro-

But Pickett, operating on a shoestring, began to be hard pressed. Advertising did not increase and his stock of newsprint began to run low. Finally Pickett fell ill and publication of the paper was suspended. Because of its brief career, copies of the Western American are found in only two California libraries—the Pasadena Public Library and the Huntington Library in San Marino.

STATE FLAG GIVEN STATE GUARD.

In ceremonies at Exposition Park Armory May 12, the Los Angeles County N.S.G.W. Parlor presented a California State (Bear) Flag to the newly-organized California State Guard, which replaces the 160th Infantry C.N.G., now in national service. Seven hundred officers and men, in addition to many Native Sons and other citizens, were in attendance.

President Owen M. Barnes of University Parlor No. 272 N.S.G.W. was chairman of the occasion. Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz made the presentation address, which was responded to by Colonel Dwight M. Green, and Past Grand President Elmer D. Meyer gave a brief history of the flag.

REMINDERS OF HAPPY ASSOCIATION.

Los Angeles Parlor No. 124 N.D.G.W. was visited May 21 by Deputy Marian Johnson and five members of Californiana Parlor No. 247. Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer was also in attendance. On Los Angeles' behalf Elsie Amidon presented a crackle-ware bowl and two pottery birds to Deputy Johnson, who said the little figures were birds of happiness that will be constant reminders of her happy association with the Parlor. Concluding the evening, Cateress Edna Holcomb and committee served refreshments.

As the members of Los Angeles are busy preparing for the Grand Parlor, no social events are scheduled for June. The second meeting of the month will be held June 25.

Members of Los Angeles Parlor's history and landmarks committee were hostesses at Mission San Fernando April 27, when the recently completed "governor's room" was opened for public inspection. The work was started by the Parlor two years ago. The program for the occasion included: music, San Fernando High School Trouveres and Troubadours under the direction of Leo Mark Coombs; address, Rev. Charles Burns, O.M.I., of Saint Ferdinand's Church; Grand Parlor greetings, Grand President Hazel B. Hansen, guest of honor. Special thanks were given Dr. M. R. Harrington, director of the restoration work; Chef Milani, who aided financially, and Artist Frank Gutierrez, who restored the original frescoes to their former glory. Following the program the room was blessed by Rev. Burns and a marker giving the Parlor's name and the date was placed. Louise B. McNary and Juanita F. Porter were co-chairmen of the day.—E.V.S.

TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY.

Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W. will celebrate its fifty-fourth institution anniversary June 18. An extra special dinner, prepared by Lieutenant Russel O. Smith and Steward Ralph Walters, will be served at 7 o'clock, and following that there will be entertainment galore. Ray Howard will be the master of ceremonies. All members of the Order, and especially the old-timers, are invited. "This will be a real Ramona Parlor gathering, a meeting long to be remembered," says President Robert M. Bushnell.

Other events on Ramona's June calendar are: 6th, election officers; refreshments. 20th, Irving Baxter night; refreshments. 27th, Auld Lang Syne night; entertainment and refreshments.

Californiana Parlor No. 247 N.D.G.W. placed a bronze plaque at the historic home of the friars who founded Mission San Gabriel Archangel. Several hundred persons attended the colorful ceremonies. The marker is lettered: "Las Tunas Rancho Adobe, Home of the First Padres of San Gabriel. Oldest Portion Built in 1776. Marked by Californiana Parlor No. 247. Native Daughters of the Golden West, April 26, 1941."

Presentation of the marker to Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Menasco, present owners of Las Tunas, was made by Grand President Hazel B. Hansen. Mayor Albert J. Grieb of San Gabriel gave a wel-

RECORD INITIATION

Centura—Cabrillo Parlor No. 114 N.S.G.W. is believed to now hold the record for the largest number of applicants affiliating with a single parlor at one time. Fifty-five new members were added to its rolls May 27, and an additional half-hundred applications are on file. The ritual was amplified by the following members of Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116:

Paul G. Sweetser, president; W. H. Rutherford, junior past president; Harry C. Sweetser, senior past president; Leland B. Smith, first vice-president; Raymond B. Romero, second vice-president; Weston E. Learned, third vice-president; George A. Dow, marshal; George C. Sweetser, inside sentinel.

Among the speakers of the outstanding occasion were Grand Trustee Walter H. Odemar, who congratulated the initiates; Walter C. Richards, as grand trustee, urged Cabrillo to action; Edwin L. Cardy, who spoke for the candidates; Alfio Camarillo, one of the oldtimers, who reminded, and Superior Judge Louis C. Drapeau. Among the several visitors were A. C. Dinsmore of Santa Barbara, Ray Cook of San Pedro, and William A. Page and Hervey L. Kitchin of Los Angeles.

ANTONIA BERNAL ALTAMANANO.

The Angel of Death has again visited El Pescadero Parlor No. 82 N.D.G.W. and taken to her eternal home our sister and friend, Antonia Bernal Altamanano, who, after a long illness, passed from this life on Thursday, April 18, 1941.

While we regret her removal from our midst, and mourn for one who was worthy of our highest regard, yet we bow to the will of an all-wise Father, who doeth all things well, and pray that her soul may rest in sweet peace eternal.

We'll think of her as one who sleeps
All free from grief and pain,
And know the happy day will come
When we shall meet again.

To the bereaved family of our late sister we offer our sincere and heartfelt sympathy, and pray our Heavenly Father will send them comfort.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of El Pescadero Parlor No. 82 N.D.G.W., and that a copy be sent to the family of our departed sister.

N.D.G.W. CHARTER MEMBER JOURNEYS AHEAD

Jackson (Amador County)—Mrs. Henrietta
Isabel Greenhalgh-O'Neill, charter member of Ursula Parlor No. 1 N.D.G.W. and Permanent Member of the Grand Parlor, died May 12, survived by a daughter, Mrs. Henrietta I. Greene.
She was born at Jackson, May 23, 1863. Funeral services May 14 were conducted by the following:
Past Grand President Gladys E. Noce, president; Past Grand President Edna B. Briggs, past president and marshal; Grand Secretary Sallie
R Thaler, first vice-president; Grand Trustee
Ous Treat, second vice-president; President
At Skulich of Ursula Parlor, third vice-president. Follows a eulogy delivered by Past Grand President Noce:

Henrietta Isabel Greenhalgh-O'Neill was born May 23, 1863 in the Town of Jackson, in the little home on the corner of Water and Court streets, within sight of the spot where we now stand. Her parents were Pioneers her father coming at one time ridden the Pony Express. She was one of the children born to this couple, of whom one survives.
The strength of body and mind reflected the vigor of her father's ancestry.

Henrietta O'Neill was herself truly a pioneer in the work of service of our great Order. She was one of the thirteen original charter signers of Ursula Parlor No. 1 N.D.G.W. at the preliminary meeting in Pioneer Hall September 11, 1886.
She was an active and earnest worker for the Order to the end of her death. Married during the earlier days of our life, she bore three children, of whom one, her daughter and namesake, survives. She served her Parlor with grace and honor in its various offices, and for many years past was a trustee of Ursula.

She was Grand Trustee of our Order for four years, during all the years of her service in the Subordinate and Grand Parlors, she was recognized for her gentleness, her kindness, and her impressiveness in public speaking. She served or assisted in organizing Parlors of the Order at Ursula City Comptonville, Antioch and Redwood City during the period prior to the organization of the Grand Parlor.
Ursula Parlor No. 6 of Nevada City and Bonita Parlor No.
1 of Redwood City still survive as testimonial to her earnest work.

Henrietta O'Neill was one of the rare flowers that bloom in life, lending strength and inspiration to all within the circle of her sweetness.

"The memory of each loved one,
Like the fragrance of a rose,
God sends to linger with us
Until our own life's door shall close!"

DOES NOT TALLY WITH DEMOCRACY.

There is a distinct feeling that things are going on behind the scenes, unknown to the people.
This is the sort of distrust that brought about revolutions in Europe—the distrust of the people in their government.

We hope that this country stays out of the war. I know the people want to stay out, but the Government seems to ignore their wishes and is still talking of democracy.

us nearer and nearer to war all the time. This does not tally with democracy. Everybody is wondering just where we are in this thing. It is not a fair thing for a government calling itself democratic. All this mystery that is going on is puzzling to the people and is not fair."—William Cardinal O'Connell, Catholic Archbishop of Boston, Massachusetts.

LOS ANGELES' POPULATION
WILL BE STABILIZED BY 1980.

By 1980 Los Angeles will probably have a population of about 2,000,000, and its mushroom growth will have been stabilized, according to Dr. Constantine Panunzio, assistant professor of sociology on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

He points out that in the sixty-year period from 1870 to 1930, Los Angeles County multiplied by 144 times and Los Angeles City by 216 times. During this same period the population of California increased ten times and that of the whole United States only three times.

"The possibility of our experiencing any large increases such as marked our community life from 1870 to 1930 is very remote, if for no other reason than that the population of the United States as a whole seems to be stabilizing itself and will probably become stationary some time between 1960 and 1980.

"The forthcoming stabilization in Los Angeles may mean the loss of speculative profits for a few individuals; it may mean a temporary inconvenience for persons whose pattern of life has been formed around a perpetual change, but for the community as a whole it will mean a greater possibility of sound planning both in business and government, the gradual solution of many of our vexing problems and a higher degree of community integration."

"IF WE DESIRE UNITY and strength among our people, we must turn our eyes back from these everlasting wars of Europe—back to our own country, to the clear horizon of a great American future. . . . It is by building our own strength and character at home—not by crusading abroad—that we can contribute most to civilization throughout the world."—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

LARGE SCALE RELIEF — "By supporting from six to eight million farm people who are not required for commercial production, agriculture is carrying out a large-scale relief program at its own expense. It is taking care of more people than all of the direct relief programs in all of the forty-eight states combined."—R. M.
Evans, AAA Administrator.

For the first time in the history of the University of California at Los Angeles, seniors will be graduated "at home" when commencement exercises are held in the open air theater June 14.

"If you do not scale the mountain, you can-

Speaking of flags: the California Bear Flag was first raised at Sonoma, June 14, 1846, by a group of American Pioneers, in token of their love of liberty and their determination to live under American principles of self-government. As years went on, this historic flag was almost forgotten. The original flag, preserved by The Society of California Pioneers, was burned in the great San Francisco fire. But, in 1911, the Orders of Native Sons and Native Daughters again brought its story before the State Legislature, and it was adopted as California's official state flag. At the same time, these organizations secured recognition of Admission Day, September 9, as a state holiday, commemorating that date back in 1850 when California was admitted as the thirty-first state of the American Union after a long and bitter debate in the Federal Congress.

The Order of Native Daughters is also keenly interested in further perpetuating knowledge of California history, and has evidenced that interest by sharing in the preservation or restoration of every one of the early California missions that are still standing. At least one of them, Santa and Los Angeles for reference, aiding materially in research work concerning the state.

Through the Grand Parlor Pioneer Relics Committee, the attention of the members of the Order has been directed to the importance of preserving relics of historical value, and the proper display of them. The Subordinate Parlors have generously contributed to the Grand Parlor collection displayed in Sutter's Fort at Sacramento.

Desiring to give recognition to women not eligible for membership, but who have rendered signal service to the Order or the State of California, a Roll of Honor was established in 1910.

Other projects of a varied nature include: general philanthropic, relieving the suffering and distress of those less-fortunate; veteran welfare, bringing cheer and aid to those who might be forgotten; civic participation in all worthwhile community undertakings; young women's activities; junior auxiliaries; music; publicity; drill teams, drum corps and drum-and-bugle corps.

Truly, these fifty-five years of effort on the part of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West have been fruitful in humanitarian endeavors and in fostering true love of country and deepest patriotism. Native Daughters of the Golden West may well be proud of their birthright as Americans and Californians.

"IF WE GO INTO WAR, we must pass through post-war bankruptcy. The savings of the people will be lost. The endowments of our universities, colleges, hospitals will be destroyed. And when the day of transformation of war into peace comes, the Government will not be able to support the unemployed and the farmers. In this gulf all major industry must be operated by the Government. When we go to the peace table, hate will again as before sit at that table endeavoring to destroy the hope of any real peace among men. Liberty will not recover on this continent for a generation."—Herbert Hoover, former president United States.

Millions Wasted—"During my twenty years as treasurer of California there has been waste of untold millions, due to inefficiency and incompetence."—State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson.

BILLIONS WASHED OUT—Americans would be up in arms if some enemy were to move in and cart off three billion tons of soil material from the farms of this country. The very thought is fantastic. But erosion is no fantasy, the Federal Soil Conservation Service points out, and erosion carries away three billion tons of soil material from farms every year. Farmers, however, are not the only sufferers.

"If you will find your enemies, never look without."—John Everard.

Ynez, probably would now be a total ruin, except for the timely work of the Parlors in Santa Barbara. In addition to the missions, many other shrines of history have been given attention, including Fort Ross, the famous Russian fort and trading post; Sutter's Fort at Sacramento; the old Spanish Custom House at Monterey; La Brea Pits in Los Angeles, and many old adobes. A marker was placed on an early day store building at French Corral, Nevada County, commemorating the first long-distance telephone in the United States; and the U.S.S. California proudly bears a plaque presented by the organization. Bronze and granite markers, placed by the Order and the Subordinate Parlors, tell travelers throughout the state the historic background of many places.

The Pioneer Roster Committee of the Grand Parlor has registered over 10,000 early pioneers, and is now completing histories of the early families of the state. These records will be placed in the State Library at Sacramento and in the libraries of the Universities of California at Berkeley

THE FIFTY-FIFTH GRAND PARLOR OF the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, with Grand President Hazel E. Hansen of Verdugo Parlor No. 240, Glendale, presiding, was in session at Los Angeles June 16, 17, 18 and 19.

The 1941 Grand Parlor Committee in pink formals, and twelve members of Verdugo in floral print formals formed an escort for the grand officers, who were gowned in lavender net and lace. Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, in charge of Grand Parlor arrangements, welcomed the assembled hundreds.

In their reports to the Grand Parlor, Grand President Hansen gave an extended account of her activities, and Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler gave a detailed report of the numerous transactions of that important office. Both reports showed the Order is progressing. There was a substantial membership increase the past year, and the cash balance in the Grand Parlor General Fund totaled $18,134.49 June 1.

In most instances, the reports of grand officers and committees dealt with matters heretofore given publicity in The Grizzly Bear. Follows a summary of the Los Angeles Grand Parlor proceedings, with no reference, however, to proposals that failed of passage:

Art. III, Sec. 2 amended to provide: "A delegate to Grand Parlor must be either a present or past officer of the Parlor and must have attended at least two-thirds of the Parlor's meetings during the year, unless excused by a two-thirds vote of the Parlor; provided the cause of absence is sickness, and then a doctor's certificate must be presented."

Art. V, Sec. 3 amended to read: "Nominations of officers shall be the first order of business on the second day of the session, and election the last order of business on the same day."

Art. II, Sec. 8 amended to provide: "An applicant who desires to receive the benefits of the Native Daughters' Home must be a member of the Order at least fifteen consecutive years, and must first make written application to her Parlor. The Parlor will then make written application to the Home Committee. . . . No one shall be admitted . . . who is incapacitated to such an extent that she would be unable to care for herself, nor one who is mentally ill."

Art. II, Sec. 14 amended to read: "If any person fails to appear for initiation within six months after her election such election shall be null and void."

Art. II, Sec. 17 amended to provide that "a member who has lost her citizenship . . . shall, upon proof of the same, . . . be at once dropped from membership."

AMERICA'S CHALLENGE TO CALIFORNIA

MISS CLARICE E. COOK OF STOCKTON, San Joaquin County, affiliated with Caliz de Oro Parlor No. 206, became the Grand President of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West at the Fifty-fifth Grand Parlor, which met at Los Angeles. Addressing an assemblage of representatives of the Subordinate Parlor from all sections of California following her induction into office, June 19, she said:

"As I accept the responsibility you have placed in my keeping tonight, it is with the greatest humility that I do so, and I pray that I may prove worthy of your trust and confidence. I will always endeavor to be tolerant, patient and understanding in my dealings with you, but if at times my decisions are not those that you would make I ask you to try and understand that the decision was made for the benefit of the Order as I see it. I pledge you upon my sacred honor to give of my best endeavors at all times, always striving to keep untarnished our golden heritage of California.

"To better understand America's challenge to California, it is well to start our story at the very beginning, nearly 400 years ago. The landing of Columbus just off the coast of America in 1492 was the beginning of other expeditions that finally led to the discovery of our own west coast fifty years later.

Caliz de Oro Parlor No. 206, Stockton,
Grand President N.D.G.W.

"It is a strange fact that the letter 'C' played such an important part in the early part of the life of California. Columbus, Cortez and Cabrillo were the three brave explorers that had the most to do with its discovery, while Calafia, the legendary ruler of a wonderful island to the east of the Indies where the people were black in color and precious stones and gold were plentiful, has the honor of her name bestowed on our beloved state. This legend appeared in a Spanish book printed after Columbus came to America.

"It took fifty years from the time Columbus landed before white men found California. In September 1542, fifty years before the first English colony at Jamestown was established, Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo sailed into the beautiful Bay of San Diego. Thus Spain, through Captain Cabrillo, laid claim to California.

"Thirty-seven years passed and another explorer sailed up the coast, passed San Diego, Monterey and San Francisco Bays and landed to make needed repairs to his ship. The captain of this ship, the dashing and adventurous Sir Francis Drake, claimed the land for England, calling it New Albion.

"Twenty more years passed before California had another visitor. This time it was another Spaniard, Don Sebastian Viscaíno. His records and description of our state were the best left by any of the explorers. One hundred and sixty-seven years passed after Viscaíno's visit before the Spanish people really became interested in California.

"The year 1769 brought a party from Mexico City hoping to find the exact position of Monterey and endeavoring to further the chain of missions already established in Mexico and Baja California. With this party of soldiers, under the leadership of Gaspar de Portola and Lieutenant Ortega, came that lowly man of God, Frey Junipero Serra. Thus to this land of gold came colonization and christianization.

"While the colonists on our eastern shores were demanding from England no taxation without representation, and considering the steps for the founding of a new nation concerned in liberty, Father Serra was at San Diego founding the first of the missions built along El Camino Real, San Diego Alcalá.

"A company of Portola's men under the command of Lieutenant Ortega, while searching for Monterey, came upon a large bay which had not been known before by white men. To this bay they gave the name of Saint Francis. During the next fifty-four years the great chain of twenty-one missions was extended along El Camino Real—the patient padres in their wisdom and courage laying the foundation stones of our beloved California.

"In quick succession followed the establishment of pueblos and presidios. The Spanish settlements in California were called pueblos, but if a settlement had a fort with soldiers to protect the district against the Indians it was called a presidio. The first presidio was San Diego. The presidio at Monterey, because it was the home of the Spanish governor, was the first capital of California. The first pueblo or city was San Jose, started in November 1777.

"In 1822 Mexico won its independence from Spain, and California declared itself free of Spanish rule and became a province of Mexico. In quick succession the events of the history of California began to happen.

"In 1826 Jedediah Smith, an American trapper, pushed his way westward across the Rockies, the Great Basin and the high Sierra until he reached California. He was the first American to reach California by land. General John A. Sutter in 1840 located on the banks of the Sacramento River and built Sutter's Fort. Here, a year later, he was joined by John Bidwell, who led one of the first wagon trains across the plains to California.

"Then came Captain John C. Fremont, with sixty men, led by the famous scout, Kit Carson. This young engineer was trying to find the best route from the United States to the Pacific Coast. Naturally, this intrusion was not pleasing to the Mexicans, so the commandante ordered the party to leave the country, but instead of complying the Americans arrested the commandante, imprisoned him in Sutter's Fort and in June 1846 raised the Bear Flag at Sonoma and declared California a republic. During May 1846 the United States declared war on Mexico and ordered Commander Sloat to seize the upper ports of California. He entered Monterey July 7, 1846, and raised the Stars and Stripes over the custom house. Two weeks later Commodore Stockton took command of the American forces in California and he, with the aid of Fremont and General S. W. Kearny, completed the conquest in less than six weeks.

"July 19, 1848, two weeks before the war with Mexico officially ended, James Marshall found yellow flakes of gold in the millrace at the sawmill near Coloma, El Dorado County, on the North Fork of the American River. As soon as the discovery news reached the East, the first great rush of people to California was on; 42,000 came in twelve months. By 1850 California had 92,000 residents. Then came the final glory, the admission of California into the Union of States, September 9, 1850.

"The courage, wisdom, patience and bravery shown by our pioneers is a story every Californian loves to hear and repeat. For it tells of all the trials and joys of a pioneering people who were not afraid to face the greatest dangers. Unafraid, they faced the dangers of Nature. This great melting pot of all the nations of the world worked and fought side by side. From their efforts came the California of today—OUR CALIFORNIA!

"Unlike our forefathers, we have a greater problem than any ever faced by the pioneer. Ours is the problem of a modern world, complex in every detail. At no time in world history have Another New Link.

Santa Maria (Santa Barbara County)—Santa Maria No. 276, organized by Grand Trustee Evelyn G. Towne, was instituted June 3 with forty-six charter members by Grand President Hazel B. Hansen, who was assisted by Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler, Grand Marshal Rose Rhyner, Grand Trustee Towne, Past Grands Cora B. Sifford and Bertha A. Briggs, Supervising Deputies Ethel Koepp and Hazel Hansen, Dr. Anna L. McCaughy of Reina del Mar No. 126, Santa Barbara, and Josephine Wheat, Helen Towne and Dorothy Bennett of Miocene No. 228, Taft.

Among the many others who witnessed the institution ceremonies were Supervising Deputies Edna McCormick and Genevieve Hiskey, and Deputies Ida Ireland, Lydia Ross, Elsie Loose, Evelyn Evans, Anna Schlicht, Ada Specht, Alice McKean and Madge Evers. Nineteen Parlors were representations.

Redwood Presented as Birthday Gift.

Berkeley—Sequoia No. 272 honored the City of Berkeley on its seventy-fifth birthday by presenting and dedicating a stately Sequoia redwood tree, the first to be planted in the city's new Civic Center. Mrs. Philomena Dodge presided, "America" was sung by the Sequoia choral group and Mrs. Edna Williams gave an invocation.

Past Grand Sue J. Irwin, president Berkeley Planning Commission, made the dedicatory address. She pointed out the significance of the redwood; a symbol of strength, a token of the past, a tribute to the future, it is the oldest living thing in the world. "It is indeed proper," she said, "that a Sequoia redwood, the first tree in California, should be the first planted in our beautiful Civic Center, to stand here as witness to the raising and dedicating of the American Flag." Mrs. Bella Wakefield paid a tribute to Berkeley. President Teresa Taylor presented the tree, and it was accepted for the city by Mayor Frank S. Gaines. Director Tesse Socker of the Sequoia choral club sang "Trees." Among the many others in attendance was Grand Secretary Sallie R. Thaler.

Sequoia celebrated its second institution anniversary at a gay dinner party in San Francisco May 26; Miss Madeleine Oneil was in charge, and everyone enjoyed the occasion. Mrs. Nellie Homewood was chairman of a public dance sponsored by the Parlor June 24.—M.E.McG.

"Traveling Flag" Returns.

Santa Rosa—The "traveling flag" of Santa Rosa No. 217, originated by Supervising Deputy Katherine Branstetter in 1940, returned to its home June 5. In its travel Old Glory visited every Parlor in the Sonoma-Marin Counties district. President Alpha Barnes presided at the colorful return ceremonies, which were witnessed by many members of the Order, among them Past Grand Emma G. Foley and Grand Outside Sentinel Zoura Tompkins. Two candidates were initiated, and at election of officers for the new term Alpha Barnes was retained as president.

After the business meeting Sonoma No. 204 presented a play featuring the history of the Valley of the Moon. The final scene portrayed Miss America carrying Old Glory, and all joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner." Refreshments, in charge of Ann Beach, were served at tables decorated in the national colors.

At the annual anniversary dinner of Santa Rosa the many in attendance had a delightful time. Red, white and blue predominated in the decorations, and there was a delicious birthday cake, topped with twenty-one candles, baked by Mary Smith.—E.V.

Reception for Grand Trustee.

Modesto—Seventeen past presidents of Morado No. 199 were entertained June 2 at the home of Ethyl Gardner, who was assisted by Ann Sargent and Agnes Frost. The sewing club had a no-hostess, barbecued steak dinner in Legion Park June 7. President Lucy Outland presided and the afternoon was devoted to sewing. Gertrude Schroeder, education chairman, arranged a radio program June 9, the feature of which was a talk on "Mission Trails" by Harriett Hooton of Copa de Oro No. 105, Hollister. Two cars decorated with large wreaths of white flowers were entered by the Parlor in the Decoration Day parade. Mildred Barrett, Gladys Lollich Hazel McCreary and Emma Dezzani were in charge of the entry. Ella Spearman and committee are planning a horse-drawn float for the Fourth of July parade.

ENTERTAINMENT.

The Grand Parlor entertainment was planned by a joint committee of representatives of all the Subordinate Parlors in Los Angeles, Orange and San Bernardino Counties. The extensive program was carried out as detailed in The Grizzly Bear for June.

Reference must be made to the feature event, the celebrity luncheon of Wednesday, one of the most pleasing affairs ever given by any organization at any time. All that the title implies, added another success to the many outstanding accomplishments of Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer, the general chairman of the 1941 Grand Parlor Committee, who gave it her personal attention. During the luncheon Shirley Temple was presented an honorary membership in the Junior Auxiliary sponsored by California Parlor No. 247, Mary Joan Noerenberg making the presentation talk.

we as Americans and Californians received the challenge we are receiving today. Civilization is shaking on its very foundations. No longer are we the carefree Californians of the nineteenth century, because today there hangs over us a cloud so dark that even the bravest heart is sometimes afraid.

"We must look upward 'whence cometh help,' and push onward, fighting at every step those who would destroy us. To survive, we must defend all those institutions we hold so dear. Our defense is a most difficult thing, for we are combating a hidden enemy. The slyness and cunning of the agencies which are trying to destroy our democracy is a challenge to every American. Only by clear, calm, tolerant thinking and quick action can we win our battle. This thing has not come upon us as suddenly as some might think, but has been growing secretly since the last world war. Strikes, walkouts, defiance of law and order are all steppingstones to the great system of undermining civilian morale. That morale must never be undermined, and so long as we can laugh it never will be.

"Into our beloved California are pouring the people of every nation and many of our own Americans, seeking homes where life will not be so severe, where work is supposed to be plentiful and the sun is always shining. To us has come the responsibility of caring for these people. Many are the 'Judds' we read about, but among them are honest, good folk who, through circumstances beyond their control, are forced to ask our aid.

"In this glorious land of ours we must give that assistance, we must be tolerant in our dealings with them. The poor and disinherited of California constitute one of the greatest challenges that America gives us today. We will not fail you, America! You are giving into our keeping thousands of the flower of your manhood, not only in defense camps, but in all branches of industry. You have chosen our golden land of sunshine as the center for your greatest defense industry, aircraft production.

"America, we accept this responsibility with the deep pride in our country and state that we all have. It is said the English love their country with a love that is steady and simple, wordless and dignified. We Americans have pride; we glory in our country's short romance, we boast of it and love it. Like the English, let us serve day after day, obey the law and do dull tasks that keep a nation strong. Native Daughters, we have a great share in this trust. We, above all other groups, have the greatest right to keep unsullied our state's name. I am looking to you, my sisters, for the co-operation necessary to carry out our projects the coming year. This year let us work hand in hand for the betterment of our Order, State and Nation.

"Last year your Grand President gave you a program extending over a period of several years—a foundation for streamlining our organization. I think probably the greatest committee, for the benefit of the Order, is Extension of the Order. Because, unless we extend our Order we will die. There are many ways in which we can do this. First, let's start at home. So often have I heard girls say 'Well, there's no sense in my going to the meeting. We start so late and we get out so late, and I have to get up early so that I won't look too bad when the boss arrives. I just can't do it.' Delegates, take this message back to your Parlors: start your meetings on time, dismiss early and make the meetings so interesting that no member will want to miss a single one. I feel that we, as an organization, give much to our fellowmen, but we are starving ourselves mentally and neglecting our own members. We should concentrate our own efforts in everything we do, regardless of how small it is.

"We should have new parlors established, working especially in districts away from the centers of population, because there the work is needed badly. We have so much to give our government and the world. Last year and the year before the expression was made that it would be grand to have afternoon parlors in every city. In most every city there are outstanding women who cannot afford to give of their time in the evenings because of professional duties. I therefore urge you to encourage and promote these afternoon parlors.

"We should, by all means, participate civically in every way we possibly can. Through such participation we are recognized the most. Never, never, permit any civic function to occur unless you go to the officials of your city and offer the services of the organization of the Native Daughters.

In Memoriam

MATTIE VIOLA TRATHEN.

To the Officers and Members of Manzanita Parlor No. 29 Five Daughters of the Golden West—We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect in memory of our departed Sister Mattie Viola Trathen, do herewith submit following:

Whereas, This Parlor deeply mourns her passing and by extends to her bereaved relatives its sincere and fond sympathy in their hour of loss and sorrow; therefore,

Resolved, That in the passing of Mattie Viola Trathen we have lost a worthy member, a true Native Daughter and a member esteemed for her friendship and loyalty. We bow humble prayer, realizing our loss is the heavenly gain of a faithful sister.

Every year the Father calleth
And our hearts tho' filled with anguish
Can but cry, He knoweth best.
Then let our sorrows cease to flow,
God has called His own;
But let our hearts in every woe
Still say, "Thy will be done."

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Parlor, that a copy be forwarded to the bereaved husband and daughter, and a copy sent to The Grizzly Bear for publication.
Respectfully submitted,

ALYNE BISHOP,
HAZEL GEORGE,
Comm'ttee.

UNDER THE AUSPICES OF COMPTON Parlor No. 273 N.S.G.W. and Compton Parlor No. 258 N.D.G.W., Dominguez Field, site of the first air meet held in the United States, was marked with a bronze plaque June 8. In attendance were a goodly number of members of both Orders. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Compton Junior College Band, and the Boy Scouts of America directed traffic.

President Hazel Corbett of Compton Native Daughters welcomed the assemblage and introduced as the master of ceremonies Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz. Rev. Charles J. Fobing pronounced an invocation, and Mary B. Noerenberg led the salute to the flag.

Grand President Hazel B. Hansen of the Native Daughters delivered the dedicatory address, which was responded to by Harold McFadden. Other speakers were Mayor Roy W. Tarleton of Compton, Past Grand President Eldred L. Meyer of the Native Sons, and Waldo Waterman, who participated in the Dominguez air meet. Florence Dodson-Schoneman unveiled the plaque, which is inscribed:

"Rancho San Pedro. Location of the First Air Meet held in the United States, second in the world, on this historic Dominguez Hill, Jan. 10, 1910. Dedicated by Hazel B. Hansen, Grand President N.D.G.W., June 8, 1941. Marked by Compton Parlor N.S.G.W. No. 273 and Compton Parlor N.D.G.W. No. 258." The marking committee of the sponsoring Parlors included: Katie Glavenic, chairman, Eleanore Gunn, vice-chairman, Roy Tarleton, Phyllis Ketchom, Walter Richards, Marie Hannard, Stanley Sargent, Hazel Corbett, Harry Hecock, Walter Hopcraft.

FLAG DAY OBSERVED.

June 14, National Flag Day and the anniversary of the raising of the California Republic (Bear) Flag at old Sonoma in 1846, was observed by the Los Angeles County Native Sons and Native Daughters at two events arranged for by the Interparlor N.S.G.W. and N.D.G.W. Flag Day Committee: Mrs. Margaret Tann, Supervising Deputy Fred Leonetti, Mrs. Dexter Monroe, Deputy Grand President Hervey L. Kitchin, Mrs. Ella Steinbeck, Lee Winters and Paul Traynor.

At 9:30 a.m., at the Temple-street side of the Hall of Justice, Grand Trustee Walter H. Odemar, on behalf of the Native Sons, and State Civic Chairman Mary B. Noerenberg, on behalf of the Native Daughters, presented United States of America and California State (Bear) Flags to Star Post of the American Legion. The flags were accepted by Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz and First Vice-commander Roy Carter of the post.

The assemblage then proceeded to the sheriff's office, where Biscailuz was tendered a set of handsome flags by his fellow Natives. Grand President Hazel B. Hansen and Past Grand President Eldred L. Meyer made the presentation addresses.

PROVE OUR WORTH.

Superior Judge Louis C. Drapeau of Ventura County, a member of Cabrillo Parlor No. 114 of Ventura, was the speaker at the June 20 session of the Native Sons Luncheon Club. He voiced his reasons for believing in materially increasing the membership of the Order, an activity in which he is now taking such an active part.

Answering his own query, "Why should we re-establish Cabrillo or any other Parlor of Native Sons?", Judge Drapeau said: "We are a body of men that can be made invaluable for the upbuilding of our state, that can strive to overcome crooked thinking, all too prevalent in this day. We shall prove our worth if we can, through this organization, bring together men in a common bond—men who can think straight." Judge Robert M. Clarke was chairman of the day.

THANKS!

 (BERTHA A. BRIGGS,
Past Grand President N.D.G.W.)

THE FIFTY-FIFTH GRAND PARLOR session of 1941 is now a happy memory happy in every sense of the word. We may truthfully say that the City of Los Angeles was ours for the week, with nothing overlooked or left undone to make our stay hours of comfort and delight. Past Grand President Grace S. Stoermer and her willing workers of the 1941 committee were indefatigable in their attentions to us, dispensing proverbial California hospitality day and night. No mere words can express our sincere appreciation.

Sunday evening's reception extended a welcome that lasted until the departure of every visiting representative. The presentation of accomplished vocalists and splendid orchestral music on the opening evening was the beginning of many other charming events.

Impressively rendered initiation ceremonies Monday evening added ninety-two enthusiastic workers to the roster of the Order in the Parlors of our southern section. The exemplification of the ritual was pleasing in every detail.

The celebrity luncheon Wednesday was a thrilling feature, with its beautiful setting, its striking floral arrangements, its outstanding program of inspiring speakers and delightful music, and with the unusual privilege, to many of us, of meeting face-to-face favorite stars of screen and radio. Attentive hostesses at every table extended true hospitality to the thirteen hundred happy guests. The gay and colorful fiesta ball that evening brought rare enjoyment to spectators as well as to dancers, with entertainment features furnished by vocal and terpsichorean artists.

Most appropriately, americanism constituted the theme of the entire session, with cultured and noteworthy speakers inspiring patriotic fervor during each day of the session.

The motor tour Friday, well arranged in every detail, was a day of unexcelled pleasure, affording the enjoyable opportunity of viewing well-known points of interest. The trip to Catalina Saturday was a fitting finale to a week of genuine happiness.

Thanks! Yea, a thousand thanks to you, our sisters of our southland! Who, having a grateful heart, can ever forget your many courtesies and the wonderful week in our southern metropolis?

as president, will be installed the first meeting in August.—A.S.

Glendale—At a well-attended meeting June 3, Glendale Parlor No. 264 N.S.G.W. initiated three candidates. The ritual was exemplified by a team headed by Leslie Henderson. Among the visitors and speakers were Grand Trustee Walter H. Odemar, District Deputy William R. Blaha, M. U. Rosenthal and Deputy Grand President Hervey L. Kitchin. A tamale supper followed the meeting. Glendale's new corps of officers, with Howard G. Martin as president, will be installed July 15.

Canoga Park—Topanga Parlor No. 269 N.D.G.W. will have initiation July 14, and installation of officers, with Edith Sprague as president, will be held July 28.

East Los Angeles Parlor No. 277 N.S.G.W. had its fourth annual barbecue at the A. R. Leyva Rancho the night of June 7. It was the outstanding event of the season, thus far. The 108 people in attendance were treated to the West's best barbecue, prepared by "Babe" Nighswonger and Tony Leyva Jr. "That was the first of a number of events planned by our up-and-coming Parlor," says Howard Woodward. "For a good time visit No. 277; you won't be sorry."

Long Beach—With President Paul Traynor presiding, Long Beach Parlor No. 278 N.S.G.W. initiated seven candidates June 4. Officers were elected, Henry C. Wilson being chosen president and Walter Smith recording secretary. Among the speakers of the evening were Grand Trustee Walter H. Odemar, Joe Fonte, Deputy Grand President Hervey Kitchin, Chester D. French, John Gardner and District Deputy William R. Blaha.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The fifty-fourth institution anniversary party of Ramona Parlor No. 109 N.S.G.W., June 13, was attended by 125 members of the Order. A roast chicken dinner was served, and there was a huge birthday cake with fifty-four candles. The birthday feast was prepared by Steward Ralph Walters, assisted by First Vice-president William J. Bright and the good of the order committee.

Don't wait for them to come to you. To get anything done you must initiate it. Your city officials will be happy to have you participate, but they would like you to make the offer.

"Publicity is one of the greatest things we can do, because without publicity the general public learns little or nothing about us. We must remember, members of this Order, that news is not the report of a meeting; it is not the report of a card party, nor the report of a sewing circle. News must have considerable value before your newspapers want it. And if you would get publicity of the right type you must do something that will bring it about. This afternoon I talked to you about my plans for state beautification. Imagine how this state would look if Parlors would plant trees at the entrances of our cities. Think what a favorable impression this would make on strangers entering our state. Through a statewide tree planting campaign we would receive not only local and state publicity but national as well.

"We should have memorial groves. One of the finest pieces of publicity in San Francisco is the grove dedicated to the soldiers who gave their lives in the world war. How grand it would be to have in every city a grove of trees dedicated to those we love. We should also encourage the dedication of markers, as those are the things that will give us desired publicity.

"Homeless children, the work you love so well and is known the world over: last year the Worthy Grand President hoped to have a Poppy Day. Our constitution says that we have a Poppy Day, and we planned to have one, but the plan did not take form. This year I would like to modify that just a bit. I would like to have either a Poppy Day or some other activity on a set day. Think of the value of the publicity from newspaper announcements that 'The Native Daughters of the Golden West are sponsoring a statewide campaign to raise money for the homeless children.' Some of you don't like to sell poppies, but there are many of you that do enjoy this sort of thing.

"Education is one of the greatest committees we have. Education does not mean just the schoolhouse, but it means the education of our people in the affairs of state and the encouragement of them in the ideals of americanism. You that were at the luncheon heard Leo Carrillo state that he has set aside a thousand acres of his ranch for underprivileged boys. The only prerequisite for entrance is that they have an active interest in California history. It seems only right that we, too, should join in a movement as glorious as this. This coming year I hope the state chairmen will provide programs to be sent to Parlor that wish to use them, so that you will have a mapped plan in your home Parlor.

"Music needs to be of greater importance. First, we should learn, with all our hearts, our national anthems. We should learn our odes, so that we can sing them with heads up, proudly. One of the newest ideas that I think would be a great thing for our Order is music clubs. What a joy it would be to meet with our friends once a week. If we work together, always showing tolerance, we will progress.

"A new committee added this year has to do with one of the most vital issues confronting us today, that of national defense. As Native Daughters, we are going to be called upon to give service. Your men are giving service, and you must give service. . . . Americanism goes hand in hand with civic participation and national defense.

"Another great project is our scholarships. I pledge you now my heartiest co-operation, and I will endeavor, as quickly as possible, to raise the balance needed for the first award of the Annie L. Adair scholarship.

"To the thirteen women who founded our Order, I believe tribute should be paid. Through their vision we have the Order of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. Theirs the vision, ours the right to carry on.

"A great engineer has said 'A great ship at dock can be moved at the bow by pressure of a foot, if there is absolutely no movement in the water; but if there is the slightest undercurrent, it makes any such movement impossible.' Let us this coming year join hands in a united effort to carry on the program begun in the past, and project our great Order far into the future.

"I wish to thank my Parlor for permitting me the privilege of serving you as your Grand President. May its members always feel proud. And to the 'mother' of that Parlor, and my dear friend, May Boldeman: our Parlor is very proud of you, May, and I hope you will always be proud to be known as the 'mother' of our Parlor.

"I wish also to pay tribute to my mother, who has given me the courage to carry on. To the friends who have stood by me, who have given their words of encouragement when I was discouraged, I give my deepest thanks, and at the end of this year, when I turn the gavel over to my successor, may you feel that your trust was well placed.

"Let me do my work from day to day, In field or forest, at the desk or loom, In roaring market place or tranquil room. Let me but find it in my heart to say, When vagrant wishes beckon me astray, This is my work, my blessing, not my doom. Of all who live, I am the one by whom This work can best be done in the right way."

"Then shall I see it not too great, nor small, To suit my spirit and to prove my powers; then shall I cheerful turn and greet the labouring hours, and cheerful turn, when the long shadows fall at eventide, to play and love and rest, because I know for me my work is best."

In Memoriam

RUTH JOHNSON.

To the Officers and Sisters of Las Juntas Parlor No. 221 N.D.G.W.—We, your memorial committee assigned with the successful duty of placing resolutions of love to the memory of our late Sister Ruth Johnson, submit the following:

Our beloved Sister passed on from the activities of this life to enter the Great Parlor on High thus transferring her membership with Las Juntas Parlor of which she was a member. During her years as a Native Daughter there was never a more devoted or loyal member and her passing has left a vacancy which can never be filled.

We stand to her sorrowing relatives our sincere sympathy in this time of sorrow, and we ask that a copy of this memorial be sent to them, and that also a copy be sent to The Grizzly Bear Magazine, and that finally the original be included in the minutes of our Parlor.

Fraternally, KATHERINE LORD, ALTHEA PEARL.

RIGHT NOW IS A GOOD TIME TO BECOME A SUBSCRIBER TO THE GRIZZLY BEAR
The ALL California Monthly

Native Sons of the Golden West

TO INCREASE THE MEMBERSHIP OF the Order, and at the same time create interest and rivalry in the Subordinate Parlor, Grand President Edward T. Schnarr has inaugurated an "Ask an Eligible" campaign that will close at midnight August 31. It is hoped that every Parlor will actively join in the contest, and that every member will ask at least one eligible to affiliate with the Order during the contest-period.

For this contest the Subordinate Parlor have been grouped according to membership in eight classes, and a cash prize will be awarded the winning Parlor of each class.

Grand President Schnarr has also announced the "Sweepstakes" membership awards for the period June 1 to December 31. All Parlor, regardless of membership, may compete for these prizes. No Parlor shall receive more than one "Sweepstakes" prize, but may receive a "Sweepstakes" and an "Ask an Eligible" contest prize. The "Sweepstakes" include:

Largest numerical net gain, minimum of twenty-five members, $75; second largest numerical net gain, minimum of twenty members, $35; greatest percentage net gain, minimum of fifteen members, $60; second greatest percentage net gain, minimum of fifteen members, $30.

Ordered, that copies of the resolution, adopted by the Lake Tahoe Grand Parlor, proposing the name of Friant Dam in Fresno County be changed to Lake Millerton, be sent to the members of the Federal Congress from California along with copies of an article on the subject prepared by Grand Historian Dr. Peter T. Conmy.

The formation within Subordinate Parlor of first aid units, approved by the Lake Tahoe Grand Parlor, was referred to Grand President Schnarr for action.

The following additional resolutions, referred to the Board of Grand Officers for action by the Lake Tahoe Grand Parlor, were assigned to committees that will investigate the proposals and report at the next Board meeting: No. 21, Grand Parlor death benefit; No. 25, burglary insurance; No. 41, pamphlet setting forth the Order's activities; No. 43, cost of orchestrating and having printed copies of "Loyal Native Sons March."

A committee of three was appointed to consider the suggested organization of "Fifty Plus Clubs."

(COMPILED EXPRESSLY FOR THE GRIZZLY BEAR MAGAZINE.)

THE ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEENTH anniversary of the independence of the United States of America, July 4, 1891, was celebrated generally throughout California with parades and fireworks displays. At Sacramento, the "jigadier brindle" of the "horrible" procession was assaulted and dragged from his horse. There were numerous fires up and down the state during the day and considerable damage was done.

The temperature at San Bernardino City July 1 registered 107 degrees.

Placerville, El Dorado County, had a disastrous fire July 23 that destroyed several business houses and residences.

George Foster, John Albers, O. C. Lucas, R. Kleinfeller and an unidentified man died July 1 at Stockton from sunstroke.

In a lively stable fire at Marysville, Yuba County, July 21 sixteen horses were cremated.

The names of the contributors to the $20,-989.40 fund raised for the restoration of Sutter's Fort, Sacramento, were made public this month. By far the largest subscription was that of Colonel Charles F. Crocker, who gave $15,000. Sacramento Parlor No. 3 N.S.G.W. gave $500. This fund was raised to match the state's appropriation of $20,000.

Edna Moore jumped into San Francisco Bay from the ferryboat Newark July 31 and was drowned.

Manuel Soto murdered a Mr. Smith at San Jose July 7, and was then killed by officers when he resisted arrest.

The daily consumption of beer in Oakland was July 4 computed at 5,000 gallons.

Assessor Seibe placed the value of San Francisco property this year at $312,062,960.

William Hayward, founder of Hayward, Alameda County, died there July 9. He was a Pioneer of 1849.

Shipments of wine from California during the first six months of 1891 totaled 5,229,685 gallons.

Aschel Huntley, a former Placer County sheriff, died July 18 at Auburn.

James W. Woodman, a Pioneer of 1849, died July 18 at Enterprise, Butte County, at the age of 85 years.

George H. Castle, one of the wealthiest citizens of San Joaquin County, died at Stockton July 12. He was a farmer and former sheriff.

Glenn, the 14-year-old son of Dr. J. A. Wood of Modesto, was drowned July 17 in a slough near the junction of the Stanislaus and San Joaquin Rivers.

SANTA BARBARA DOINGS

Santa Barbara—Santa Barbara Parlor No. 116 N.S.G.W. and Reina del Mar Parlor No. 126 N.D.G.W., holders of longtime records as outstanding bridgebuilders for the community of the city on the channel, never did a more effective job than that of June 21, when they entertained the Historical Society on its eleventh annual pilgrimage to historic areas of the Golden State.

The visit was called to the attention of the two Parlors by Paul G. Sweetser, the Native Son who serves as president of the Santa Barbara County Historical Society. Plans were effectively drawn for a welcoming luncheon spread in the sunken garden of the million-dollar county building, and many of Reina del Mar's members arranged the tables with artistic floral displays and presented a program of Spanish dancing.

President Raymond B. Romero of the Sons and President Mrs. Henry Griffiths of the Daughters formally greeted the 100 historical pilgrims from the southland. Miss Pearl Chase won the historians to support of a movement that will protect La Purisima Mission State Park from commercial encroachment. Marco R. Newmark and Charles Gibbs Adams were speakers for the visitors. Fr. Felix Pudlowsky represented the Queen of Missions, and Mrs. Elmer H. Whittaker the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Santa Barbara is offering a four-day program, July 3-6, built around Independence Day, as its ninth annual celebration of Semana Nautica (Marine Week). Both Sons and Daughters Parlors will participate actively. The Fourth of July float of the former will be in charge of L. C. Moorman, who also is boy scout troop committee chairman. Then will come old Spanish Days Fiesta in the light of the August moon, with District Deputy A. C. Dinsmore as chairman of the committee that will arrange the banquet for the Los Angeles sheriff's posse that forms a mounted division of the fiesta's historic parade.
